COUNTY AND CITY IN ALL-OUT WAR BOND DRIVE

RECORD OUTPUT OF MINN. FARMS SEEN THIS YEAR

Food Production Chief Reports on Statewide Survey

FLAX PLANTINGS TO FALL SHORT OR GOAL

Tremendous Increase Seen in Livestock Output in Minnesota

With favorable weather, total agricultural production in Minnesota in 1943 will reach an all-time high, Charles W. Stickney, Minnesota food production chief announced today.

Farm-to-farm contacts by AAA farmer committeemen with more 100,000 farmers to date show rural Minnesota is going all-out in the production of vital war crops, with large increases indicated for hogs, turkeys, eggs, poultry for slaughter, soybeans for beans, and feed crops.

"Weather will play a big part in whether or not our final production reaches present indications," Mr. Stickney said. "We must also take into consideration there will be some difficulty in respect to farm machinery and labor shortages.

"I believe, however, that the two greatest problems, labor and machinery, will be overcome through the teamwork of Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard and Chester C. Davis," Mr. Stickney said. "With such leadership in Washington and with the determination our farmers have to produce needed war crops and food despite any handicaps there will be sufficient food for all of us this year and next.

Although the outlook for total agricultural production is very bright from all sections of the state, Mr. Stickney did point that there may be some difficulty in reaching goals for a few of the vital war crops.

"We are especially concerned over our goals for dry edible beans, sugar beets, potatoes, and flax," he said. "Our goal for dry edible beans is 20,000 acres and at present time we are far short of this goal although indicated plantings are up 200 per cent as compared to 1942 plantings.

"It will be a close race if we meet our potato goal of 256,000 acres for commercial and noncommercial growers. Right now it looks like we might make the goal.

"Sugar beets will be tight. All sugar beet growers should plant the acreage they have planted in the past as sugar is one of the food items now rationed. Growers should not sacrifice sugar beet acreage to grow war crops, such as soybeans and flax.

"Flax is one of the most important of all war crops and Minnesota produced over half of the bushelage of this crop grown in the nation last year. Our sign-up to date indicates an 8 per cent increase in plantings over 1942 which would mean that we will

THREE BOYS HAVE CLOSE CALL ON ICE IN RIVER TUESDAY

Fire Department Rescues Trio from Going Thru Rotting Ice

Sinking nearly thru the rotting ice in the Red Lake river pool below the Third st. bridge, three local boys late Tuesday afternoon had a narrow escape from drowning.

Tommy Wetch, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Wetch, had strayed out onto the ice near the middle of the river when he started to go thru the soft ice. His plight attracted the attention of Don Hulbert and Robert Johnson, Boy Scouts and sixth grade pupils in the Knox school, and they went out on the ice, only to sink thru in the same manner.

Onlookers on the shore called to the boys to remain still, and Mrs. Earl Nicholson summoned the fire department, firemen laying ladders on the ice on which the boys made their way to shore, none the worse for their experience.

GROUP IN LOWER HOUSE ASKS CUT IN INCOME LEVY

Committee Recommends Two Changes to Ease State Income Tax

STATE PROPERTY TAX CUT ALSO PROPOSED

House Move to Raise Old-age Aid Ceiling Awaits Senate Action

Prospects for tax reduction in the present session of the Minnesota legislature were increased somewhat this week with decision of the house tax committee to recommend a moderate cut in the state income tax and a change in the deduction allowances that would give a further reduction to taxpayers having children, particularly those with large families.

Hesitant previously to take any action reducing the state income tax, members of the house tax committee modified their course and voted to recommend two changes:

Reduction of 10% in the tax on 1943 incomes, payable in 1944.

Increase in the allowance for dependents from $5, the amount in the present law, to $10.

The senate tax committee has recommended for passage a bill which would reduce individual income tax on 1942 incomes, payable this year, 25% and another measure which would cut income taxes for individuals in the lower brackets, beginning in 1944, 50% or more. The latter measure included a provision requiring that the state scrap the present method of allowing merely a reduction from the computed tax for dependents and return to former plan, that used by the federal government, where a fixed amount is deducted from net income.

The present plan, put into effect in 1937, increased taxes disproportionately on taxpayers in the lower brackets, its opponents have contended, penalizing particularly men with large families. Only four other states now use it. All the other states have accepted the federal plan as the fairest.

The house committee conceded that the present Minnesota law does not give sufficient allowance for men with large families, and, though rejecting the federal plan of credits, voted to allow $5 more in deduction for each dependent. No change was recommended in the deduction of $30 for married couples and $10 for a single person.

Action of the two houses was expected to follow somewhat the lines laid down by the tax committees, with the result that a conference committee will be needed to iron out the difference. With a surplus of $7,000,000 or more expected in the income tax school fund on June 30th, an increasing number of members in both houses have indicated a willingness to listen to the proposals for some cut in the income tax. The big question, as the issue shaped up this week, was how much and in what manner the cut would be made.

Members of the tax committees in both houses have indicated that they are favorable to a reduction in the state tax on property, as recommended by Governor Stassen, but this matter likely will be left to the close of the session when appropriations are settled and the biennial tax levy bill is presented. The house tax committee recommended an exemption of $1,000 be allowed each person on his money and credits tax but declined to approve an additional proposal of the senate committee that taxpayers be allowed to use their moneys and credits tax as an offset against their income tax payments.

Aside from action on taxes, the legislative spotlight centered most prominently this past week on the proposal to increase the maximum allowance on old age assistance. The house voted to raise the limit from $30, the present figure, to $40. The senate finance committee recommended $35, but the senate itself had not acted on the matter.

CIVIC GROUPS ARE ASKED TO ENROLL FARM HELP HERE

Meeting of Farm Help Committee Held Friday Evening

Plans to remedy the labor shortage were discussed at a meeting of the Pennington county help committee held at the county agent's office in Thief River Falls last Friday evening. E. H. Pomerenke of Mavie, who is chairman of the Pennington county committee, led a discussion on the purposes of the program and methods of organizing the county.

In order that assistance may be given farmers during peak loads during harvesting and threshing, the committee has asked the Civic and Commerce Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Thief River Falls to take over registration of city help. These two groups will be asked to contact every business concern and list the men that they will have available during the rush periods. During 1942, over 200 business men in Thief River Falls worked on farms during harvest and threshing. It is hoped that this number will be at least doubled this coming season.

In the St. Hilaire territory, Paul Roy and Harold Rud were appointed to organize a trade center committee to assist with the farm help program in that area. Mr. Pomerenke will organize a trade center at Goodridge and John Radniecki will organize the River Valley territory. The purpose of organizing these trade centers will be to recruit as much labor as possible and to place farm hands where they are needed.

At a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce this evening at 6:30 in the Palm Garden Cafe, Wayne Anderson, chairman of the organization's war bond committee, will present detailed plans for the "Buy a Bomber" campaign which opens in this city next Monday, April 12, when nearly 100 solicitors will launch a drive to obtain from local citizens bond pledges aggregating $175,000.

"Buy a Bomber" Slogan in City Drive for $175,000

Corps of Nearly 100 Workers Will Start Canvass of City Monday

TOWN OFFICERS WILL STAGE RURAL DRIVE

County War Finance Group Is Confident Goal Will be Attained

Joining with the United States government next Monday, April 12, in the most gigantic war bond sales campaign in history, residents of Thief River Falls and Pennington county will be called upon to back up with their dollars the men on the fighting fronts by investing $250,000 in war bonds, of which amount this city has been assigned a quota of $175,000, with the remainder to be raised in the rural areas.

Expressing confidence that the goal will be attained, Paul A. Lundgren, Pennington county war finance chairman, stated that township officers will make the solicitation in the rural areas, while the drive in Thief River Falls, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce under the slogan, "Buy a Bomber", will be headed by Wayne Anderson, who will head a corps of nearly 100 solicitors.

In making the solicitation, the city will be divided into four zones, each with its captain, those appointed including Ray Peck, first zone, Ralph Luhman, second; Robert Petersen, third; and Richard G. Mabey, fourth. The workers will first secure pledges, and then will follow thru until the city's quota of $175,000 has been attained.

When this goal is reached, Mr. Anderson said, the city will have qualified for the honor of having its name placed on a medium-sized bomber. Local citizens, he added, thus have an opportunity not only to buy bonds but also to send personal greetings to Adolph Hitler in the form of a bomber.

Chairman Lundgren stated that the county war finance committee has spent a full week in establishing quotas, not only for the subdivisions of the county, but for every individual as well. More than 1300 residents of Thief River Falls, he said, will be called upon to aid in reaching the prescribed quota.

The township boards are being asked to make solicitation in their respective townships. State headquarters have announced that additional gas will be made available for those who need additional gas to carry out this solicitation. No house to house solicitation is contemplated in the country, as it is hoped that the township quota can be reached by contacting those residents of the township who have accumulated reserves to draw upon.

In addition to the individual solicitation, Pennington county, the city of Thief River Falls, every village, township, school district, fraternal order and organization

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH CHOIR IN CANTATA SUNDAY

Augmented Senior Group to Offer "Seven Last Words of Christ"

The senior choir of Trinity church, augmented by extra singers who responded to a general invitation, will present the sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ", by Dubois, under the direction of Miss Grace Omundson, on Sunday evening, April 11th, at 8:00 o'clock. Some fifty singers have rehearsed for many weeks and, together with the soloists and accompanists, hope to present the music and text of this traditional Lenten cantata both artistically and reverently. Trinity church extends a cordial invitation to all to attend this service of songs, said Rev. G. S. Thompson, pastor.

Accompaniment for both piano and organ will be taken care of by Mrs. Allen Purdy and Mrs. Mildred Engen Hamilton, respectively. Soloists will be Mrs. A. E. Berg, soprano; Orville Berg, tenor; and H. M. Hitterdal, baritone.

The vocal part of the cantata opens with a prophetic lament uttered in the soprano solo. Subsequently, the cantata depicts the crucifixion scene, centering the emphasis upon the seven utterances of Christ while hanging upon the cross. With two exceptions, these words are sung by the baritone soloist. The tenor and soprano solos are commentaries on the actions of the mob and soldiers. The chorus represents the mob surging beneath the cross and shouting taunts at the Savior. After the seventh Word has been spoken, the tenor solo dramatically pictures the earthquake in the sacred words of the Gospel. This narrative is then picked up by the organ and piano in a moving interlude which precedes the final number, a prayer by the chorus.

From the State Capitol

BY SENATOR W. E. DAHLQUIST

In less than two weeks the show will be out and over and into this two-week period must necessarily be crammed a lot of work. Tax bills and appropriation bills will be given the right of way and conference committees will be kept busy trying to iron out the differences between the two houses. Long hours will make for jumpy nerves and sharp tongues. From now on, I am told, things may be expected to pop.

Most of the committees have completed their work, allowing more time for action on the floor and good progress is now being made in disposing of the many measures that are before us. Committees on finance and claims however still have much unfinished business and whenever there is nothing else to do these groups meet. I asked for a lot of work and now I am getting it.

Our committee on claims has held hearings on about 200 bills that would appropriate money in settlement of damages of one kind or another for which the state is held to be responsible. Some of these claimants ask only for the right to sue. In many cases liability is admitted by the departments involved and these, of course, are disposed of with little argument.

In the amount of dollars involved the claims for flood damages head the list and most of these claims come out of the Minnesota River Valley where it is alleged that mismanagement of control dams at Lac Qui Parle and Big Stone caused floods both above and below these dams last summer. We have not yet heard the state's side on these questions but we do know that there was excessive rainfall in the Minnesota Valley preceding these floods. When you get up to ten inches of rainfall over a large watershed in a short period of time it is reasonable to assume that you will have flood conditions whether or not there are dams or however the dams are managed.

Throut the dry years many dams were constructed by the state at the request of people who wanted lake levels restored. Now that lakes are full to overflowing again, low lands are being flooded once more and in some cases the people who petitioned for dams are now asking the state to pay for damages they say the dams have caused. Not all these claims are based on damage done by dams. Highways are blamed for a part of the trouble. One Northern Minnesota farmer wants the state to pay him more than $10,000 because 12 acres of potatoes drowned out last year. During the month his potato field was under water rainfall in that territory was 8 inches above normal. Not all these flood damage claims are unreasonable however and certainly an individual should not suffer when an agency of the state is clearly at fault.

There are no claims in for damages caused by wild animals, one of the problems that in the past has caused a lot of arguments. As far as the state is concerned, "Any man what says he has been et by a wolf is a liar." By court action it has also been determined that the state is not liable for minor highway defects.

A dozen of the claims, more or less, come from inmates of our penal institutions, some seeking damages for allegedly wrongful confinement and others because of personal injuries sustained while working. One of these was given considerable time by the committee, not so much because of the claim itself but rather because of the question as to who should receive whatever allowance that might be made.

This particular claimant was both an auto mechanic and barber by trade, a forger by profession and a lover by nature. He has only three children to speak of but another woman is waiting patiently to wed him when he is released. The trail of his career as a forger leads back to Wisconsin where he served time. In Minnesota he was given one to ten years, was paroled for good behavior and brought back for bad behavior. He probably will be an unwilling guest of the state for some time. The basis of his claim is the fact that he sustained an injury to his left hand, losing the tips of several fingers and incapacitating him as an auto mechanic. Presumably his abilities to continue to function in his more artistic proclivities are unimpaired. It will be easy to decide whether or not he deserves compensation for his injury. More difficult will be the problem of distributing whatever benefits that may be allowed. It would seem that this is an opportunity to give him credit for doing something for the children.

One of the unjust confinement claims probably has merit. This is brought by an old man who served several years in Stillwater before his innocence was established. We have not heard all of the facts as yet but on the information presented so far he has at least one vote on the committee.

Action was taken in Finance committee this week on my bill to increase the state's contribution in aid to dependent children, amending it to provide that the state should pay one-fourth of this cost instead of one-third as the bill originally asked for. At the present time the state is paying only one-sixth. The bill will probably be adopted in its amended form and this will result in some saving to the counties.

Out of the committee on Education we have introduced as a committee bill a measure that will reduce the interest rate on school warrants from six to four per cent. For some of our school districts this will mean a considerable saving.

The committee on education has also recommended for passage the bill that would revise our system of state aid to schools as recommended by the interim committee. No attempt will be made to pass this bill at the present session, it being the committee's purpose merely to have the bill printed in sufficient quantities to be distributed throut the state with the hope that before the next session of the Legislature the public will have become sufficiently informed as to its objectives so that something along this line can be passed in the next session.

In its present form the bill provides for a minimum tax levy of ten mills for school purposes before a district would become eligible for state aid, and this provision, of course, is objectionable to the many districts that now levy less than ten mills. Some compromise probably will have to be made in establishing this basic figure, but I think the idea of withholding state aid from districts that are able to meet their education responsibilities with a levy of only a few mills is fair. I can see no good reason why the state should pay nearly the entire education cost for such districts. This will be something to argue about during the coming two years.

We will attempt to write some such provision into this year's appropriation bills. The governor has suggested that aid be withheld from districts that do not levy more than five mills. I think that it would be fair to give half the aid to a district that levies five mills and then increase the share by one-tenth for each mill levied up to ten mills. That would mean, for instance, that a district levying eight mills would receive eight-tenths of the state aid while districts levying ten mills or more would receive all of the aid.

An attempt will be made, too, to provide some graduations for the distribution of supplemental aid. The present basis is thirty mills and all districts levying this much or more now receive the same consideration. It is proposed to change this by providing that districts levying forty or fifty or sixty mills be given a larger share of supplemental aid than those levying only thirty mills. If the purpose of granting state aid is to equalize school costs then these suggestions certainly have merit.

In conclusion may I be pardoned for saying that the longer I remain away the more I look forward to receiving my copy of the Great Family Journal, and the more apprehensive I become about my own future. The longer I stay away the better the paper gets. Last week's issue was a honey and it looks to me like I'm going to have a hard time proving that I'm necessary on the payroll. I will be very humble when I get back two weeks from now.

STASSEN INSISTS ON LEGISLATION TO AID VETERANS

Asks Present Session Make Provision for Returning Soldiers

Governor Harold E. Stassen is firm in his belief that the present legislature should make provision to aid returning veterans of the state who may need assistance. In an address over the radio this past week, he indicated that he is not ready to approve tax reduction proposals until provision is made to set aside some of the state's accumulated surpluses in a fund to aid veterans.

From sentiment in the legislature, he said, the bill embodying the proposal undoubtedly will be amended to confine the aid to tuition for the returning service men in colleges and universities or trade schools and provision of certain help to the disabled if they have not received federal compensation.

The Governor said that he is willing to defer to views of the legislature on restriction of the fund in this way and willing to have the amount reduced from his original proposal, but insisted these steps at least should be taken.

"We have the money saved up that can be put aside for this purpose," he said. "State Treasurer Julius Schmahl will have about $7,000,000 cash clear on June 30th."

Governor Stassen said that major responsibility in meeting such needs undoubtedly will be assumed in time by the federal government but the government is slow to move in such matters. Disabled young men from Minnesota soon will be returning, he said, and the state must be ready to give them a helping hand while they are waiting for the federal government to act.

From where I sit ...

by Joe Marsh

After that Western thriller at the movies, Ben Ryder says: "You know, the West wasn't all like that. While the gun-play was goin' on—respectable folks were weeding out undesirable elements . . . red-eye saloons and gambling joints."

And Ben's right. There's a spirit in America that's always working for a better community. Take that "clean-up or close-up" program of the brewing industry, for instance. Its whole purpose is to see that beer is sold only in clean, respectable places.

Everybody benefits from co-operation like that—even folks who want Prohibition back. Because those beer folks are working for the same thing—a decent, law-abiding community.

From where I sit—the way isn't to pass more laws, but to enforce the ones we've got—and rely on America's spirit of tolerance and cooperation.

1933—TEN YEARS AGO

The rural credit department held title to 109 Pennington county farms at the end of 1932.—Charles J. Warner was named senior counselor of the local UCT chapter, and E. M. Bennes was reelected secretary.—D. B. Bakke, formerly engaged in the banking business here and in Holt, died in Minneapolis March 23.—A. F. and Ray R. Gauger of St. Paul were selected by the city council to draw plans for the new Auditorium.—Alfred Skarstad was named cashier of the Union State bank.—A total of 73 lives were lost when the U. S. dirigible Akron crashed in flames in the ocean 25 miles off the New Jersey coast.

1923—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Stockholders of the local creamery were considering the feasibility of adding a cheese factory to the plant.—Samuel V. Bailey, pioneer local hardware dealer, died in Mahnomen. — Opie Read, well known author, lectured at the Sons of Norway hall.—Mrs. Hugh R. Cooper arrived from New York City to visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. M. Sheldon.—A St. Paul engineer was in this city to study defects in the construction of the new filtration plant building.—J. J. McCann, county agent and secretary of the Commercial club, rejected an invitation to become county agent in Olmsted county.

In Belgium, 14-year-olds are being taken from their parents and indentured to German "foster parents" as farm laborers.

WALLY DUCHAMP WINS INDIVIDUAL BOWLING TITLE

Averages 187 Pins in Twelve Games; Ed. Carlson Wins Second Place

Wally DuChamp posted a 2240 total for the twelve games, averaging 187 pins per game, to win the individual bowling championship in the tournament conducted at the Mint alleys and which was concluded Monday night. Ed. Carlson, with a 2102 total, rolled into second place, trailing Wally by 138 pins; while Fred Lorentson, the tourney's "dark horse", had a 2091 total for third place. Stan Larson recorded the highest single game score, a 256 count in the last game of the final block, and that "big" game enabled Stan to chalk up a 2074 total and edge out Nickie Drees for fourth place.

In the opening block Saturday night, Wally had a 728 total, having games of 160-202-198-168; added a 749 total during the second block, getting scores of 157-171-199-222; and finished with a 763 total on Monday night, posting games of 212-171-216-157. Fred Lorentson furnished a surprise during the opening block's bowling, taking over the lead with a 735 total with games of 184-183-191-177. Ed Carlson trailed DuChamp by a pin after the first block's bowling had been completed, tacking up a 727 total with game scores of 178-156-102-206.

PENNINGTON COUNTY CITIZENS TO STRIVE FOR HUGE BOND QUOTA

will be called upon to invest their funds in government bonds said Mr. Lundgren. A bill has been recently passed by the Minnesota legislature authorizing municipal subdivisions of the state to invest its funds in war bonds. An appeal has been made directly to every township board in the county. The Town of North was the first to respond with a subscription of $2000.00.

The Pennington county board at its April session Tuesday adopted a resolution calling for the purchase of $15,000 in Series G war bonds from balances on hand in various funds in the office of County Treasurer A. R. Johnarud.

The local Elks lodge was the first to respond from fraternal orders with a subscription of $8000.00.

"The raising of $250,000.00 in a county as small as Pennington is a gigantic task," Mr. Lundgren pointed out. "After a week of intensive study, the committee has come to the conclusion that it can be done without any material hardship to anyone. The most difficult task that the committee has had in the past week's deliberations has been the general defeatist attitude that has fallen upon the public after last week's announcement.

"Here, however is positive proof that the goal can be attained. There is on deposit with the two banks of the county, and savings and loan association and the post offices of Thief River Falls, Goodridge, St. Hilaire and Hazel more than 4½ million dollars, or approximately 18 times the amount now asked by the government."

fall short of the 1,850,000 acre goal," he said.

"Contrary to many statements that have been made to the effect that Minnesota farmers were selling cows, our farm plan sign-up reveals cow numbers in Minnesota in 1943 will be at least 3 per cent greater than in 1942 which is a good indication that we will meet if not exceed the record milk production asked for the state.

"The brightest picture from the food standpoint is in the tremendous increase in livestock production. Indications are that spring sow farrowings will be 30 per cent over 1942 and that fall farrowings will show a startling increase of 50 per cent. Cattle, calves, lambs, and sheep figures also show increases that place the state safely over the goals for these animals.

"Turkey production will be at least 30 per cent over 1942, according to intentions announced by farmers. Hens and pullets on farms are more than 20 per cent above last year, which indicates another record-breaking year for egg production. Our egg goal will probably be exceeded."

No Fluke

Wally DuChamp well earned the city's individual bowling championship he won Monday night, for he was by long odds the most consistent bowler in the tournament. In compiling that fine 2240-pin total in twelve games, Wally picked up 48 spares, pounded out 55 strikes, ran into 23 splits, and had only two errors or "blows." Runner-up Ed. Carlson marked up 44 spares, 47 strikes, 14 splits, and 18 "open" frames in scoring his 2102-pin total.

Fred Lorentson, the "mystery" man of the tournament, rolled into third place and he had 46 spares, 47 strikes, only 9 splits, and 23 "blows" on his score sheet. If Fred had been able to control his back-up or reverse hook a little better on his spares, he would have made it mighty interesting for Wally. Fred had only 9 splits with which to contend, while Wally had 23 splits in his series, and that would have given Fred a 14-frame advantage.

Stan Larson, the author of that 256 game, in which he opened with a spare, racked up six strikes blew a frame, and then struck out, had 57 spares, 37 strikes, 14 splits, and 17 errors in the twelve games. Fifth place Nickie Drees rolled his hook ball into the pins for 47 spares, 43 strikes, 16 splits and 16 blows.

These figures reveal quite conclusively that Wally deserved his win.

Ensign Newby

Harry Newby, athletic coach here last year, and recently elected to the office of register of deeds of Carlton county, has joined the Navy Air Corps. His picture, with that of Minnesota's Bud Wilkinson, Lloyd Peterson, and Wilbur Palm, was in the Trib the other morning, and the caption explained that the boys were at the Navy's pre-flight training station at Chapel Hill, N. C.

Don Lorentson

A news release from the Navy pre-flight school at Iowa City, states that Don Lorentson, a member of the Prowlers' 1938 state basketball champions, was named 165-pound wrestling champion of his platoon. The title was won in the instructional sports period, a part of the training for naval aviation cadets. Competitive sports are employed in the development of stamina and combat spirit, which is essential for a combat pilot. Well, Don has plenty of combat spirit, as the Crosby-Ironton basketball players of 1938 can well recall.

He's Looking Them Over

Coach Glenn Hanna was an interested spectator at the interclass game last week, and he was impressed by the play of the Freshmen. This week coach Hanna called out a dozen of the Frosh for spring basketball drill.

Marvin Carlson, Roger Tunberg, Allen Thompson, Cliff Aase, Johnny Powell, Dick O'Hara, Ken Borsheim, Bill Lane, Wes Howie and Brad Hanna, were some of the promising Freshmen prospects that reported for the practice sessions. If they make normal progress there should be another district championship team popping out of Thief River Falls in a couple of years, for these Freshmen exhibit considerable ability and they are going to have good size.

And speaking of basketball prospects, next season, if ever, should be Crookston's year to take over the district championship. Of the ten men that composed the Pirates tournament squad this year only two players, both reserves, Willis Swanson and Bill Smith, will be lost through graduation. That will give coach Hersch Lysaker a returning first team of Bill Reynolds, Toddie Johnson; Dick Sellberg, Don Youngquist, and Dick Sprague. That's first-rate material, and if big Sprague can be taught to make effective use of his bulk and height, the Pirates should develop into regional contenders.

Buttercup in Texas

13 Billion Dollars Must Be Raised!

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States is asking us to lend it 13 billion dollars in the next few weeks. We can do it. And we must do it. Every American must realize the truth:

In this, our toughest war, we've made a good start. We've trained a lot of men—made a lot of weapons—built a lot of ships.

But it's only a start. No man or woman among us would contend for a single instant that we're doing enough now to win this war!

WE'VE GOT TO BUILD MORE!

We broke all records building 8 million tons of shipping last year. But grim-faced Army and Navy men will tell you that the 18 MILLION tons we're building this year still won't enough!

WE'VE GOT TO FIGHT MORE!

From now 'till this war is won, America must be on the offensive. In ever-increasing numbers, your sons, brothers, husbands must go into actual battle. Our losses have already begun to mount—and they will not grow less.

AND WE'VE GOT TO BUY MORE WAR BONDS!

Sure we're all buying War Bonds now. But we've got to help pay for our increased fighting and building . . . We've got to match, as best we can, the sacrifice of those Americans who are toiling and sweating on a dozen battlefronts—with the bloodiest yet to come. The blunt fact is this: to keep our war machine going, we've got to dig up 13 billion extra dollars this month. 13 billion dollars over and above our regular War Bond buying!

Make up your mind now that before this drive is over, you're going to march right down to your nearest bank, Post Office, or place where they sell War Bonds, and do your duty. 2,000 SACKS OF ARMY MAIL LOST

Two thousand sacks of United States mail carried on United Nations ships and destined for American soldiers overseas in recent weeks have been lost, the Army Postal Service reports. The war department said that loss of this mail was in striking contrast to the fact that 30,000,000 letters to soldiers in overseas service have been sent by V-mail without a single loss. This is made possible because originals are held at the port of embarkation until the duplicate copies arrive safely at their overseas destination.

Public Health Nurses Urged by State Chief to Remain on the Job

Public health nurses are essential on the home front. Stressing this point, Dr. A. J. Chesley, executive officer of the Minnesota department of health and state chief of emergency medical service of the civilian defense, and Dr. S. H. Baxter, president of the Minnesota State Medical association, have appealed to nurses in crucial civilian positions to remain here. The reason for this appeal is that too many public health nurses are leaving the state to enter military service.

Dr. Chesley says: "Many public health nurses have left critical civilian positions to go into military service. These public health nurses have been specifically trained for the administration of civilian health programs of a highly specialized nature. They cannot be replaced by nurses without this special training regardless of their ability. The essential services they are performing, which should be continued at all costs, are nursing care of the sick in their homes, care of mothers and young children, and public health nursing for the control of communicable diseases."

RED CROSS NEWS

By Mrs. Ward Long
Publicity Chairman

Pennington county chapter of the American Red Cross is ninth on the list of counties in this state to go over the top in the War Fund drive.

Mrs. Lars Hylden announced today that the sewing room will be closed until further notice, as they have no more material. Those having articles to turn in are asked to call Mrs. Hylden and she will arrange to meet them at the sewing room to collect articles.

The kit bag committee works every Wednesday afternoon in the Red Cross sewing room. All those who are interested in making kits for our boys over seas are welcome.

The Concordia Ladies Aid of the St. Johns Lutheran church will serve lunch to the Red Cross workers this Thursday evening, with Mrs. Otto Hessler and Mrs. Max Jenson as hostesses. This group of ladies is to be congratulated on their good turnout every Thursday night in the surgical dressing room.

That group of ladies from the Horseshoe that have been making surgical dressings deserve a word of praise too, for coming so far in spite of the dark and muddy roads.

Mrs. Geo. Werstlein announced the following ladies had put in the most hours in surgical dressing: Mrs. M. F. Pihlstrom—110 hrs.; Mrs. H. M. Hitterdahl 99 hrs.; Mrs. P. W. Mabey 98 hrs.; Mrs. Ray Harris 85½ hrs.; Mrs. Harry Flasch 85 hrs.; Mrs. Walter Nelson 77¼ hrs. and Mrs. Fred Hanson 77 hrs. Congratulations, ladies.

Mrs. Werstlein also announced that if the ladies keep on like they have, the March quota will be completed by the end of the week. Then the rooms will be closed until May 1st when they expect the new shipment of gauze. This will give the workers a chance to get their spring cleaning done, and be ready to start in again May 1st.

Mrs. Rullen and Mrs. Werstlein and their instructors wish to thank the workers.

Congratulations to St. Hilaire! Cedric Adams says: "St. Hilaire, Minn., is a town of 250 souls. A group of women Red Cross workers in 11 days folded 7,200 dressings, and during that week of blizzards we had a while back."

Erie women also completed their quota of 1,800 dressings.

Although American seamen are now able to receive mail from home at foreign ports, the service does not provide for registered, insured, or C. O. D. mail.

'SHARE YOUR CAR' PLAN WORKING IN HUBBARD COUNTY

Project Developed by Chairman of County Rationing Board

"Share your car" is something more than a wartime slogan to residents of Hubbard county. Car-sharing has been organized on a basis that puts the task of getting driver and passenger together on a card index system. The plan was devised last December by Don Bishop, chairman of the Hubbard county rationing board.

Since then, despite worn out tires, a shortage of doctors and other problems growing out of war conditions, Hubbard county residents have been able to get transportation service whenever necessary. A number of lives have been saved by it.

The Hubbard county plan is called the "Share the Car to Market" program, in which farm neighborhoods get together to pool their transportation — cars and trucks.

Hubbard county neighborhood leaders did the organization work on the program. Leaders among some 10 to 15 farm families in their neighborhoods, these men card index the transportation facilities of all their neighbors, even down to the status of the tires.

One or two with the latest cars and the best tires were designated as emergency drivers. Farmers in the neighborhood group, faced with an emergency trip to town, can call upon one of the emergency drivers and get transportation. Because he stands ready to serve at all times, the emergency driver gets preference at the county ration board for grade II tires, permission to get gasoline on emergency permits and the privilege of charging five cents a mile for the round trip starting at his home.

"Many of our doctors are in the service, and it is impossible for those who are left to get around to make the calls they would in peace time," Mr. Bishop said. "We have taken on a program to persuade our residents to go to the doctor's office or hospital instead of expecting him to get out to their farm homes. The emergency cars have already done valiant service in this field. Two babies, suffering from pneumonia, were taken to town and given emergency treatment that probably saved their lives. An elderly man who had a stricture caused by hernia needed an emergency operation. An emergency car got him to town and saved his life. There are cases where expectant mothers have been brought to the hospital in the nick of time."

The program also works in the hauling of milk and cream. One farmer will pick up the cans of several of his neighbors and haul them to the creamery. They alternate on this task where all have cars, and where some don't have transportation, they can pay the driver or perform some service for him.

U of M Conservationist Cites Three Wild Species to Augment Meat Supply

Dr. Gustav Swanson, University of Minnesota teacher of game management and wild life conservation, believes there is a good deal to the argument that meat supplies can be augmented this year, under the laws of course, by taking wild animals and birds, provided the hunter goes after the right creatures.

Indiscriminate meat hunting would be very bad, he says, but if the man who wants to supplement his ration card with a little wild meat confines himself pretty much to deer, pheasants and cotton-tail rabbits the cause of conservation will be served as well as the larder.

Dr. Swanson states positively that these three species reproduce rapidly enough so that hunting may be a boon rather than a damaging factor. He also believes that in years when there is a good duck hatch on the Canadian prairies waterfowl may be hunted freely, but points out that the average amount of ammunition, now scarce, used in duck hunting is much greater than that used for the species first named.

400,000 MORE ICE BOXES TO BE MADE

Because of the wider need for adequate refrigeration, the War Production Board is authorizing manufacture of 400,000 refrigerators, 148,847 of them electric and gas-operated, and the rest the customary ice boxes. Many of them will find their way to northwest rural communities to fill mounting demands. Electric and gas refrigerators will be available only to households that cannot be served by other types of refrigeration.

YOUTH TO ENROLL IN STATE APRIL 12 AS FARM HELPERS

Governor Stassen Sets Day for High School Youths to Register

Monday, April 12, has been designated by Governor Stassen as Enrollment Day, in the development of the Minnesota youth farm help program. A special proclamation this week asks all high school youth who are interested in farm work to sign up for training and subsequent employment this summer and fall as farm workers. Detailed information may be obtained from high school superintendents.

The proclamation points out that Minnesota's foremost contribution to the war effort is food and that, if farmers are to meet their heavy production quotas, much additional help will be needed. Service in the youth farm help program has the approval of President Roosevelt and, in the governor's proclamation, is called a needed and substantial patriotic effort.

Under the leadership of Paul E. Miller, state farm help director, and an 8-man coordinating committee composed of the heads of federal and state governmental agencies, the full effectiveness of the department of education is behind the enrollment.

Following registration, the program calls for training, under the supervision of Leo L. Knuti, in charge of agricultural education, and a sub-committee of Miller's advisory board, of which George A. Selke, war manpower commissioner's director for Minnesota, is chairman.

The committee has prepared a registration card. These cards, in needed quantities, as well as necessary informational material, have been supplied to all high school superintendents. After enrollment day, when the number of interested youth becomes known, detailed arrangements for training classes will be made. There will be provision for special instruction where the enrollment indicates sufficient interest, even though a given school has no regular agricultural instructor.

Bemidji is the fourth of the Minnesota state teachers colleges to be given this favor, two of the colleges having received accreditation in 1940 and one in 1942.

GETTING GASOLINE FOR SCHOOL BUSES

Rural school boards and others who operate buses for transportation of pupils may get gasoline for their vehicles on supplemental gasoline allowances if they have not received their revised certificates of war necessity yet, the Office of Defense Transportation says. The application should be made on an appeal form which may be obtained from the nearest district office of the ODT division of motor transportation. The public school superintendent will make the recommendation and the application form then returned to the district office.

Getting the Most from your Victory Garden

RIGHT VARIETIES BRING BEST RETURNS

Certain kinds and varieties of vegetables are more satisfactory than others for small Victory Gardens, according to Dexter Ferry of Ferry-Morse Seed Co. Wise selection is particularly important this year, he says, because the need for food conservation is keen. He gives the following hints for raising quality crops of bumper size destined to give a home gardener a special glow of patriotic pride.

"Although bush beans yield well, pole beans will produce several times as much for the same space occupied. Beans of the Kentucky Wonder type are especially practical because if some of the pods become too old for snaps, the beans inside are delicious for 'green shells.'

"Beets will 'kill two birds with one stone' for they furnish a green leafy vegetable during their young stage and beet roots later in the season for use and for storage. A row of Swiss chard, no more than ten feet long, will supply a family with greens all summer if the outer leaves are kept picked and the inner leaves allowed to keep on growing.

"Cabbages are usually thought of in connection with large gardens. But the government stresses this crunchy leafy vegetable because of its high vitamin content.

"Only careful selection, however," Mr. Ferry states, "will produce enough heads to be worth the effort. Early small heading varieties such as Copenhagen Market are best. The plants are so compact that twelve to fifteen heads can be grown satisfactorily in a twenty-foot row.

"Vines of the spreading type," he continues, — "melon, winter squash, and pumpkin, — are often a nuisance in small quarters. They know no boundaries and seldom stop running all summer. Summer squash varieties of compact habit are ideal, particularly the improved straight-neck strains. They take up comparatively little space.

"Some varieties of tomato yield far better than others for the amount of room the vines take up. Marglobe produces a lot of excellent fruit from little space."

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

In Praise of Consistency

"How can I handle my younger child who wants to do everything the older one does?"

I know a family where this problem has been worked out very successfully. In this family Carol is 4 and John is 11. Perhaps the wide difference in their ages makes the situation easier to handle than it would be if the children were four and six, for example. Yet the principle involved is the same.

I was there one Saturday afternoon when an aunt arrived to take John off to the movies. Carol's mother had never allowed her to attend movies and did not intend to until she was somewhat older. The aunt understood this and took it for granted that there simply was no question about it. In the bustle of getting John ready and saying goodbye no one mentioned Carol or even paid any particular attention to her. But when the door closed on John and his aunt, she was standing there in the hall, and I heard her say, as though talking to herself and reassuring herself, "And When I'm as old as John I can go to the movies too."

Her mother heard and stooped down with a big hug. "Yes, my darling, that's right, and now you can put on your things and come out with me to the store."

There had been no tears, no fussing, no teasing, no tantrums. The situation had been explained to her over and over, whenever it arose, that there were some things John could do that she couldn't. And not only had it been explained but consistency adhered to.

We often say that "children are too young to understand the reasons" for the things we require of them, and so we don't even try to approach problems from the reasonable angle. I think we fool ourselves many a time. Children are quick to perceive the fairness of our attitudes, even if they don't fully appreciate all the underlying reasons, and they are usually ready to abide by a fair deal if we give them a chance. It is up to us to see that our demands are fair, and to make them seem reasonable through the consistency with which we stick to them.

And there's one other point. Carol's mother didn't reiterate the rule that Carol could not go to the movies. She gave her a hug and took her to the store—and I have an idea that an ice cream cone appeared before the afternoon was over.

PINCUSHION IS PLACE TO LOOK FOR NEEDLES

SEEK FARM RADIO BATTERY RELIEF

Northwest farm homes that have gone without radio reception because of the battery shortage were given some assurance that their radios will soon be back in operation. The consumers durable goods section of the War Production Board is ordering additional production of these batteries to pick up the slack. The shortage has been acute in farm areas where radio reception depends solely on battery operation, and reports on northwest farms indicate that as many as one-third of the farm batteries have been inoperative because of the shortage.

A present, about 15 percent of total United States munitions production is going to our allies under Lend-Lease and direct purchase.

Almost 3,000 miles of access roads to mines, quarries, and forests will be built in 1943 to serve war production purposes.

SPRING CLEANING PAYS; $1,005 IN BILLS FOUND

LeCenter.—Spring cleaning has been no chore for Mrs. R. M. Becker this year. While doing some housecleaning her broom jammed under a radiator and it just couldn't be pushed farther. Reaching in, she pulled out what looked like a piece of rolled up newspaper. To her utter amazement when it was opened the roll contained currency totaling $450. But, that's not all. Thinking about her find as she continued to clean, she wondered if perhaps there might not be more money hidden away. So another search was made and sure enough, tucked behind the radiator were four smaller rolls of currency, wrapped in newspapers, which totaled $555, making her total find $1,005. Mrs. Woodworth [illegible] into the house [illegible] death of Dr. L. Woodworth who had lived there for [illegible]. Whether he had hidden the money or Mrs. Woodworth who died in 1932 will probably never be known.

[illegible] the [illegible] on her desk with great care. Leonora had put her desk at the end of her room facing the door so that when her mother came in she would have to cross the whole room under Leonora's stern executive eye to get to her. From movies and pictures in the newspapers Leonora had gotten a good idea of how the desk of a busy woman of affairs should look.

With an important frown, Leonora picked up a sheet of paper. Now she was two people — herself, the busy woman, and her own stenographer. "Miss Simpkins, take a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, will you?" she murmured under her breath. "Yes, immediately," she murmured back at herself.

Leonora cleared her throat and looked at the ceiling for inspiration. Miss Simpkins bent over the sheet of paper hanging on the words about to fall.

"Dear Mr. Morgenthau," — "Got that?" — "Yes, madam."

"I am—ahem—thirteen years old and anxious to be of all possible service to the country at this time, ahem!

"I earn a weekly income of from $1.37 to $2.12 by helping with the housework and by shovelling snow. I am at present in possession of one War Savings Bond and am buying stamps weekly. I want to become a member of the 10 percent Club. I feel it to be—ahem—not only my duty, but my privilege" ("How do you spell privilege?" asked Miss Simpkins. "Don't bother me with these details," said Leonora)—"my privilege as an American to invest at least ten percent of my income in War Bonds."

"Yours truly."

"Get that off at once, Miss Simpkins," said Leonora. "Yes, Ma'am! You certainly are an important woman, madam," said Miss Simpkins.

LOAD LIMITS NOW IN FORCE ON N. W. TRUNK HIGHWAYS

H. A. Baumann Gets List of Roads Affected from Lee Boyd

A list of trunk highways in Northwestern Minnesota on which load restrictions are in effect during the spring breakup season was received last week from Lee R. Boyd, district maintenance engineer at Crookston, by H. A. Baumann, chairman of the road committee of the Civic and Commerce association.

Highways restricted to four tons per axle include No. 1 from Thief River Falls to Alvarado and No. 32 from Thief River Falls to Greenbush, while No. 75 from Warren to Euclid has a limit of five tons per axle.

More mileages of state highways have had to be restricted to certain temporary maximum load weights this year than ever before in the history of Minnesota's trunk highway system, according to the state highway department reports this week from its 16 district maintenance offices.

Carrying out the state's spring breakup policy of "imposing load restrictions on five per cent of the traffic to save the roads and keep them in service for the other 95%, the department has had to place under restriction 6,000 miles of state trunk roads. This is more than half the entire 11,265 mile state trunk system. The largest mileage ever before to require restriction during any one season was 5,177 miles on which load limits were imposed in 1941."

TRUCK THROWS DRIVER, THEN RUNS OVER HIM

Red Lake Falls. — Seventeen-year-old Gene Theroux of Crookston is in a local hospital in a critical condition as a result of a most extraordinary accident. The truck which he was driving swerved on an icy patch on the pavement as he attempted to pass a car. Young Theroux was thrown against the cab door which sprang open at the impact, tossing him to the pavement. Then the whirling truck evidently swung around and one wheel ran over the driver. The motorist who picked the boy up reported the driverless truck never left the pavement, nor did it turn over, but was stalled in a snowbank at the side of the cleared highway.

Council Defers Action Few Days on Purchase of More War Bonds

The city council at its regular April session Tuesday evening received a petition from property owners on Atlantic av. between Second and Third sts. asking that the city take action to widen the street serving the block. The matter was turned over to City Engineer I. E. Quist, who was instructed to supply estimates on the cost of the project.

Action was also taken to approve a lease of 280 acres of the airport property south of this city to Henry Oen and William Rondorf on a rental basis of $2 per acre. The incinerator land also was leased to John and Donald Bergquist on the basis of a payment of $60 for the year.

Two bids on the proposed new fire siren, ranging from $445 to $740, were read at the session, but not being accompanied by the necessary priority order, both were laid over.

The assessment roll in the amount of approximately $4,100, covering work done in Storm Sewer District 2 in the Eight st. area, was given council approval.

After agreeing to make another substantial investment in U. S. war bonds, the council decided to hold up the purchase for a few days pending an investigation as to which type of bonds would best meet the city's needs.

City Clerk P. G. Pederson was instructed to write Governor Harold Stassen and urge that the vacancy in the office of municipal judge be filled without further delay.

County Residents Purchase over Third of Quota up to Wednesday

CITY RESIDENTS BUY $59,920 IN WAR BONDS

Village of Goodridge 1st in Pennington to Go over Its Quota

The second war loan drive for the city of Thief River Falls swung into high gear on Monday morning, April 12, when 65 solicitors under the leadership of Wayne Anderson and his four captains met at 8:00 o'clock for breakfast at the Palm Garden and pledged themselves not to stop until the city had attained its goal of sending a personal message to Adolph Hitler in the form of a bomber.

The city's goal is $175,000. On Wednesday morning $59,920 had been paid in cash on the line. A huge thermometer has been placed at the Northern State bank, and daily quotas will be shown on this thermometer.

To the village of Goodridge goes the credit of not only being the first municipality in the county to complete its solicitation, but also of being the first to actually raise the cash required for its quota. At 11:45 A. M. on Monday Stephen Singer announced that the solicitation had been completed; that 36 pledges had been attained totaling $2,625. On Wednesday morning reports came from Goodridge showing total purchases for the village of $2,055.75. Paul Roy, chairman for St. Hilaire, with a quota of $5,200, Wednesday announced pledges of $5,600.

Norval Johnson of Numedal township was the first to report the completion of their solicitation, with pledges totaling $1,600.00 as against a quota of $1,200.00.

"The public," said Paul A. Lundgren, county war finance chairman, "might as well know that a large number of the town boards feel that they are being called upon for more than their share of public work. Several boards have reported that they have just completed the Red Cross drive, and that with gas and tire rationing they are called upon to do more than their fair share of driving. This should be kept in mind before

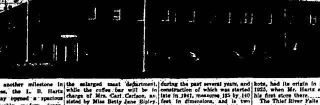
Hartz Super-market Opens in Own Building



Marking another milestone in its progress, the L. B. Hartz Stores today opened a spacious and thoroughly modern supermarket in the company's recently completed building on Horace av. at Second st.

With emphasis placed on the self-service feature, and operating on a cash basis with limited delivery service, the new store will be operated by the same personnel that served in the former location on LaBree av., with necessary additions to the staff.

L. B. Hartz, proprietor, announced that Arthur Bugge, formerly of this city, but recently of Fergus Falls, will be manager of the enlarged meat department, while the coffee bar will be in charge of Mrs. Carl Carlson, assisted by Miss Betty Jane Ripley.

At the same time the Hartz bakery, operated by Ed. Carlson, moved its retail department from its former location on the Horace av. side of the building to new quarters at the rear of the grocery department on Second st.

An outside entrance on Horace av. will be used for receiving eggs from farm patrons. For the further convenience of customers, a large parking lot 75 by 140 feet has been provided across Horace av. from the building.

The Hartz block, the major improvement in the business district during the past several years, and construction of which was started late in 1941, measures 125 by 140 feet in dimensions, and is two stories in height with a full basement.

The main floor provides accommodations for four business places in addition to the Hartz supermarket and bakery. On the second floor are seventeen apartments, all of them now occupied by tenants, while the basement supplies a large amount of storage room.

The L. B. Hartz Stores system, which now embraces company-owned or affiliated stores in most of the towns in this section of the state and northeastern North Dakota, had its origin in Roseau in 1925, when Mr. Hartz established his first store there.

The Thief River Falls store was opened in 1931, and two years later the company's general offices were moved to this city from Roseau, followed in 1937 by the erection of a huge warehouse on the Great Northern right-of-way, from which the various stores are supplied with merchandise.

Testifying to the importance of the enterprise to the Thief River Falls community, it employs at the present time approximately 100 local residents, including 75 in the general offices and warehouse, and the remainder in the bakery and super-market.

Rev. J. O. Jacobsen of the Evangelical Free church read the single ring service that united in marriage Miss Doris Leona Moe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Moe, and Wilfred Langness, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Langness of Viking, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride, 112 LaFree Ave. N.

Just before the ceremony a vocal duet with guitar accompaniment entitled "My Dream Home in Glory" was given by Delores Moen and Pearl Trontvet and following the ceremony they sang "Living for Jesus."

The bride wore a wedding gown of light blue silk marquisette with lace inserts and carried a bridal bouquet of pink and white carnations with swansonia. She was attended by her sister Miss Lorraine Moe of Minneapolis, who wore an aqua blue gown of silk chiffon and a corsage matching the bridal bouquet, and by Miss Ethel Johnson of this city, who wore a gown of net lace over pink silk and a similar corsage.

In due respect to the brothers of both the bride and the bridegroom who are in the armed service and could not be present, there were no male attendants at the wedding.

A lovely arch, decorated with pink and white roses and Easter lilies decorated the living room and about 40 close relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Following the wedding a dinner was served in the dining room of the Red River Valley Cafe which was decorated for the occasion in pink and white.

The bride attended school and lived near Bemidji before moving to this city about four years ago. Since that time she has assisted her mother in operating the Red River Valley Cafe here. The bridegroom attended school at Oak Grove Seminary at Moorhead and the Lutheran Bible school at Fergus Falls before coming to this city where he has been employed for the past two years.

Out of town guests included Miss Josephine Langness, Miss Lorraine Moe, and Miss Bernice Anderson of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Langness of Viking; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Langness of Grygla; and Rev. and Mrs. Edward Clay and family of Sprague, Manitoba, Canada.

With the Victory Aides

By Mrs. W. R. Ferber
Publicity Chairman

Don't let the moths eat your woolens! You'll need them next winter. Now is the time to store your woolens, don't wait until hot days come, for moths get going early and the warm robes, extra blankets, and fuzzy slippers a wartime winter demanded offer tempting shelter where villainous moths lay their eggs. Get out every piece of wool you own—not forgetting mittens, blankets, knitting yarns, socks, and every coat, dress, and sweater. The first thing to do is to get the wools clean. Some can be washed, others go to the dry cleaners. Blankets, sweaters, socks and mittens are usually washable. Like drycleaning, good laundering kills moth life. Good cedar chests and bags offer excellent protection to woolens. Dresser drawers do not. When packing away winter woolens, it is well to mark your packages, that is, list the pieces in each box or package, so you can find them quickly.

Salvage

Tin cans. That old tin can is big because it's used in bearings to keep our mechanized army flying, rolling, fighting—and for countless other military uses. Tin is now a precious metal because our enemies hold land where we used to get most of ours. Salvage every tin can except paint, varnish, oil cans, and cans with conical tops.

400 average cans make a bar of tin 2 inches long, 1 inch wide 1 inch thick. 5 tin cans make 1 pound tin cans. Tin from 2 tin cans make 1 hand grenade. Tin from 4 tin cans make 1 smoke bomb. Tin from 1 tin can make 1 small piece for radio equipment.

Stork Shower Fetes Mrs. George Poppenhagen Friday

Mrs. George Poppenhagen was honored at a stork shower at her home Friday afternoon with Mrs. Orville Feragen and Mrs. Henry Hoard as hostesses. The time was spent socially and many lovely gifts were presented to Mrs. Poppenhagen. At the close of the afternoon lunch was served.

Present at the gathering besides the honored guest and hostesses were Mmes. Otis Wold, Roy Langevin, Ed Noto, Ken Russell, L. P. Poppenhagen, Albert Poppenhagen, Christ Nelson, Milton Poppenhagen, Inez Weflin, Olga Ellingson, Ida Robinson, Elsie Dunrud, Louise Kulseth, Lena Moen, Selma Fontaine, Marie Kjorvestad, Alma Hoard, Marie Tripp, Fred Leach, Olga Gran, Ted Hemmesch, Martin Carlson, Bernard Langevin, Olga Martinson, Gulseth, Hank Hustad, Joe Reopelle, Florence Vevea, Maynard Mukin, Henry Nohre, Tracy Ristau, Larrie Vad, Lydia Evanstad, Mable Dicken, Olga Ryan, Albert Johnson, Anna Grindeland, Misses Lois Dicken, Ann Leach, Elaine Hoard, and Borghild Johnson.

Auxiliary Notes

Auxiliary members will hold their regular meeting tonight (Thursday), with Mrs. Leonard Hanson and Miss Sally Hanson as hostesses.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Miss Lolta Warner, national director of the girl scouts, gave a report on the very successful week of training she conducted here last week. Seventy-six different adults attended the meetings during the week, some of them spending as many as 18 hours at the meetings. Besides the regular classes, Miss Warner had individual conferences with council members, girl scout and brownie leaders.

Miss Warner also inspected the site that our local council has chosen for the two week day-camp to be held this summer, and she thoroughly approved of the plan.

Service is the motto of the girl scouts during war time. Last week 20 senior and intermediate girl scouts participated in the Red Cross drive. They spent seven days at the theatre and collected $140.02 for the Red Cross. Troops 5, 6, 7, and 8 participated in this community service.

Easter AT PENNEY'S
THIS YEAR IT'S SMART IF IT'S USEFUL

Here's a new approach to the Easter clothes problem for you soldiers on the home front! Your new clothes have to keep up your spirits, keep you cheerful and confident! They're YOUR wartime uniform! But, like other uniforms, they must be bought for long service.

Well-cut, simple clothes will furnish a background for the spice of accessories; they'll give longer wear . . . and lend themselves to remodelling.

Map Salvage Program at District Meeting

The urgent importance to the war effort of continuing the scrap steel salvage program was stressed by Linus A. Vorpahl, regional chief of the salvage section of the War Production Board, and other speakers at one of a series of district meetings held Tuesday evening in the Evelyn hotel.

Nearly fifty salvage committeemen and implement dealers and block men from eight Northwest counties attended the meeting, which was opened by Carl Christofferson, Pennington county salvage chairman, who called on Mayor H. W. Kinghorn for a word of welcome, and then turned the program over to William J. Klein, Minneapolis branch manager of the Allis-Chalmers company.

Praising the workers for achieving their goal in the drive last fall, Mr. Vorpahl said the present objective is to procure 1,000 pounds of scrap from every farm by July 1. He pointed out that scrap is an annual crop that is never cleaned up.

After discussing details of the salvage organization, the speaker stressed the fact that this is not a drive but a continuing program to last for the duration of the war.

Branch managers of farm equipment companies in Minneapolis, Fargo and Grand Forks also discussed various phases of the salvage program, and urged their blockmen as well as other workers to make an all-out effort this spring to bring in the scrap so urgently needed by the nation's steel mills.

The deceased was born August 13, 1907 in Lankin, N. Dak. Following the death of her parents she was employed at Bemidji and Minot until her marriage in 1937 to J. S. Schmitz. Since that time she has lived in this city.

From the State Capitol

BY SENATOR W. E. DAHLQUIST

Only a few days remain of the legislative session, the last day being next Wednesday. That last day has been known to drag out over several days however. The session two years ago, for instance, died legally on a Tuesday night but it was not until the following Sunday morning that the final adjournment was reached and so I do not know what to expect of the final week. Old-timers tell me our affairs are in good condition, comparatively, and that if we do not run into unforseen difficulties we should be able to complete all the necessary chores without resorting to clock stopping. But I am looking forward to these last days as the most interesting part of the session. I am confident that in adjusting myself to a loss of sleep I will be able to compete with the best of them.

Now, for the first time, the Senate will have an opportunity to argue taxes, and there is much grumbling among the members about the constitutional provision that requires all tax bills to originate in the House. The House can argue about them thruout the entire session but they are none of our business until the House has acted. As far as I am concerned the present arrangement is entirely satisfactory. I see no good reason for the long speeches and endless arguments. All that must be said can be said in a few minutes in most cases. It is the voting that counts and it doesn't take long to vote.

To satisfy my curiosity in this respect I checked the time it took to pass a group of non-controversial bills the other evening. In two and one-half hours we approved fifty-four bills, which means that we kicked them out at a rate of better than one every three minutes. A roll-call being required on each one, I thought that was pretty fast work. The house, nearly twice as large as the senate, would spend considerably more time in voting if it were not for the voting machines, which register the wishes of the members quicker than you can blink a winker. Because of the voting machines they work faster than we do.

Appropriation bills have been before us several weeks but we are still far from agreement on the question of salaries to state employees and that will be one of the big arguments this week. Salaries of state employees were increased last July by the Governor, with the approval of the Legislative Advisory Committee, by 5% and five dollars a month, not to exceed fifteen dollars a month to any employee. The minimum salary is now $65 a month. Our finance committee has recommended an increase of the minimum wage to $80 a month, with necessary adjustments in other low pay brackets, and a continuation of the cost-of-living increase of $5 and 5%. Under this scale the employees who, to the first of last July were receiving $65 a month would now receive $89 a month or an increase of $24. There would be no further increases in the higher brackets, the higher paid employees retaining the $15 a month increase that had already been granted to them.

I was satisfied that our finance committee recommendations were very liberal but in the arguments on the floor I have discovered that no one but an enemy of the common people would recommend that kind of a report. It is true that, compared with what Uncle Sam is paying his employees, Minnesota is a meanie. I am satisfied to let the matter stand that way. As it is, by the time we get through we probably will have established a record as the spendingest session in the history of the state.

Appropriations for school aid will be increased considerably this year. School operating costs are going up and it is the thought that increased state aid will in effect help to hold down local tax levies for school purposes. There is a substantial surplus in the income tax funds from which these aids are drawn and by distributing more of these funds at the present time we are in effect providing some measure of tax relief. Supplemental aids will be distributed in a graduated form, providing larger contributions to districts that levy more than thirty mills. This will give additional aid to many districts in our territory.

From George Jones, conservator of rural credit, I received encouraging information this week. During the month of March the department had received 65 offers to buy land and 32 of these offers came through the Thief River Falls office. That means the department's holdings in our corner of the state are going to go into the hands of private owners in a hurry and that we will soon be thru with this headache.

Saturday afternoon was spent in an interesting way. In Senate finance committee we had heard a proposal that the state buy the remaining personal effects of Ignatius Donnelly, remembered by many of the old-timers as the founder of the Populist party, and generally recognized as one of the outstanding writers and orators of his day. The hearing had aroused my interest and when, on Saturday, city officials Harry Kinghorn and Frank Rinkel dropped in for a visit, I proposed a drive to the ghost town of Nininger, which Donnelly had hoped would become the metropolis of the Northwest when he established it in 1857, a year before Minnesota was admitted to the Union.

The three story "mansion" which Donnelly built is located a few miles north of Hastings on the Mississippi and is very much down-at-the-heels. The buildings and ten acres of land are owned by a Donnelly memorial association which is attempting to preserve the property for its historical value. The personal effects, including a law library, many other books, newspapers and magazines of that period, and a few pieces of old furniture, are owned by Donnelly's widow, his second wife. She will sell them to the state for, I believe, $2,500, and if the state buys them the memorial association will give the real estate to the state. Private collectors would of course be glad to pay the price.

Our visit to this old estate was to me well worth the three hours of our time required for the trip and I came away favorably impressed with the desirability of preserving it as a memorial to one of Minnesota's most noted and most colorful pioneers. Then on Saturday night I learned that the house appropriations committee had turned thumbs down on the proposal and that was the end of that.

I am satisfied, however, that the efforts of those who are attempting to preserve these interesting relics should be continued. It perhaps is true that such activities should be sponsored by local communities and organizations rather than by the state. At any rate, from the slight association I now have had with the posthumous "Sage of Nininger", I shall make it a point to become more familiar with his life and work. Our general lack of interest in the history of our own state is not a thing to be proud of.

RED CROSS NEWS

By Mrs. Ward Long
Publicity Chairman

The War Fund Appeal has been completed and the Pennington County Chapter quota was exceeded by a large margin. It is natural that the solicitors will call at many homes only to find people away from home and found it impossible for many reasons to call a second time, therefore we urge everyone who have not contributed during the appeal to leave their contributions with Stanton R. Dahlen, War fund chairman, or Herman A. Kjos chapter chairman at the court house.

The Surgical Dressing room will be closed until May 1st. The March quota for this chapter has been completed. Goodridge branch has completed its March quota of 3000 dressings. This brings the grand total of 102,000 dressings completed by the Pennington chapter women to date. The supervisors, instructors and women who have donated their time so freely certainly deserve a lot of credit for their fine showing. It is urged that when the project reopens after May 1st that more women will find it possible to come out and make surgical dressings.

Mrs. G. W. Lander, Minneapolis, area supervisor for surgical dressings will be in the city to meet the supervisor, instructor and workers of this chapter at the surgical dressing room April 27. The Goodridge and St. Hilaire supervisor and instructor are expected and invited to be present at this meeting.

Mrs. L. Hylden reports that the sewing room will be closed until a new supply of material arrives and that anyone bringing back finished garments is requested to call her at Phone 508.

Mrs. O. G. Lynde, Chairman of the home nursing committee, has a supply of home nursing pins available for any person who now holds a certificate in home nursing dated since July 1st 1941. The pins cost 15 cents.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

John Trumbull, our postmaster, looks up from his newspaper yesterday and says: "I see they caught another one o' them so-called 'gang-lords' of the Prohibition era.

"Wonder how long it's going to take us to wipe out the evil Prohibition left behind . . . not to mention the billions of dollars it cost the people?"

Well, John's right of course. Hard to believe America could ever pass a law like Prohibition.

But from where I sit it's a big consolation—now that Prohibition is over—to see how moderation and tolerance have grown up in its place.

Nowadays, if a man enjoys a friendly glass of beer or two after a day's work, he not only can do it in clean, respectable surroundings—but he knows that no bootlegger or gangster is making a red cent on it.

WAR LOAN CAMPAIGN OFF TO FINE START IN PENNINGTON COUNTY

additional tasks are loaded upon the town boards. In the main the cooperation has been of the finest kind, and only one town board has refused to act.

"The solicitors report most courteous treatment from their prospects. The solicitors, moved by their own spirit of patriotism, are donating their time to accomplish this, the largest war bond drive in history. When they do that, they are in fact representatives of the government, and as such are entitled to courteous treatment. They are not asking for gifts from anyone. This war is everybody's war. All they ask is that you buy a share in America's future.

"The county's total cash purchases up to Wednesday morning totals $87,173.25, leaving $142,826.75 to raise in the next 16 days. To accomplish this we need everyone's cooperation. Why wait for a solicitor? Call at your bank or post office and make your purchase at once to insure the goal." The tabular results for the county are set for below:

STATE PAPERS WIN PRAISE FOR PART IN SAFETY EVENT

Aid in Winning Traffic Safety Award for State This Year

Minnesota's newspapers this week received national acclaim for their part in winning for Minnesota the highest honor ever bestowed upon a state for achievement in the field of traffic safety—the grand national award of the National Safety Council for the first war-year, 1942.

Credit for a major contribution to this victory, through their statewide campaign of traffic safety education and their coordinated efforts to inspire speed law observance, and general safety consciousness in the motorists and pedestrians of their respective communities, was voiced by Arthur V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council and vice president of the National Safety Council.

Minnesota traffic fatalities were reduced from 625 in 1941 to 438 last year. The national award is determined on a basis of such factors as the motor vehicle death rate, safety educational efforts, the manner in which war-time traffic conditions are met, enforcement of and public response to the states' safety regulations, successful traffic engineering, and the operation of accident reporting systems.

FARMERS GET POINTS ON ALL MEAT SALES

When a farmer sells a slaughtered cow or calf to a retail meat market, the butcher must surrender the right number of points to the farmer, according to the Office of Price Administration. The farmer must then turn the stamps over to his local ration board.

MUCH SEED GRAIN REQUIRES CAREFUL TESTING THIS YEAR

State Seed Analyst Recommends Home Testing of Seeds

Many fields of wheat, soybeans and corn are doomed to produce poor stands and poor yields in Minnesota this year unless care is taken to discover poorly germinating seed lots before planting, according to J. L. Larson, state seed analyst at University farm.

Average germination tests run on these three crops by the State Seed Testing Laboratory range between 70 and 80% for wheat, 83% for corn and 60% for soybeans. Normally these farm crops germinate almost 100%, he says.

Those who have not had their seed tested are urged to test it at home. Larson points out that although the State Seed laboratory tests up to five samples free of charge for any state resident, the laboratory is now so busy that there would be little chance of getting samples tested before planting time. The laboratory has tested many thousands of samples already this year.

A reliable test may be made at home, according to Larson, by sprinkling the seed on three or four layers of wet newspaper, covering with one or two additional layers of wet paper, then rolling it up and wrapping it in waxed paper. The tester should be kept moist in a warm room for five or six days.

Poor germination of wheat, oats, barley and flax seed this year is largely due to the presence of disease fungi, says M. B. Moore, plant pathologist at University farm. Seed should be treated before planting to protect it and the young seedlings from attack. Seed that germinates only 30 or 60% will make a good stand if it is treated and then planted a little heavier than usual. Moore recommends using one-half ounce of new Improved Ceresan per bushel to treat all of these crops.

Moore urges that all growers treat their seed corn with Barbak or Semesan Jr., using one and a half ounces per bushel.

THIRTY YEARS DRIVING WITHOUT EVEN A SCRATCH

Minnesota Lake.—Since Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Delzer purchased their first automobile way back in 1913—a Maxwell, they estimate they have driven over 200,000 miles, without an accident or as much as a scratched fender in the thirty years.

NAZIS CUT NORWEGIAN RAILWAY MEN'S PAY

Washington—Nazi overlords in Norway have ordered a pay slash that will reduce railroad workers from 1.70 kroner, about 43 cents, an hour to 1.45 kroner, about 36 cents, while pay for piece work will be limited to 40 per cent over the hourly wage. A 12-hour work day is in effect. In retaliation, Norse workers have upset Nazi authorities by filling out registration forms for dead and fictitious persons, causing Nazi officials much work in seeking conscripts for forced labor in Germany.

RETAIL MILK TRUCKS NOW ELIGIBLE FOR NEW TIRES

Retail milk delivery trucks have been declared eligible for new replacement tires when their present casings are no longer recapable, the OPA ruled in an order declaring the vehicles essential to public welfare. Heretofore, retail milk trucks have been eligible only for recapping services.

In Memoriam

To a Brother Singer:

Another string has just burst in "Brage's" old harp in the passing of Bernard Knudsen from among us. For more than thirty years his string rung firm and true. Rust and time weakened the sound as the years went by and finally the kind but strict Maestro saw fit to remove the string from the harp. Now one more peg in "Brage's" harp is empty, however much we regretted seeing it plucked out. But we see its soul soar to greater heights, there to yet sound in fuller harmony Norsemen's beautiful praise to the giver of all music and life.

"Brage" will not forget you, Brother Bernard. 15p

Card of Thanks

We take this means of expressing our deep gratitude to all those who assisted us at the time of the illness and death of our husband and father. We wish especially to thank the Brage Chorus for their songs, also Rev. G. S. Thompson for his comforting words and the Sons and Daughters of Norway and Circle No. 5 of the Trinity Ladies Aid.

COACH JONES NOT OPTIMISTIC OVER TRACK PROSPECTS

Only Two Lettermen Return for Practice Sessions This Spring

With only two lettermen—captain Don Michalsky, district mile run record holder, and LaMarr Hanson, sprinter — among the squad of Prowler trackmen that have reported for practice, coach Quentin Jones isn't very optimistic over the locals' track prospects.

Approximately fifty track candidates are expected to participate in the time trials scheduled for Friday afternoon. While coach Jones has an idea of the capabilities of his track material, basing his judgment on the indoor workouts, the trials on Friday will give the Prowler track mentor an inkling as to the make-up of his varsity squad.

In addition to veterans Michalsky and Hanson, other promising Prowler tracksters are Burdell Merritt, Cal Ripley, Larry Rullen, George Gutta, Jim Jorde, Ray Offerdahl, Chuck Richards, Bill Bye, Herb Claffy, Jimmy Magnuson, Virg Evenstad, and Art Forsberg.

Women Bowlers Plan Handicap Match Next Sunday on Mint Alleys

The women's singles handicap bowling tournament is scheduled to be rolled over the Mint alleys on Sunday afternoon and evening, with the opening shift slated to begin bowling at 2:00 P. M.

All W. I. B. C. members are eligible to enter the tournament which will, like last year's tourney, be conducted on a handicap basis. The entry fee will be $1.00 and this fee includes the cost of bowling four games over four lanes, which will leave forty cents from each entry fee to be assigned to the prize money pool.

Members planning on entering the meet are requested to make their reservations by Thursday evening.

17 YEAR OLDS ARE SOUGHT AS FLYING CADETS FOR NAVY

Elks Lodge Will List Applicants for Traveling Board May 14

The U. S. Navy is again calling for applicants to qualify as naval cadets, and a traveling board will be in this city May 14 to examine candidates, according to Walter Jung of the Elks lodge V-5 naval aviation cadet committee.

Under the new program, high school seniors or graduates 17 years old who are in the upper half of the boys in their class may be enlisted as apprentice seamen. Seniors will be permitted to complete their high school course, and will be called to active duty after being graduated and reaching their 18th birthday.

When called to active duty the cadet will receive $74 per month, his uniforms, lodging and food, medical and dental care and $10,000 life insurance. The training period will last approximately 16 months. Upon completion he will receive his Navy Wings of Gold and a commission either as an ensign in the U. S. Naval reserve or a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve. The pay as a commissioned officer starts at $290 per month.

Marshall County Well over Red Cross Quota

Marshall county's American Red Cross war fund appeal totaled $8,088.67 today and is due to reach in the neighborhood of $9,500 with reports received and tabulated from all but six of the townships and villages of the county, E. M. Weltzin, county War Fund Appeal chairman, announced today. In nearly every instance, quotas in the various precincts of the county have been met, Mr. Weltzin stated, thereby making it easy for the county to surpass its goal of $5,200.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Scoutmasters Quist and Borchert of Troop No. 60 made arrangements with Geo. W. Hanson for camping permission on the island at the "Old Dam." A few boys of the troop made a trek to the island last Saturday and marked up a few merits on their chart.

The Lake Agassiz council is sponsoring a garden camp project seven miles south of Grand Forks where they have leased a ten acre plot. The camping period will extend from June 1st to Sept. 30th and will be on a two weeks basis for each boy. The boys will spend a part of each day producing food as a service to his country. Time will be given to scoutcrafts, commando training and the physical fitness program. Evenings will be spent around the campfires discussing topics which will make better citizens of a post war world. Under this plan the usual troop camping plan will not be used this summer, but instead each scout would be invited to spend two weeks at the garden camp and there produce enough food to keep a soldier in the field for twenty days.

STATE GUARD ASKS LOAN OF GUNS FOR GUARDING PLANTS

Donors Asked to Turn Them over to Sheriff A. J. Rambeck

An appeal for donations of fire arms from civilians in Pennington county to be used by uniformed guards in the protection of naval establishments, war plants and government property in Minnesota is being made by Lieutenant Commander F. C. Campbell, officer in charge of the Minnesota naval zone intelligence office in Minneapolis.

All guns donated should be turned over directly to Sheriff A. J. Rambeck in Thief River Falls.

The types of guns needed are: 22 Cal. rifles; shot guns of all descriptions and caliber; deer rifles, all calibers; sub-machine guns; and 25, 32 and 38 caliber pistols either repeating or automatic, and especially Army 45's which are very desirable for uniformed guards.

The weapons will be held at the sheriff's office for official release to the navy department at such time as a naval intelligence officer from Commander Campbell's office can arrive to pick up the guns. The navy department will present each doner with an official receipt. However, donors' names may be omitted, if desired. The navy cannot pay for nor guarantee the safe return of the guns.

St. Hilaire Men to See Norse Invasion Pictures

Men of the St. Hilaire Lutheran church, the Rev. Skibarud, pastor, will be the hosts on Monday evening, April 19, to the meeting of the St. Hilaire parish brotherhood at which time the colored moving pictures of Norway's invasion, life at Camp Little Norway in Canada, and life with the Norwegian merchant marine will be shown.

The meeting held in the St. Hilaire high school auditorium and scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, will also feature a short Holy Week devotional message by the Rev. G. T. L. Bergee of Middle River. A free will offering will be received for the aid of the Camp Little Norway association. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

"Because of the especially fine program we have arranged for this meeting," said the Rev. Skibarud, "we are making it a public meeting. Everyone, man, women and children, are cordially welcome."

He writes that the weather in Texas is fine, but that he misses the seasonal changes to be found in Minnesota.

Prowler Track Prospects

Snow flurries and near-zero weather usually indicates that the Prowlers are ready to begin their outdoor track drills, and that was the case this week as coach Quent Jones called his squad together for practice sessions. "I'm not very optimistic about track prospects", said coach Jones as he looked over the roster of candidates. And that was understating a fact. The Prowlers lost most of their track "power" when Bruce Biddick, Don Olson, and Ralph Hunt graduated last spring, and point-getting replacements are going to be hard to find.

Biddick was the district and regional record holder in the high and low hurdles, and also ran a leg on record-making half-mile relay team. Don Olson, half-mile Ole, set a regional mark in the half-mile, running the distance in 2:04.5, and he also was a member of the relay team. Ralph Hunt ran the dashes, and anchored the relay team. There you had three athletes capable of picking up 25 points in a track meet.

Coach Jones has had a remarkable success as a track tutor, having piloted Park Rapids to seven consecutive regional championships, but his problem here this year is about like trying to make a "silk purse out of a sow's ear."

Women's Bowling Tournament

The city's feminine keglers will have an opportunity of getting some cash money on Sunday, with which to purchase a new Easter bonnet or invest in war stamps, for the second annual women's single bowling tournament will be conducted at the Mint alleys. And as the tourney is arranged on a handicap basis, every woman bowling has a chance of getting "in the money".

Harold's Book

The major league ball season is set to go next week, and Harold Eide has already made a "book" on the outcome in the two leagues. It's the Browns in the American league, and the Cards in the National league. And through some hocus-pocus he has relegated the Yanks to a low "low fourth" in the American league standings. It been a long, cold, and hard winter; but I didn't think it was so tough that Harold would come out with such stuff as "fourth place for the Yankees".

A Bit Early

Jimmy Kelly, my ditch-18 sucker-run scout, reports that the water is too high and roily, and that the weather isn't quite warm enough, for the suckers to begin their "run" up the ditches. Another week or so should be just about right.

And the sucker season should make Bud Schuster happy. Bud, who's known as "red-horse" to his intimates, says that there isn't any sport that compares to running along a clay bank and throwing a spear at a sucker.

TAX REDUCTION BILLS ADVANCE IN LEGISLATURE

Favorable Action Is Seen on Cut in State Income Tax Levy

BILL ALREADY HAS PASSED LOWER HOUSE

Both Houses Approve Ceiling of $40 on Old-age Assistance

Though final decisions were yet to be made, legislative leaders seeking tax reduction made important advances this past week toward a cut both in the state real estate tax and the tate income tax.

Steps taken included:

1. Passage by the house of a bill reducing the state income tax on individuals for 1943 by 10 per cent and increasing the allowance for dependents from $5 to $10.
2. Tentative decision of the house tax committee leaders to seek a cut in the state tax on property from 9 to 6½ mills for 1943 and 6 mills for 1944.

The senate tax committee previously had acted on income tax reduction, having recommended a cut of 24 per cent in individual-income taxes for 1942 and larger cuts, running up to 50% or more in the lower brackets, for 1943 and subsequent years. Members of both houses have indicated general approval of the idea of reducing the state tax on property, a proposal advanced by Governor Stassen in his inaugural address. Main question among leislators centered as a consequence, not on whether a cut would be voted in the two taxes, but on how much the reductions would be.

Sharing attention with the tax problems, as the legislature began its last two weeks, was action taken on the maximum allowance for old age assistance. The senate by a vote of 51 to 0 approved a measure increasing the maximum allowance from $30, present maximum, to $40. The house previously had passed the bill with the maximum at $40, and only approval of the Governor was needed to complete its enactment.

The income tax bill recommended out by the house tax committee went through with flying colors. Each attempt to change materially its provisions was voted down, and it was approved by a vote of 104 to 11.

A new provision which the committee included in the bill would allow the use of money from the income tax for other educational purposes than payment of aid to school districts, to which it has been restricted in the past. Purpose of this is to permit use of income tax funds to pay a mill and a half or so of fixed levies for education, now paid from levies on property, and possibly the tuition aid which Governor Stassen has urged the legislature to provide to help Minnesota veterans who may need asistance to continue their schooling after the war.

Handling of the tuition aid in this way, it was argued, would reduce the tax load that falls on property. With a surplus in the income tax school fund that will run from $7,000,000 to $9,000,000 by June 30th, it was contended, these concessions might very well be made to property owners and still have ample funds for school aid payments.

A conference committee will be needed, it was expected, to settle the issue over the amount of the cut to be made in the income tax. The senate committee has recommended cuts in rates and a change in the manner of credits for dependents. The committee favors a return to the former method, that used by the federal government, where a fixed amount of income is exempted for each dependent, instead of the present plan where a fixed amount i deducted from the computed tax.

PRESIDENT TAKES FURTHER STEPS TO HALT INFLATION

Issues Order Halting Price Boosts and Limiting Pay Increases

President Roosevelt, in a drastic "hold-the-line" order against inflation, virtually froze all prices Thursday night and further restricted wages increases.

He directed that price ceilings be placed immediately on all cost of living items, thus bringing under controls fresh fish, all fresh vegetables and other foods presently exempt. And he ordered, too, that any "unfair" prices be reduced.

As for wages, he ordered that no general increases be granted except under the war labor board's "little steel" formula or to "correct substandards of living." This eliminated the possibility of wage increases to correct inequities, one of the grounds on which WLB has allowed some advances.

Mr. Roosevelt said, however, that his order was not to prevent "reasonable adjustments of wages and salaries in case of promotions, reclassifications, merit increases, incentive wages or the like, provided that such adjustments do not increase the level of production costs appreciably or furnish the basis either to increase prices or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in prices."

In two further points of a sweeping executive order, Mr. Roosevelt:

Authorized the manpower commission to establish hiring controls to prevent a worker from switching employment in order to get higher pay.

Asked that federal, state and rate regulatory bodies passing on rates of utilities and carriers take note of the order "so that rate increases will be disapproved and rate reductions effected" consistent with the stabilization program.

The president said in an accompanying statement that this was a "hold-the-line" order under which "all items affecting the cost of living are to be brought under control."

Spring Urge, False Tire Hopes Bring Warning to 35-Mile Speed Violators

The spring urge to get behind the wheel, coupled with unwarranted optimism with regard to the rubber outlook, have led to a growing tendency on the part of the motoring public to disregard war-time speed limitations, Elden Rowe, chief of the state highway patrol, warned this week.

The chief cautioned Minnesota motorists that the spring urge was not going to be accepted by highway patrolmen as any excuse for violating the 35 miles per hour national speed regulation. He warned also that the "upward creep" of speeds is just as serious a factor as ever in hindering the nation's efforts to keep American armed and civilian forces equipped with essential tires.

In substantiation of the latter statement, Chief Rowe cited a statement issued last week by William Jeffers, national rubber director of the War Production Board, saying that recent developments in the rubber program apparently had resulted in "unwarranted public optimism" as to the tire outlook for the future.

Jeffers pointed out that, in addition to the patriotic necessity for curtailing speeds to save rubber, reclaimed rubber recaps available in limited quantities for civilian passenger cars are much more apt to fail when subjected to speeds in excess of 35 miles an hour and, therefore, their use increases the possibilities of accidents.

Chief Rowe pledged the unqualified support of the Minnesota highway patrol in response to Mr. Jeffer's appeal that every state see to it that the 35 mile an hour speed law is enforced.

SHIP CONVERSATION

North St. Paul—Two servicemen were holding a conversation on a blacked-out ship "somewhere on the high eas." The usual question came up. "Where are you from?" asked one of the boys. "Minnesota," came the reply. "What part?" fired the first man. "North St. Paul," answered the second. "So am I," said the first man. Neither of the two had known the other was on the ship. They were Arthur Stahlman and John Elstad.

WAR PUTS COTTON IN BINDER TWINE

Grain sheafs on northwest farms this summer will be bound with cotton twine for the first time, one of the direct results of the war in the Pacific, according to OPA. Cordage and twine fibers available from the Pacific area are insufficient to manufacture this year's needs of binder twine, so the War Production Board has asked manufacturers to use cotton in connection with the usual fibers. The new twine, the OPA said, will cost a little more, but ceiling prices are being established.

KINDNESS MERITS $25 FOR RED CROSS

Anoka.—Little did Miss Elizabeth Nardinger think that the Anoka County Red Cross chapter would be $25 richer when she offered the seat she occupied on a bus to an elderly gentleman. Neither did she suspect that the recipient of that seat, John E. Brown of Lake City, had weathered ninety winters and still has the keenest appreciation for people and kindness. Learning from Miss Nardinger's sister, Mrs. Lynn Wesp, who was his seat companion, that she was interested and active in Red Cross work, he decided to show his appreciation for Miss Nardinger's thoughtfulness by sending his check for $25 to the Anoka county chapter to the credit of Miss Nardinger.

THE FOOD supply for hundreds of men may depend on whether the farm equipment in this community is prepared for the grueling months ahead.

There is only one thing to fear. What will happen if you put off reconditioning till spring . . . if you wait for breakdowns in the field to order repairs? The waiting list may be long by that time, while the weeds choke out your crop.

Have all your equipment checked over now! Today is not too soon! Every Allis-Chalmers machine judged "Ready to Roll . . ." qualifies for the red-white-and-blue FARM COMMANDO eagle.

We take special pride in the equipment we have sold, particularly the old-timers. We have watched them put children through school, pay for farms, and save crops year after year. We are standing by them now, in their time of need.

TRAFFIC DEATHS DECLINE 66 PCT. BELOW LAST YEAR

Total of Forty Persons Lose Lives in First Three Months of 1943

Traffic fatalities on Minnesota streets and highways for the first quarter of 1943 have been reduced approximately 66% below the death toll for the same three months of 1942, the state highway department reported today.

Forty persons have been killed in traffic mishaps as compared to 117 in the same period a year ago. However, the highway department emphasized the point that of these 40 people killed in needless traffic accidents, at a time when every ounce of manpower is needed for war power, most of them died as a result of someone's violation of the state's traffic safety laws.

The 40 deaths occurred as a result of 32 accidents. Twenty-seven of the 32 fatal accidents resulted from traffic law violations on the part of either a driver or a pedestrian. In the ultimate analysis, 35 of the 40 people killed, or 87% of the entire death toll, died as a result of someone's traffic offenses. Chief among the violations were improper walking and disregard of traffic signs or signals. Fatalities so far this year were 15 in January, 11 in February, 14 in March, as compared with 1942 figures of 40 in January, 33 in February and 44 in March.

MEAT MARKET ROBBED— NOT MEAT BUT CANDY!

Mankato. — This story reminds one of the tale told about the man named Joe Stink who wanted to change his name to Charley. It seems that last week burglars broke into the Self Service Meat Market. Now taking the meat shortage into consideration one would think that they would have made away with some nice juicy steaks, but not so. When an account was taken of the stock, it was learned the thieves had stolen $6 in cash—and 10 bars of candy!

GRYGLA

GRYGLA CO-OP. STORE REPORTS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The annual stockholders meeting of the Grygla Co-operative Store was held at the hall on Friday afternoon. A very large crowd was present.

The Auditor's report was read by Irvin Anderson, who called attention to some interesting facts. The net sales for the year totalled $120,654.10, which included purchase sales amounting to $19,-. The total net earnings for the period were $10,000.02, an increase of $2,724.40 over the previous year.

From the total net earnings a purchase dividend to stockholders of 9% will be paid. An additional 1% of these cash purchases will be placed in the equity reserve fund.

Another interesting fact was emphasized in the reading of the auditor's report, namely that accounts receivable had been reduced from $4,968.44 the previous year to $2,867.10 this year.

A motion was passed to pay only 4% interest on all original shares of $100.00 instead of the larger sum which was proposed. A resolution was passed to renew the corporate existence of the company for thirty years.

A talk was given on cooperatives by Abner Jonas, C. C. W. fieldman. Carl Holbrook, manager, gave an interesting report of the C. C. W. convention held in Superior last week. Two songs were sung by Clifford Rude; two Norse songs by Abner Jonas; and a duet by the two gentlemen.

F. A. Brown gave a talk on the second war loan which is being launched this month.

The organization retains its same board of directors as follows: Sofus Bjertness, president; Louis Larson, vice president; Irvin Anderson, secretary; and Olaf Olstad and Hans E. Hanson, directors.

WAR PUTS COTTON IN BINDER TWINE

Grain sheafs on northwest farms this summer will be bound with cotton twine for the first time, one of the direct results of the war in the Pacific, according to OPA. Cordage and twine fibers available from the Pacific area are insufficient to manufacture this year's needs of binder twine, so the War Production Board has asked manufacturers to use cotton in connection with the usual fibers. The new twine, the OPA said, will cost a little more, but ceiling prices are being established.

KINDNESS MERITS $25 FOR RED CROSS

Anoka.—Little did Miss Elizabeth Nardinger think that the Anoka County Red Cross chapter would be $25 richer when she offered the seat she occupied on a bus to an elderly gentleman. Neither did she suspect that the recipient of that seat, John E. Brown of Lake City, had weathered ninety winters and still has the keenest appreciation for people and kindness. Learning from Miss Nardinger's sister, Mrs. Lynn Weep, who was his seat companion, that she was interested and active in Red Cross work, he decided to show his appreciation for Miss Nardinger's thoughtfulness by sending his check for $25 to the Anoka county chapter to the credit of Miss Nardinger.

TO BETTER LIVING TO BETTER FARMING TO VICTORY

THE FOOD supply for hundreds of men may depend on whether the farm equipment in this community is prepared for the grueling months ahead.

There is only one thing to fear. What will happen if you put off reconditioning till spring . . . if you wait for breakdowns in the field to order repairs? The waiting list may be long by that time, while the weeds choke out your crop.

Have all your equipment checked over now! Today is not too soon! Every Allis-Chalmers machine judged "Ready to Roll . . ." qualifies for the red-white-and-blue FARM COMMANDO eagle.

We take special pride in the equipment we have sold, particularly the old-timers. We have watched them put children through school, pay for farms, and save crops year after year. We are standing by them now, in their time of need.

TRAFFIC DEATHS DECLINE 66 PCT. BELOW LAST YEAR

Total of Forty Persons Lose Lives in First Three Months of 1943

Traffic fatalities on Minnesota streets and highways for the first quarter of 1943 have been reduced approximately 66% below the death toll for the same three months of 1942, the state highway department reported today.

Forty persons have been killed in traffic mishaps as compared to 117 in the same period a year ago. However, the highway department emphasized the point that of these 40 people killed in needless traffic accidents, at a time when every ounce of manpower is needed for war power, most of them died as a result of someone's violation of the state's traffic safety laws.

The 40 deaths occurred as a result of 32 accidents. Twenty-seven of the 32 fatal accidents resulted from traffic law violations on the part of either a driver or a pedestrian. In the ultimate analysis, 35 of the 40 people killed, or 87% of the entire death toll, died as a result of someone's traffic offenses. Chief among the violations were improper walking and disregard of traffic signs or signals. Fatalities so far this year were 15 in January, 11 in February, 14 in March, as compared with 1942 figures of 40 in January, 33 in February and 44 in March.

YOU need no special authorization to buy a high-quality used Studebaker Champion, Commander or President. And the savings you'll effect by driving one are substantial, because there's no excess bulk in a Studebaker to overload its tires or overtax its gas supply.

But remember this—the number of used Studebakers available is decreasing daily, due to the growing demand for Studebaker economy and smooth performance.

So get yours now, while there's still a good choice. You'll have a prime cash asset in a used Studebaker should you ever wish to sell it. Our stocks also include good used cars of other popular makes—come in today.

Keep your car up to par with Studebaker service
Drive in frequently and have your car inspected, no matter what make it is. Expert mechanics will do your work quickly and at moderate cost. Don't wait till trouble starts. Let us check your car regularly and "keep it rolling" for Victory.

Studebaker bodies and frames are "built like battleships"—This construction of solid steel rigidly reinforced by steel assures tremendous strength and safety.

The same kind of craftsmanship that goes into Flying Fortress engines—Many of today's Studebaker used cars were built by the same craftsmen who now produce Cyclone engines for the Flying Fortress.

MEAT MARKET ROBBED— NOT MEAT BUT CANDY!

Mankato. — This story reminds one of the tale told about the man named Joe Stink who wanted to change his name to Charley. It seems that last week burglars broke into the Self-Service Meat Market. Now taking the meat shortage into consideration one would think that they would have made away with some nice juicy steaks, but not so. When an account was taken of the stock, it was learned the thieves had stolen $6 in cash—and 10 bars of candy!

The 2nd War Loan Drive Now On!

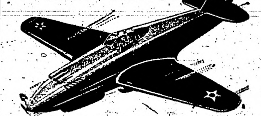
There's a war on now and we're in it 100%—total—all out—from "hell to breakfast." Every Jap, German and Italian is working 100% against us. Every American who isn't giving his all, for the war effort, is a load some other American has to carry. Of course, you have bought bonds and our boys have fought battles, but it takes a lot of both to win a war. The boys'll keep on fighting, if you'll keep on buying to provide equipment they need to do the job.

Keep this straight, when you sign up for war bonds, you're not buying . . . you're lending, to your government, to back up your boys. While we're backing the war with our men, dare we fail to back our men with our money? Just how much do you think money will be worth if we lose this war? Better put it to work now, at interest, through War Bonds which help protect its stability, help shorten the war, help save American lives.

If lending your money to your government is all you're doing toward winning the war, don't you sometimes feel a bit futile . . . don't you get the urge to mortgage your very clothes . . . so that you may lend your very all? Should you feel you have bought to the limit just remember that limit was set by your will . . . not by your capacity. Just ask yourself, could I have raised more to ransom a kidnapped child?

When a fellow American calls on you this week asking that you buy more War Bonds, keep in mind that he is neglecting his job to see you. He is just a volunteer—a fellow citizen who is trying to do his part, in his way, to help the war effort. Because he is enthusiastically in this war program, he will appreciate any bond purchase you may make, and your purchase will be your answer to the question.

HELP BUY A BOMBER WITH BONDS!



Every extra Bond you buy can help BUY A BOMBER . . . a Bomber that will bear the name "Spirit of Thief River Falls"! It will take $175,000 worth of War Bonds to get that bomber into the show.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, co-operating with the Pennington War Bond Committee in the April Second War Bond drive urge everyone to back our Bomber campaign to the limit . . . let's put the name of Thief River Falls as well as our boys names on the fighting front! Let's let the world know that our town is working to the utmost for Victory . . . and let this bomber symbolize that spirit, our spirit, and our will to win. Remember, that $175,000 in War Bonds must be raised to make this campaign a success. And don't forget—War Stamps don't count until they're converted into War Bonds. So buy extra bonds now to do your share in this Victory effort.

Be Sure Your Name is on the War Bond Roll Call!

THEY GIVE THEIR LIVES...YOU LEND YOUR MONEY

GOOD BEER SPELLS... Good Evening

Cool beer in the refrigerator and sandwich fixin's in the pantry bring night-out pleasure to thousands of gas-rationed stay-at-home folks these days. There's something about a glass of beer that makes the simplest evening a festive occasion. Refreshment, mild stimulation, relaxation—all vital to personal well-being during wartime—are promoted by the serving of beer with meals and late evening snacks, and as a neighborly treat when callers drop in.

It's smart to serve beer

The rest-pause that refreshes

Welcome in peace... more welcome in war work

In letter after letter from war plants and factories, managers write in to tell how important they consider Coca-Cola in providing energy-giving refreshment for workers... in helping output and morale. Of course, workers in war plants welcome a rest-pause... with ice-cold Coca-Cola to make it the pause that refreshes.

Ice-cold Coca-Cola quenches thirst. But it goes further to add pure, wholesome refreshment that you feel and enjoy. Made with a finished art, Coca-Cola has a taste all its own... a goodness you always welcome.

Popularity with war-workers has made Coca-Cola the symbol of the rest-pause. And remember, only The Coca-Cola Company produces Coca-Cola.

Letters from plant managers from coast to coast emphasize that the little moment for an ice-cold Coca-Cola means a lot to workers in war plants. It's a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things... a way to turn to refreshment without turning from work.

A breathing spell, a rest-pause and ice-cold Coca-Cola. Contentment comes, when you connect with a Coke.

Your Grocer—
THE MAN who gets the little blue stamps

These stamps stand for extra work and extra trouble without extra pay.

They make his hours longer.

They complicate his business; bring him few, if any, thanks.

These are stamps of a country at war—and in a grocer's hands they stand for work that is just as truly war work as building tanks or planes or guns.

Let's give the man at the food store a great big hand on the way he's taken hold of Food Rationing. He has done much to build and maintain morale.

His help has gone to war.

Limited availability of merchandise has closed out his mass display ideas.

He is juggling cases himself, waiting on the trade, keeping books, even, when occasion demands, loading Mrs. Brown's coaster wagon.

Where plenty of merchandise once invited the buyer, now it's too many customers for what there is to buy.

Where he used to get home when the store was closed, now he's down late at night—mopping up extra details—marking cans, counting stamps—planning, working.

Where he once was in the business of selling food he now is in the business of allotting food.

Yet he hasn't let the tedious extra work show on his face.

If his help complains, he sees that they show their frowns after hours to their fellows and not to the public.

Yes, the cheerfulness of the American grocer is one of the great morale builders of the year.

If he wears a smile under such difficulties—so will his customers.

When you're shaving tomorrow morning, grocer, tell your face-in-the-mirror this—

"There never has been a time when my fellow grocers and I have been more important in our communities and to our country.

"I see a lot of people every day.

"I represent their food supply.

"A whisper from me against Food Rationing would set neighborhood tongues wagging, would build discontent against the government, could cause real harm to our war effort.

"Certainly, it's not fun to be told how much or how little food you can buy.

"But I can make it a little more pleasant by dealing off a smile and help and information as I deal out the rationed food and take in those little blue stamps.

"Sure, I'll help the U. S., but you can bet every ring of my cash register I'll be glad when this war is over and I can go back to selling corn and peas and beans and tomatoes without blue stamps again."

EXPECT STATE SOLONS TO END SESSION TODAY

Controversy over Tax Bills Delays Adjournment of Legislature

GOVERNOR STASSEN SEEKS COMPROMISE

Appropriations for the Next Two Years Aggregate 85 Million

Governor Harold E. Stassen Wednesday night stepped into the controversy raging between the house and senate over a general property tax reduction bill with the result that the chief executive's proposal will keep the legislature in session at least thru this morning.

The legislature, under a ruling of Attorney General J. A. A. Burnquist, cannot pass bills beyond midnight Tuesday, April 20, so clocks in both legislative branches were covered and according to the journal the legislators were "still operating Tuesday night."

Governor Stassen's proposal:

(1) Fix the state real estate levy for the next two years at 5 mills per year.

(2) Suspend the one mill school tax for two years and replenish the money for the two years from the current income tax revenue.

(3) Exempt moneys and credits tax for two years. Replace, to the school districts only, money thereby not collected out of the current income tax received.

(4) The administration to carry the responsibility for working out the 6 mill levy ceiling and its effect on the debt structure, but in working it out, not to use the business managers power to cut any school or education appropriation.

(5) Do not make any cuts in the income tax unless both houses agree, which is not necessary to this program to raise the exemption from $5 to $10 and offset this by the re-negotiation clause and other non-controversial clauses in the income tax bill.

The house tax and appropriations committee went into a joint session to discuss the governor's proposal. Similar meetings were planned by the senate. The recommendation of these committees will be discussed later.

As a result of the deadlock, Governor Stassen's farewell message was delayed. It will be delivered after adjournment sine die.

Appropriations by the legislature for the next two years total $85,875,801, about $6,000,000 more than was appropriated two years ago, according to figures compiled Wednesday.

A major increase is a rise of about three million in the amount appropriated for education, with $2,500,000 for veterans relief and $1,025,000 for airport developments accounting for most of the remainder of the rise.

STATE MANPOWER CHIEF ADDRESSES C AND C THURSDAY

George A. Selke Thinks Farm Labor Supply Adequate for Spring Work

At a well attended meeting of the Civic and Commerce association last Thursday evening in the Palm Garden Cafe, George A. Selke, area director of the War Manpower Commission in Minnesota, discussed the activities of his agency. He was introduced by Supt. Morris Bye.

Stating that agriculture has been given priority in its claim on labor, Mr. Selke expressed the belief that the labor supply will be adequate for putting in the crop, and he voiced a hope for a good growing season so that the nation's food needs may be met.

He stated that many more women will have to be trained to replace men in industry now being called into the armed forces. As the situation stands today, he added, boys and girls ages 15 to 17 should continue their education.

He closed his address by urging that every effort be made to maintain the home front and keep up civilian morale.

Joint Lutheran Rites Scheduled Good Friday

The closing of business places in the city during the hours of the Good Friday service conducted in the Auditorium Friday from 1:30 to 3 jointly by the pastors of First Lutheran church, Zion church and Trinity church will again this year make possible a wide attendance at this traditional local observance of the day.

Special music by members of the participating churches, congregational singing, with Mrs. Mildred Engen Hamilton at the piano, of the hymns of Christ's passion, and twenty-minute sermons by the three pastors will compose the order of service.

The theme from St. John 12:21, "We Would See Jesus," will form the basis of the meditations of Rev. Aner Bloom, vice-pastor of First Lutheran church; Rev. E. L. Tungseth of Zion church; and Rev. G. S. Thompson of Trinity church. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

In behalf of the pastors, Rev. G. S. Thompson expressed appreciation to the proprietors of local business places for their cooperation, as in past years, in closing during the hours of 1 to 3 o'clock while the services are in progress.

MINNIE LEAVITT, RETIRED TEACHER, DIES ON TUESDAY

Former Lincoln High School Teacher and Librarian for 17 Years

The Thief River Falls community lost one of its educational and spiritual leaders early Tuesday morning in the death of Miss Minnie S. Leavitt, retired Lincoln high school librarian who passed away at a local hospital following a lingering illness at the age of 66.

Born in Hicksville, Ohio, February 24, 1877, Miss Leavitt came as an infant to Minnesota with her parents, living first near Morris, and later near Litchfield, where she was graduated from high school with the rank of valedictorian.

After teaching in rural schools, Miss Leavitt attended the Mankato normal school, graduating in 1901. She then taught for ten years before entering the University of Minnesota, from which she was graduated in 1913.

Then followed a period of 24 years of uninterrupted work in high school, 17 of which were in Thief River Falls. During four summers she studied to advance her skill in school library work, serving for seven years as school librarian here until her resignation in 1937, since when she has continued to make her home in this city.

During her period of residence, Miss Leavitt was a member and faithful worker in the Presbyterian and later the Community church, serving on its official board for many years. She centered her interest, however, in the Sunday school, serving as superintendent, teacher, secretary and teacher training instructor, and she was presented with an award for 17 years attendance.

An active member of the WCTU, she held the offices of president, institute director and treasurer, and while engaged in teaching she served as scientific temperance instructor, the school winning many honors in this connection. She also had served district institute director and press director.

Surviving her death are three brothers, Edward of Spokane, Washington; Freeman of St. Paul and Thomas of Sauk Centre.

Funeral services are being conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Community church, with Rev. S. S. Olafsson officiating. The WCTU chorus will sing. Interment will be at Eden Valley, Minnesota.

More Than 200 Brooder Houses Added by Local Poultry Men This Year

Testifying to a noteworthy increase in the poultry and turkey-raising industry in the Thief River Falls area this year, a total of more than 200 brooder houses have been bought or erected by tributary farmers during the past few months. Of the total number, approximately fifty have been constructed in local lumberyards. The contemplated marked expansion of output by poultry men is inspired by mounting wartime demands for poultry products, which, at present at least, have not been placed under rationing restrictions.

Roy Graff Killed by Exploding Tire in the Hartz Warehouse

Roy Graff, 33, employed the past six months as mechanic helper at the L. B. Hartz Stores warehouse in this city, died in a local hospital last Friday afternoon a few minutes after sustaining fatal injuries while removing a tire from a huge dual-wheel truck in the warehouse.

Unknown to Graff, the lock ring on the inside tire had come loose, so that when he had loosened the bolts on the outer tire, it was driven off the wheel with great force, knocking Graff's head against a concrete pier behind him. County Sales $221,259 in War Bond Campaign

City Sales of $160,050.75 in Insures Quota Being Attained

TOTAL IS INCREASED BY LARGE PURCHASES

Norden Township Makes Fine Record in Doubling Its Quota

A tabulation of the actual purchases made during the second war loan drive in Pennington county showed purchases on Wednesday morning of $221,259.75, it was announced today by Paul A. Lundgren, county war finance chairman. This amount coupled with two lucky wind-falls has so far as records are concerned, completed the county's quota of $220,000.00.

The city council Monday evening voted to purchase for the city of Thief River Falls $30,000 in Series C bonds, which swelled the city's pledge to $160,050.75, leaving only $14,949.25 for the city to go in order to raise their individual quota of $175,000, insuring credit to the city for the purchase of a medium sized bomber.

The other wind-fall came in the form of a letter to G. A. Frahm, manager of the local Montgomery Ward Store, wherein the home office notified him that his organization had purchased $50,000 in bonds at the Federal Reserve bank, to be placed to the credit of Pennington county. Since this was a general county credit, it could not be allocated to any municipal subdivision comprising Pennington County, and is reported in the tabulation below as an unallocated purchase.

"It will help swell the county's total," said chairman Lundgren, "but since we are working in Pennington County on individual quotas, it is urged that the drive continue until our individual quotas have been made. After all Pennington county should not boast of making its quota unless we raise the money here at home and the committee urges the solicitation to go on until we have raised the $220,000 for the county in our own right."

"So far as the city of Thief River Falls is concerned," he added, "it still has $14,949.25 to raise to qualify the city as the purchaser of the medium-sized bomber. There should be no question but

Miss Alma Gilbertson Tells of Having Purse with $1,610 Stolen

Most of the pleasure she expected to derive from a visit to Minneapolis vanished abruptly late Tuesday for Miss Alma Gilbertson of this city when someone stole her purse, containing $1,610 in cash and valuables, while she shopped in a loop store.

Most of the bonds are non-negotiable, Miss Gilbertson believed, although she had indorsed one postal savings bond of $50.

The purse was found a short time later at Seventh street and Hennepin avenue, where a pedestrian dug it out of a metal refuse box.

Police questioned him but released him when he was found to have no connection with the case.

Easter AT PENNEY'S
THIS YEAR IT'S SMART IF IT'S USEFUL

Don't overlook the importance of jacket and skirt outfits this year. They're amazingly flexible! In matching colors, they're suits. In contrasts, they're sports outfits. A dressy blouse makes them dressy — a tailored one transforms them into business garb—and a sweater makes them good for school or sports wear.

And above all, they take the every-day strain off your hard-to-replace dressier clothes.

That's why jackets and skirts play such an important role this Easter—when only the USEFUL is smart for wartime wardrobes!

BY SENATOR W. E. DAHLQUIST

In the hustle and bustle of the closing days of the legislature there isn't much time for grinding out letters. This past week the work day has started at 8:00 o'clock in the morning and has continued until ten at night. We adjourned at five o'clock Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning was a holiday. From one o'clock on however I worked with a committee assigned to the task of adjusting differences in House and Senate appropriation bills.

In adjusting differences in appropriation bills one of the arguments developed over the question of financing relief costs. The state has made a practice of issuing certificates of indebtedness to pay these bills and I can see no good reason for continuing such a practice under present conditions. Relief is a form of current expense that never should be financed by borrowing. As I see it the only kind of borrowing that is justified by any unit of government is for permanent improvements. We finally compromised on this question by authorizing levies spread over the next three years to pay the relief bills of the next two years. That's better than postponing the day of reckoning to ten years later and considering the fact that the state will greatly reduce its debt during the next two years, besides setting up reserves, the picture is quite encouraging.

All of the bills in which I have had a personal interest are either disposed of or are in position where they should be reached without difficulty by the end of the session. The one providing for larger contributions from the state in the support of aid to dependent children has gone to conference but we are practically agreed upon the changes that will be satisfactory to both houses. By these changes the state and the counties will divide whatever share of this cost that is not paid by the federal government. It was thought necessary to provide new language for the bill because the federal government does not in all cases pay one-half. Under the new arrangement the county will pay about one-fourth instead of the present one-third of these costs.

Another bill that appropriates money to pay the equivalent of school taxes on rural credit lands has been approved by both houses and with the acceptance of a few amendments will be adopted. School districts in our county will receive some over three thousand dollars of this appropriation. From now on there will be more of this kind of relief.

Final action has not been taken yet on the appropriations for pullorum testing of turkeys but both houses have agreed on the amount asked for and final passage is assured. These appropriations will give the Livestock and Sanitary Board $4,000 a year for field work and the University $6,000 a year for laboratory expense. These are the amounts asked for by the state turkey growers association and should be ample to give us a good start in the eradication of this disease. Doc. Billings appeared before the finance and appropriation committees in support of these requests and apparently he told a convincing story.

It is not likely that there is going to be much tax relief come out of the present session. A reduction of 25% in the income tax was voted by the Senate but the House had other ideas and the House probably will have its way. The Senate bill provided that the monies and credits tax could be used as an offset in paying income taxes and it appears to me that this is a far more serious threat to school tax funds than a straight reduction. It certainly would not be in the best interests of the rural areas which lean so heavily upon income taxes for school aids. This provision, however, probably will not survive the conferences.

Members of the Senate have been secretly envious of the House voting machine for a long time and this week took quick action to provide for themselves these time saving devices. In less than an hour a bill was passed through both houses providing for the installation before the next session. That shows how fast the legislative mill really can work when there is a will to move fast.

On this Monday night I do not know how long we will work but they tell me that tomorrow night will be an all-night party for sure. And so with only a few minutes left before we get under way, this is about as much of a yarn as I am going to be able to spin this week. I have become quite accustomed to cat-napping in a chair but I find that there is no substitute for the kind of sleep you get on the horizontal. If I survive the next few days I will be home at the end of the week, probably with baggy trousers, a long beard, shattered nerves and a sharp tongue. Please don't start arguing with me the first few days.

Random thought — Remember the good old days when we didn't have to bother our heads about such things as points and quotas?

Now comes the season of the year when the farmer gets that seedy feeling.

The girl with a new spring outfit presumably will get more out of the Easter services.

Meatless days are coming, but they'll still be better than eatless days.

Wonder how we'll be able to tell when the end of summer is approaching this year without the county fair in August for a marker.

It is a good thing for war commentators, says Billy Noonan, that they aren't soaked for excess prophet taxes.

That Supt. Morris Bye stands as high among schoolmen thruout the state as among the home folks is indicated by his well deserved elevation to the presidency of the Minnesota Council of School Executives.

Buying war bonds is an investment and doesn't come under the head of what Prime Minister Winston Churchill refers to as "Blood, sweat and tears".

"Eat for necessity, not for pleasure", is good advice in these days of food rationing, and it comes from old Ben Franklin.

With numerous terms of court being cancelled for lack of business, the district judges seem to be having an easy time of it these days.

Judging by the over subscription of Red Cross quotas in Northwest counties, the average American citizen still has his heart in the right place.

Red-faced, indeed, must have been that radio announcer who Monday noon introduced Commentator Baukhage as H. V. Kaltenborn.

Little Falls—Operating the LaFond Grocery for the past 18 years, Mrs. E. A. LaFond and her son, Lester, have averaged 15 hours daily, including Sundays and holidays, in their store with but one exception. One holiday in that time was spent in Minneapolis where they attended a league baseball game.

SMILEY

4-H Meeting

The Bruno Beiswenger home was the scene of the first meeting this spring of the Silverton-Smiley 4-H club members. The snows, the rains, and the cold have prevented the young ones from gathering before, hence they had a grand get-together Friday evening and a splendid and instructive program was enjoyed by both the young and old. Group singing of "America" and the "Ploughing Song" began the program; a reading by Betty Lou Beaton; a song by Delores Roese; a reading by Donald Knutson; Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, the adult leader, gave an instructive lesson on gardening. She very cleverly drew the young members into the various channels of interest concerning helping Mom and Dad with the gardening this summer. Naturally enough, those kids did not think a garden should be so "awfully" big, too many weeds for their little selves to pick; Helen Hardisty gave a lovely violin solo accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Frank Hardisty; County Agent Palmer was there and gave a short talk; the program ended the singing of "rounds" with the audience divided into groups of three. This was a merriment. A number of laughable games were played before lunch. Mrs. Bruno Beiswenger served a simple but delicious repast. The membership of this 4-H club is growing amazingly fast. The president is Helen Hardisty; the vice president is Donald Knutson; the secretary is Betty Lou Beaton; the treasurer is Margery Christenson; the reporter is Gertrude Anderson. At the business session, the young folks decided to buy a twenty-five dollar war bond with the money they have in the treasury. The next meeting will be the second Friday in May which is May 14. The topic for discussion will be Poultry and Home Improvement. The Roll Call will be answered with each one telling what he or she is doing to improve their homes or what he or she is doing to help care for the poultry. The adult leaders request that each boy and girl must write down on a slip of paper the answers to the roll call in order to read it off to save time. Margery Christenson and Donald Knutson are in charge of the program for next time. Betty Lou Beaton and Doris Helgeland will arrange for the recreation and the Andersons will serve the lunch.

Obert Pederson returned last week from Berkeley, Calif. where he spent the winter months being employed at a defense plant. He will assist his father, Ole Pederson, with the farming.

The Herman Rude's are moving back to the Ringstrand farm where they lived last fall. They have been running the farm of Joe Gangness, which was the former Freeman Allen farm.

A little guest at the Willis Roese home these days is Master Darrel Chapman of Silverton. He is a nephew of Mrs. Roese and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Chapman.

Tuesday saw the arrival home of Mrs. Charlotte Anderson and daughter Ina who have spent over a year at Hot Springs, Ark. trying to help the ailing health of Mrs. Anderson. They rode all the way from Hot Springs by car with Dr. and Mrs. Albertson of Crookston.

Birthday Party

Miss Dianne Lendobeja was the young honored guest at a family gathering at the Lloyd Johnson home near St. Hilaire Sunday afternoon. It was her eighth birthday and Dianne made merry all afternoon with the gang of her little cousins of her relatives who were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jacobson, Dianne's grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jeanette and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jorde and child; Mrs. Ada Jorde and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, Dianne's parents; and Benhard Jacobson. A regular feast was enjoyed with the center of attraction being the lovely birthday cake baked by Dianne's cousin, Olive Jorde.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Helgeland and Bob Newton made a business trip to Highlanding Tuesday.

Arlene Ranum was home from Warren Saturday night. Her folks, the John Ranum's, took her back Sunday. Miss Arlene is in training as a Nurse's Aid at a hospital there.

Sunday visitors at the Al Samuelson home were Mr. Samuelson's mother, Mrs. T. Samuelson, his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Sletten Olson and children, Carol and Julius, all of Warren.

Miss Gunda Engen isn't teaching the Hiawatha school anymore. She is now employed at the wholesale house in town and her sister, Mrs. Chris Klerk is substituting her teaching job for the rest of the term.

Mrs. Palmer Wold and youngsters are now settled nicely with Mr. Wold at Rockford, Ill., where he is employed at an electric plant.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hardisty has been spending the past three weeks at her son's home, the Frank Hardistys.

Mrs. Adam Lendobeja's sister, Mrs. Lloyd Johnson returned to her family on her birthday last Monday. Mrs. Johnson had quite a trip. She accompanied her husband's mother, Mrs. Swan Johnson, to her home at Turlock, California, after an extended visit here with her sons. Mrs. Lloyd left Turlock after a short stay there and went to visit her brother-in-law and family, the Oliver Johnsons at San Francisco. From there she went to Seattle and Spokane where she visited relatives before coming home. She had a wonderful time but was only too glad to get back to Minnesota.

Pfc. Gota Anderson is now located at the Army Air Base at Salinas, Calif.

Pfc. Arthur Newton spent last week with his mother, Mrs. A. B. Newton and other relatives. He returned Sunday night to Camp Barkeley, Texas where he is stationed.

Bennie (Walter) Helgeland is now at Pryor, Montana and is in farming again with his uncle, Andrew Helgeland.

by Joe Marsh

Grandma Hoskins knows a lot about history—but when we asked her where the first brewery was built in America, she wouldn't take sides.

"You see," says Grandma, "wherever the colonists settled, one of the first things they thought about was food and beer ... In fact, one reason why the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock was because the Mayflower was runnin' short of beer."

Well, that was a new one on us, but Grandma showed it to us—just as it was written in the Mayflower's log.

And it seems that all through our early American history beer sort of tempered the hardships and helped to make us a tolerant, moderate people.

From where I sit, beer is the American drink of moderation and friendliness—kind of a symbol of our personal liberty.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear father, son and brother, Joe F. Vakoch who died April 20, 1939.

Surrounded by friends, we are lonesome,
In midst of pleasure we are blue.
A smile on our face, and a heart-ache,
Always thinking, daddy dear, of you;
A loving son true and kind,
What a beautiful memory you left behind.
An upright and truthful brother in all your ways,
A wonderful character to the end of your days.
Your voice we love to recall
For no one on earth could take your place.

Dearly loved and sadly missed by his children, father and sisters, Alvin, Jana and baby Joe Vakoch, Mr. Joseph Vakoch, Mrs. Frank Hovejsh, Mrs. Joe Cernousek, Mrs. Alex Kosanda. 16p

4H CLUB WORKERS GO TO NORTHWEST SCHOOL JUNE 7-9

All Valley Counties to Attend Camp Together This Summer

The thirty-second annual 4-H club week at the Northwest School, Crookston, has been set for June 7, 8, and 9. It was decided at a recent conference of representatives from the state 4-H club department and the Northwest School to have club members from all of the Red River Valley counties at one three-day camp.

The program for the camp will stress the production, conservation, and preservation of foods. Instruction will also be given in all 4-H club projects with special training work for junior and adult leaders.

Competition between music and dramatic groups from the various counties will again be a feature of 4-H club week. The recreational program adopted in 1941 will be followed again this year.

Regional "Shenanigans"

Only eighteen of the eighth region's high schools were represented at the meeting held here Saturday, in which some drastic revisions in district and regional basketball procedure were made. First, it was decided that the 1944 regional basketball tourney, which is slated to be played here, will be an eight team tournament and extend over four days. Four of the teams in the regional will be the respective district champions of the class 'A' schools; while the other four teams would be the district champions of the 'B' schools. The 'A' classification will be assigned to schools having an enrollment of 375 pupils, or more, in the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th grades; with the 'B' classification being given to the schools with enrollments below 175 pupils.

Another innovation was adopted when the meeting decided to arrange the regional tournament pairings in such a manner that the region's 'A' school champion will play the region's 'B' school champion in the regional finals for the right to represent the region in the state tournament. Setting up an artificial draw in the regional tourney, so that 'A' and 'B' teams will be separated, seems like a far-fetched arrangement. With the 'A' teams restricted to one bracket and the 'B' teams to another bracket you would have, in most of the instances, a lop-sided finals game.

The classifications are to be based on the 1942-43 school enrollments and while these figures haven't been compiled yet, it appears that Roseau will be the only class 'A' school in district 32, and so would be automatically sent into the regional tournament. In district 31, Thief River Falls, East Grand Forks, Warren, Crookston and Red Lake Falls, will be called class 'A' schools, and they will have to work out a district tournament on a five-team basis. Bemidji, in district 29, will only have to get by Cass Lake and Park Rapids to enter the regional. Bagley, Fosston, McIntosh, Ada, Fertile, and Mahnomen will probably be the class 'A' teams in district 30, and they, too, will have to revamp their district tournament set-up.

Frankly, I thought that our district and regional basketball program was operating smoothly, and the fact that Climax, a 'B' school, knocked off the district title this year, proved that the smaller schools had a chance.

Golf

The local golf course will be opened for the season on May 1st. George Gall, who kept the course in top-top shape last year, will again be employed as groundskeeper.

The only thing certain about this year's golf season is that there will be a new first flight champion. The present champion is a "morning glory" type of player and will not be able to repeat his win of last year.

Back from Guadalcanal

Bill Gady, who played wing on the local team in 1940-41, the year that the Thieves, under George Beverley, won their last States-Dominion hockey league title, and who is now a first class private in the Marines, has been spending several weeks here, convalescing from injuries received while on active duty in Guadalcanal. Bill's company moved into the island just as the Mantanikau river campaign was ending, and remained there until they forced the evacuation of the island. A shell concussion temporarily blinded Bill, he's still dim-sighted in one eye, and he was hospitalized for some time in New Zealand before being transferred to the base hospital at San Diego. And while "down there", Bill managed to pick up a touch of malaria, too.

Like a Champion

Borghild Holden didn't leave much doubt about the outcome of the women's handicap singles bowling tournament Sunday, for she turned in a fine 713-pin total. Bowling on alleys 1 and 2, she posted games of 181 and 168; and then moving over to alleys 3 and 4, she added games of 184 and 150, for a 683-pin actual count. During the four-game series she picked up 25 spares, marked up 7 strikes, ran into only 2 splits, and "blew" 8 frames.

WEEK OF MAY 2-8 IS PROCLAIMED AS 'CLEANUP WEEK'

State Board of Health Urges Attention to Stassen Proclamation

Governor Harold E. Stassen has proclaimed May 2nd to May 8th as "Clean-up Week" and also as "Conservation Week". The state board of health calls upon local officials, the press, civic organizations and citizens to observe these days and aid in the removal and disposal of all accumulations of refuse and filth, and in the correction of other insanitary conditions.

State Health Regulation 228 requires the local health officer of each city and village to make during the month of May a thorough sanitary inspection of the municipality and before June 1st present a written report on it together with recommendations to the council and send a copy to the state board of health before July 1st.

Regulation 229 says that the health officer shall publish in the local newspaper or by means of posters an order calling upon citizens to clean all yards, vaults, cesspools, and remove manure and other refuse on or before a certain date; that in cases where such order is not obeyed he shall then serve individual notices upon the owners or occupants of the premises concerned. Section 5379 of the statutes provides that the owner of the property shall be taxed for the cost of abating nuisance conditions in cases where such orders are not complied with.

Bank Debits for March in This City Increase 11 Per Cent over 1942

The volume of bank debits in Thief River Falls for the month of March, 1943 indicates that business activity was 11 per cent above the same 1942 month, while figures for this year to date showed an 8 per cent increase when compared with the same first quarter of 1942. These bank debit figures, released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis today, represent the dollar values of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts to pay for goods, services, debts, etc. Debit totals for a locality are considered a good indicator of general business volume and reflect farmers' cash income and government expenditures to cover payrolls and purchase war materials, in addition to general trade volume.

Legislature Disposes of Mining Tax Issue; Retains Present Levy

The state tax on the occupation of iron mining and the iron ore royalty tax, always big questions in Minnesota's tax program, were disposed of this past week when the state senate voted to continue the two taxes at a rate of 10½% for the next two years.

The house had taken similar action previously and readily repassed the bill, a step made necessary because of new provisions inserted in the measure while it was under consideration in the senate.

The senate placed a new section in the bill increasing the allowances made for labor costs in high cost mines with the hope that it will prove further stimulus for utilization of low grade ores and also included provisions for a commission to act with the state iron range rehabilitation commissioner in furtherance of the range rehabilitation program.

FOR SALE RUBBER 1¢ a pound You come get it at Singapore

The world price of rubber was 22¼ cents a pound before the treacherous Japs seized the East Indies and obtained control of the rich rubber supplies of the Far East.

Today they are offering the rubber for ¼ of a cent to 1 cent a pound . . . with no takers, even by Nippon's Axis partners, because the United Nations blockade has cut off shipping from Singapore.

As an American whose driving has been coupon-rationed . . . not because of lack of gasoline . . . but by a serious shortage of rubber . . . be thankful for the blockade which has made the Jap bargain sale of rubber a flop. Be thankful too that there is no U.S. blockade on research.

Long before the war, the Phillips research laboratories, always engaged in seeking new and better things from petroleum, was learning the secrets of synthetic rubber and 100 octane aviation motor fuel.

This knowledge and Phillips great resources of raw materials are now teamed in the war effort.

Our part in winning the war is to expand enormously the production of synthetic rubber and 100 octane aviation motor fuel. Your part is to reduce driving and thus conserve rubber, until midsummer 1944 . . . the date on which Rubber Director William H. Jeffers predicts that with your help ". . . the American people will be over the hump of the rubber problem."

When victory comes, when you can again PHILL-UP with PHILLIPS to your heart's content, we confidently promise you that today's concentration on petroleum research will bring you almost undreamed of improvement in Phillips 66 Gasoline.

Local Teacher Weds Ensign at Virginia

Miss Elizabeth Fulton, daughter of Mrs. William Fulton of Virginia was married to Ensign James Cosgrave Harris, United States Naval Reserve, son of Mrs. George Harris of LeSueur. Vows were exchanged Wednesday afternoon March 31 at the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. Ernest E. Loft officiating. Miss Johanna Bratush, of Eveleth, was maid of honor and only attendant of the bride. Walter A. Pike of Virginia, attended Ensign Harris as best man. William E. Monat and Charles Codding were ushers. Arrangements of white flowers, ferns, palms and tall white tapers in armed candelabra decorated the chancel for the exchange of vows.

Mrs Conrad played a program of organ nuptial music preceding the service and the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the bride entered the church. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played as the recessional. Mrs. L. L. Michels vocal soloist, sang "Because" by Guy de Hardelot and "Heming" Del Diego during the ceremony. The bride given away in marriage by R. M. Cornwell, of Eveleth, a life long friend, was gowned in white satin styled with sweetheart neckline, fitted sleeves which extended into points at the wrists, long basque and full skirt flowing into a slight train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held in place with a tiara. As something borrowed she wore a pearl and diamond brooch belonging to Mrs. Cornwell. The all-white bridal bouquet was arranged of orchids, gardenias, and bovardia. The reception which followed the nuptials took place in the church parlors. The brides cake flanked with arrangements of spring flowers in pastel pink and white, formed the bridal table centerpiece. Mrs. Cresswell presided at the reception and was assisted by Mrs. W. A. Pike, Mrs. Harry Hawkinson, Mrs. W. J. Keene, Miss Lois Lindsey, Miss Billie Lu Keene and Miss Barbara Rape. For going away the bride wore a beige dressmaker suit with coffee brown accessories. Following the wedding trip the bride returned to her teaching duties at Newfolden, and Ensign Harris reported to active duty in the Pacific. Miss Fulton is a graduate of the Virginia high school, Junior College and Macalester College in Minneapolis. Ensign Harris, also a Macalester College graduate, received his naval training at Columbia University in New York City.

THE 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

Winner Take All!

There is one stark and simple fact about war which you had better get straight . . . and quickly, too

THERE IS NO SECOND PLACE IN A WAR—IT'S EITHER WIN OR LOSE!

This war is being fought for tremendous stakes . . .

. . . for your life and your liberty.

. . . for your church and your children.

. . . for your freedom and your future.

And it's WINNER TAKE ALL. Don't forget that for a minute.

The winner will dictate whether tomorrow you shall be a free citizen of a free world, or a helpless serf to a "master race."

The winner will dictate whether you shall live and prosper under the Four Freedoms, or toil hopelessly in the darkness of a "New Order."

The winner will dictate . . . because the winner takes all.

The winner takes all. All you own, all you hold dear.

The winner is being decided right now . . . today . . . this very minute . . . on battlefields all over the world. Will you stand idly by . . . or throw all your weight on our side?

The weight of mighty tanks and planes. The weight of thousands of guns and millions of shells. The weight of billions of dollars . . . 13 billions which your country asks you to lend during this Drive.

Your country wants to borrow every idle dollar you have—every dollar except what you need for the barest necessities of life.

You'll have to give up some luxury or comfort which was dear to your heart. You'll have to postpone some pleasure which you had been eagerly anticipating.

But what of it?

Your sons and brothers and husbands are dying out there . . . fighting your fight. Surely it is no sacrifice to lend your dollars while they are giving their lives.

They need your help. They need the weapons your money can buy. If one of the War Loan volunteers calls on you . . . greet him with open pocketbook. Remember, Uncle Sam's goal is 13 billion dollars in April.

Don't wait to be asked. Go to your nearest bank, investment dealer, broker, Post Office or issuing agency and lay your money on the line. Remember it's an investment you're making—an investment that pays a good return and insures a happier future for you and your loved ones.

So lend up to the limit.

You'll sleep better for it.

There are 7 different types of U. S. Government securities—choose the ones best suited for you:

FARM FRONT STARTS SPRING DRIVE

The farm front is starting the biggest spring drive of all time — to produce the tremendous amount of food required to win the war.

The telephones will be on hand to speed every part of the job. Everyone's essential wartime calls will go through more promptly if every farm line and party line user will:

1. Not make too many calls in succession.
2. Keep conversations brief.

WHAT'S 15-FOOT TUMBLE TO A TWO-YEAR-OLD?

Aitkin — Two-year-old Charles Walter Heineman thought scarcely nothing of the tumble he took from the second-story window at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Heineman recently. Playing with his four-year-old sister upstair he leaned against the screen on an open window which loosened and let him fall 15 feet to the ground. All Charlie minded about the fall was a sore thumb. But he couldn't do it again and get right up and walk off.

BOSSY DOES HER BIT

Bricelyn.—Evidently a cow living at the Arthur Tennyson farm has heard of the meat shortage and really understands what it means. She has been encouraged to really do something about it for she gave birth to four calves, two bulls and two heifers. Although the four were normal in every respect, they died soon after birth. Several months ago this remarkable cow gave birth to twins—making a total of six calves in one year, to her credit.

The Nazi radio says it prefers the word "abdomen" to the blunter phrase, "underbelly of Europe," as descriptive of the Mediterranean shores.

Honestly now, just what did you do today for your country?

Sure, you're an American and proud of it and you'll put up your dukes to anyone who questions your loyalty, but : : :

Honestly now, just what did you do today for your country?

There's a war on now and we're in it 100%—total—all out—from "bell to breakfast." Every Jap, German and Italian is working 100% against us. Every American who isn't giving his all, for the war effort, is a load some other American has to carry. Of course, you have bought bonds and our boys have fought battles, but it takes a lot of both to win a war. The boys'll keep on fighting, if you'll keep on buying to provide equipment they need to do the job : : :

Honestly now, just what did you do today for your country?

Keep this straight, when you sign up for war bonds, you're not buying : : : you're lending, to your government, to back up your boys. While we're backing the war with our men, dare we fail to back our men with our money? Just how much do you think money will be worth if we lose this war? Better put it to work now, at interest, through War Bonds which help protect its stability, help shorten the war, help save American lives : : :

Honestly now, just what did you do today for your country?

When a fellow American calls on you this week asking that you buy more War Bonds, remember that he is neglecting his job to see you. He is just a volunteer—a fellow citizen who is trying to do his part, in his way, to help the war effort. ED THYE TAKES OVER DUTIES OF GOVERNORSHIP

Succeeds Harold E. Stassen, Who Enters Career in U. S. Navy

SIMPLE CEREMONY IN MINNESOTA CAPITOL

Lieutenant Governor Thye Pledges Best Efforts in Office

Lieutenant Commander Harold E. Stassen left Minnesota for naval service late Tuesday, bearing good wishes of the people of the state, expressed to him by Gov. Ed Thye, Stassen's successor as the state's chief executive.

Replying to remarks with which Stassen surrendered office in ceremonies in the state capitol rotunda, a few hours earlier, Thye declared:

"Lieutenant Commander Harold Stassen, may I simply and humbly respond to the best of my ability. I will carry on. With the help of God and the people of Minnesota, we will not fail, and on behalf of the people of Minnesota, may I say to you our best wishes and our prayers to go with you.

"Godspeed to a great guardian, a governor for all the people, rich or poor, a real man."

Thus ended the precedent-shattering administration of a man who entered the governor's office at age 31—the nation's youngest governor — devised and brought about enactment of laws which revolutionized state methods of handling dozens of problems, guided a political neophyte to the Republican party's presidential nomination, and put himself in the forefront of those seeking permanent composition of international differences which breed war.

The ceremony with which Stassen surrendered his office to Thye took place in an atmosphere fitting times of war.

State guardsmen lined capitol corridors as Stassen walked from his office to the building's rotunda.

Major General Ellard A. Walsh, the state's adjutant general, spoke into a microphone as Stassen approached: "His excellency, the governor of Minnesota."

To Thye, waiting in the rotunda, Stassen said:

"Lt. Gov. Ed Thye, I herewith sign and present to you, as the duly elected lieutenant governor of Minnesota, my resignation as governor of the state. As you know, I leave to enter into active service in the United States navy.

"I therefore place in your hands the executive authority over the state as provided in the constitution."

It was after he had taken the oath of office, administered by Henry M. Gallagher, chief justice of the state supreme court, in the presence of other members of the supreme bench, that Thye addressed his parting words to Stassen.

Purchases Total $311,908.25 Far in Excess of Its $230,000 Quota

THIEF RIVER FALLS IS WELL OVER QUOTA

All but Four Municipalities in Pennington Now Have Attained Goal

According to reports received by Paul A. Lundgren, county war bond chairman, on Wednesday morning from state headquarters, Pennington county has now attained the distinction of being the second county in the state to attain its $230,000 bond quota. The total purchases for the county as of that day reached $311,908.25, with all but four municipalities meeting or exceeding their quotas.

The city of Thief River Falls has not only raised the $175,000 necessary to qualify the city as the purchaser of a medium sized bomber, but it has also assured that that bomber will carry a sizeable bomb load, as the city's quota now is oversubscribed by $17,340.50 for a total to its credit of $192,340.50.

It was not until Sunday morning when the final tabulations of the Saturday sales were made that the committee learned that both the city and the county had oversubscribed their quota. This news, said Mr. Lundgren, coming as it did at a time when information was released with respect to Japanese atrocities, was reassuring news that the people of this county not only had faith in their government, but also that they understand their spiritual values which actuates us as a nation in this conflict.

A tabulation of the bond purchases for each municipality is as follows:

Township	Quota	Total Purchased
Black River	$ 2,200	$ [illegible]
Bray	2,000	[illegible]
Cloverleaf	1,200	1,674.75
Deer Park	1,900	[illegible]
Goodridge	900	1,817.75
Hickory	1,200	[illegible]
Highlanding	[illegible]	[illegible]
Kratka	3,400	[illegible]
Mayfield	1,000	1,940.75

LEGISLATURE IN FINAL SESSION LAST THURSDAY

Reach Amicable Settlement of Controversial Tax Measures

11 MILLION TAX CUT SEEN FOR BIENNIUM

State Tax on Moneys, Credits Is Suspended for Two Years

Working out an amicable settlement after several days in which a deadlock seemed imminent, members of the Minnesota legislature wound up their 53rd annual session this past week by enacting a tax program calling for tax reductions of $11,500,000 for the next biennium.

To accomplish this the legislature ordered:

Reduction of 3 mills in the state property tax for 1943, and 3.5 mills for 1944, from the 9 mills that now prevails, to ease the burden on farms and homes.

Increase in the allowance for dependents from $5 to $10 in computing state income taxes to reduce the burden on families in the low income groups.

Suspension for two years of the state tax on moneys and credits, long regarded as inequitable, particularly when the state has an income tax to tax the earnings from moneys.

Reductions from this program for 1943, first year in the coming biennium, would amount to $5,450,000 and would include:

1. Cut in state taxes on property, $2,200,000.

2. Cut in income tax through increased allowance for dependents.

3. Suspension of moneys and credits tax collections, $2,800,000.

In the second year of the biennium, total reductions in taxes under the program approved would be greater, amounting to $6,050,000. The legislature decided that the state tax on property could be reduced to six mills for the first year of the biennium and to 5.5 mills for the second year.

Members of the two houses were ready to break up in disagreement over the tax program Tuesday night. With messages from conference committees on the desks in both houses reporting disagreement ready to be read, Governor Harold E. Stassen stepped into the controversy and called in not only members of the conference committees but leaders of both houses. Out of the conferences and the suggestions made grew the compromise program adopted.

To make possible the reductions outlined with hardship to no one, the conference committee recommended and the two houses approved a number of important changes:

1. Decision was made to suspend the one-mill tax on property for schools for two years and replenish the amount from proceeds of the income tax.

2. Arrangements were made so that suspension of the moneys and credits tax would cause no hardship on Minnesota school districts. Each school district under the plan adopted is to receive an amount from the state income tax equivalent to what it received from the moneys and credits tax for 1942. Cities, villages and counties would be given authority under the act to levy, if they so desired, an amount equivalent to what they would have received under the old moneys and credits tax. Under the law that has prevailed, the state gets one-sixth; counties, one-sixth; municipalities, one-third, and schools, one-third of the moneys and credits tax.

Reduction of the state tax on property and abolition of the moneys and credits tax long have been goals of tax authorities in Minnesota. Governor Stassen strongly urged a cut in the state property tax at the opening of the present legislative session, while students of taxation long have contended that the tax on moneys and credits should have been abolished when the state income tax was adopted, providing as it did, an equitable method of taxation of earnings from intangibles. With an expected surplus of more than $11,000,000 in the state income tax as of June 30th and $5,000,000 or more in the general revenue fund, the legislators decided, the two objectives long favored could be realized. As a matter of fact, arrangements were made to take $2,000,000 of the present surplus in the general revenue fund and set it aside for payment of debt in advance of maturity.

The final week was a busy one in legislative circles. Aside from the tax program other important steps taken were:

Adoption of a program, long advocated by Governor Stassen, setting aside $1,250,000 to be used to pay tuition for Minnesota veterans needing this assistance on their return and $1,250,000 to provide help for needy disabled veterans until the federal government is ready to furnish assistance.

Authorization for expenditure of $1,500,000 for relief in addition to balance of $1,900,000, which was saved from appropriation for present biennium.

Appropriation of increased funds for welfare purposes, including $600,000 a year more for state school aid and materially increased funds for old age assistance and aid to dependent children. Added funds were provided to take care of the increase in maximum allowance for old age assistance from $30 to $40 and increased living costs for those below the maximum, as well as the increase in aid to dependent children voted, amounting to $3 a family per month.

BY SENATOR W. E. DAHLQUIST

For members of the Legislature last week was the week of the long Tuesday. Because Tuesday was the last day bills could be passed legally the legislature clocks were covered along in the evening and time was officially stopped. Only one bill of importance, the tax bill, remained to be acted upon and members were feeling good about the prospect of an early adjournment. House and Senate committees were in conference adjusting their differences, and the differences were not great.

Then started the long wait that dragged Tuesday out to late Thursday night and while the committees stubbornly refused to give ground the rest of the two hundred twiddled their thumbs and grew impatient. On Thursday evening the committees compromised on a bill that was only remotely related to either of the original measures, and less satisfactory than either of them. This unwanted child of irritable and unyielding parents was finally adopted by both houses and the argument ended. Tuesday's work was done and shortly before midnight on Thursday the more pleasant program that had been assigned to Wednesday was started.

By this tax bill there will be a reduction in state taxes during the coming biennium, quite a substantial reduction in the state tax on real estate and a complete suspension of the tax on monies and credits. Some income taxpayers will also receive a slight reduction, the deduction for dependents being increased from $5 to $10. These tax reductions are made possible not by decreased spending but by dipping into the income tax funds that are dedicated to school aid and by paying debts out of accumulated balances in the general revenue fund instead of levying for them.

I voted against this tax bill because, while it may be justified by present state income, it is not justified by present state spending. State income at the present time is at an all-time high because of the present abnormal conditions. This income may be expected to take a nose-dive. Certainly the state's income will decline faster than the state's costs and we will find ourselves in a position where we will have to increase taxes again, and this at a time when we will be less able to pay. The plan was objectionable to me too because it dipped into funds that had been dedicated to school aid. Advocates of the plan, of course, justified their position by the argument that building up reserves to meet future costs merely invites foolish spending of these reserves.

At any rate a tax bill was adopted and if the session did not end in a blaze of glory it did end in a spirit of good will. In a short program that concluded the nearly four months of legislative activity, kind words were exchanged among the members, a gift was presented to Lieutenant Governor Ed Thye who has presided capably and fairly over the deliberations, and Governor Stassen delivered a short and effective farewell message. And so, early Friday morning, the long-looked-forward-to last Wednesday of the session came to an end.

And so ended for me what has been an extremely pleasant experience. In this final report I will not attempt to tell you what the legislature accomplished in this session. I will not do this for the simple reason that I still know very little about it, and will not know until the law supplements are out. Out of nearly 1,600 bills introduced something like 600 have become laws. Only a few of these do I now remember sufficiently well to attempt an explanation, and if any explaining is required I will do that later.

Regardless of what the past session may or may not have accomplished for the state, I feel that it has done much for me and I am grateful for having had the opportunity to represent our district in the Senate. Through this experience I have learned much about the problems of state government and I have become personally acquainted with people from all parts of the state in a way that otherwise would not have been possible.

The legislature is pretty much a cross-section of the people of the state. Within its ranks are represented all shades of political thought. Its members are influenced not only by a varied personal background but also by the great diversity of local interests of a state that is peculiarly diversified in its activities.

I was impressed by this fact that the membership represented such a variety of interests. Some thought in terms of agriculture, some of labor, some of commerce, some of mining, some of the resort business, some of education. These are only a few of the classifications into which the membership could be divided, and it seemed to me that local or special interests were more important factors in determining legislation than the welfare of the state as a whole. Fortunately not any one of these groups predominates and so the interests of the state are not neglected.

Another thing that impressed me was the orderliness with which business in the Legislature is conducted. The procedure was confusing to me at first and in the early weeks of the session, when there was not much business to be transacted, I thought time was being wasted by what seemed to me as a senseless ritual. As I came to understand this procedure, however, and observed it in operation under the pressure of volume production, I learned to appreciate the need for it. Like most good laws that regulate society, the rules of order that regulate the conduct of a legislative body are designed to protect the rights of individuals and minorities. In a legislative body it is quite important that a member understands this procedure and knows what his rights are.

I am satisfied that the Legislature is a hard working organization. An individual member can work as much as he will, or as little. There is no one to tell him what he must do. Most of the work is done in committees and you may attend committee meetings or not as you please. A member can be required to vote for or against a bill on its final passage but this seems to be the extent of the "must" contribution. Under these conditions it is only natural that some members do more work than others. The thing that has surprised me, therefore, is the comparatively small number of shirkers. Most of the members look upon their jobs as serious business and a few make an exceptionally outstanding contribution.

The session now being ended, this series of letters must now necessarily end too. Until the next session gets under way I will retire to the privacy of the editorial "we." Ben Franklin, I think it was, once said that there is only one way a newspaperman can look upon a politician and that is down. That means that I will now rise again to the loftier and more noble calling. The late Governor Floyd Olson would take exception to such a statement of course. He liked to kid the newspaper guys about that editorial "we", suggesting that as a class they must have been afflicted with tapeworms. If you prefer it that way why should I complain. From now on "we" my tapeworm and I, will resume our old job.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Charlie Jenkins writes me from down at camp:

"Dear Joe: Somethin' mighty swell happened to me on my last day's leave. I'm standin' on the corner, not knowin' anybody in town, when a stranger says 'hello, soldier—how'd you like a chicken dinner at home with me and the wife?'

"Well, it turns out they were the kind of folks who couldn't do enough to help out soldiers. They'd invited two other fellows and just as soon as we're introduced the lady brings us a glass of beer before dinner.

"We had a fine dinner, talked till ten... Honest, Joe, I'll never forget their hospitality. Makes me feel good fighting for people like that."

Thought you might like to hear what kind o' fellows we got in this army of ours, and how they like to enjoy themselves when they get a chance to.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Katie Vakoch who died April 18, 1941. We do not forget you dear mother. We loved you too dearly for your memory to fade from our lives like a dream. Our lips need not speak, when our hearts mourn sincerely. No one knows the silent heartaches, only those who have lost can tell of the grief that's borne in silence, for the one we loved so well. In our homes you are fondly remembered, sweet memories cling to your name. Dearly loved and sadly missed by her family: Mr. Joseph Vakoch, Mrs. Frank Horejsh, Mrs. Joe Cernousek, Mrs. Alex Kosanda. 19c

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father Ole Thune who passed away two sad years ago April 30.

As we loved him, so we miss him.
In our memory he is near.
Friends may think we have forgotten,
When at times they see us smile.
Little do they know the heartaches
That our smile hides all the while.
Loved, remembered, longed for always
Bringing many a silent tear.

Dearly loved and sadly missed by Mrs. Clara Thune, Russell, Beverly and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Thune. 17p

In Memoriam

In memory of baby who passed away April 24, 1942.

A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon His love had given
And though the body slumbers here
The soul is safe in Heaven.

Greatly missed by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mosbeck. 17p

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank all of our friends and relatives who so pleasantly surprised us on our silver wedding anniversary. Also do we wish to thank them for the valued gift presented us on this occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Albin Dahl. 17p

COUNTY BOND DRIVE PASSES WELL ABOVE QUOTA OF $230,000

The only municipalities which have not completed their quota thus far are Black River, Cloverleaf, Hickory, and the village of Hazel. Since the amount required to complete their quotas is relatively small, it is hoped that every municipality in Pennington county will have attained their quota before the close of the second war loan drive on April 30.

"The cooperation which the committee has received has been most gratifying and assuring," said Mr. Lundgren. "River Falls Township was at first slow in attaining their quota. The women in that township decided that something must be done and considerable credit should go to Mrs. Frank Bothman, Mrs. Otto Johnson, Mrs. Ann Ingvaldson, and Mrs. Elmer Carlson, who took a hand and assisted the township board of that township in completing the drive."

Keeping Score

.... With HUCK OLSON

Frosh. vs. Sophs.

The basketball season will be closed out tomorrow night when the Freshmen and the Sophomores meet in a game which has all the ear marks of developing into a "grudge" affair. The nifty Frosh have been working out for the past few weeks under the supervision of Coach Glenn Hanna, and as a result the Sophs are worried plenty about the outcome of the contest.

The Freshmen, after being given intensive training in fundamentals, have shown considerable improvement in their play. Coach Hanna will probably start Marv Carlson and Allen Thompson at the guards, Cliff Aase at center, and Johnny Powell and Roger Tunberg at the forwards, for the Frosh. Dick O'Hara, Brad Hanna, Wes Hovie, and Kenny Borsheim will be on the reserve list.

The worried Sophs will perhaps have Bill Bye and Chuck Richards at the guards, Bob Baker at center, and Virg. Evenstad and Manny Forsberg at the forwards. The Soph reserves, and they'll need them, will be Herb Claffy, Lloyd Johnson, Billy Nelson, Phil Kays, and Stan Gibson.

The Sophomores, with three lettermen—Bye, Forsberg, and Evenstad—in their lineup, should be the odds-on favorites in tomorrow night's game, and if they play up to their capabilities they should mark up a 15-point win over the Frosh. The Sophs, having had only a couple of practice sessions, will be short on condition and they may run out of gas before they can build up a safe lead. At least that's wht the Freshmen are hoping.

The game, in addition to being a traditional Freshmen vs. Sophomore affair, should be interesting in that it will give an indication of Prowler basketball prospects for the next few years.

Baseball Doubts

With only centerfielder Wally DuChamp, shortstop Woody Almquist, third baseman Ray Ste. Marie, catcher Harold Rud, and left fielder Vern Tormoen available for baseball this year, it's doubtful if they will be independent ball here this season. From last year's lineup the army has taken Denny Helquist and Bardeen Nornes, and in the next month or two will take Eddie Flisch, Gordy Roierson and perhaps Lenny Lorentson and Milt Reierson. First baseman Stan Cockrell is employed in a California shipyard. Lefty Lenn Lorentson, who turned in some neatly pitched games last year, is attending St. Olaf college and won't be home until June and then he may receive his service call.

But while the propects for independent ball are dim, the outlook for the junior baseball team appears bright. Boys that are eligible for the team, and who were members of the club last year, are pitcher Virg. Evenstad, catcher Bill Bye, first baseman Bill McKechnie, shortstop Bob Baker, third baseman Vern Tormoen, and outfielder Allen Thompson. That's a pretty fair bunch of ball players.

They're Resplendent

The Hornet hockey players, eleven of them, look quite resplendent promenading around town in their new jackets. The 40 & 8 sponsors of the team and of junior hockey, honored the Hornets at a banquet last evening and presented the boys and their coach Connie Stanbridge, with jackets. The jackets, which are of a reversible type, have golden sleeves and a maroon body, with a 40 & 8 hockey emblem on the chest; while the reverse side has a solid color, being finished in grey.

The banquet climaxed a successful hockey season for the juniors, who won the northwest junior hockey tournament at Crookston, and the 40 & 8 are to be congratulated for their fine hockey organization, without which there wouldn't have been hockey here this season. And financially, too, the season was a success, for in addition to paying all the bills and for the jackets, the treasury contains a neat sum for next year's hockey program.

Bullheads

The brook trout and bullhead season opens on Saturday, but as far as local anglers are concerned, bullheads, and not trout, will be the chief attraction. And from what I hear, a mess of bullheads will be a welcome addition to the menu. Judging by the success the boys have been having spearing suckers, getting a great number in the ditches off the Red Lake river and also in ditches 18 and 20, a change in the fish diet is in order.

OLD-AGE GRANTS LITTLE AFFECTED BY CHANGE IN LAW

Will Mean Increase in Very Few Cases, John Lynskey Announces

The increase in maximum old age assistance grants from $30.00 to $40.000 passed by the Minnesota legislature just adjourned will mean an increase in very few cases, said John X. Lynskey, executive secretary of the Pennington county welfare board this week.

No change was made in the method of determining the amount of grant. Since all cases in this county except a few of those getting $30.00 were already receiving the largest amount permissible under the law, the new maximum will have no effect unless a recipient were already getting $30.00 and in need of more.

Any blanket increase in grants would have to be met by county funds only, since the state and federal governments will not contribute their shares to any grant in excess of existing rules and regulations.

The average grant in Pennington county last month was $24.72. In the latest month for which figures are available, only two of the 87 counties had a higher average grant, and they are Hennepin and Ramsey, with their big cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul. In line with the rising cost of living, the average grant in this county has risen about 16 per cent since the war started.

OPA Fixes Ceilings on Fresh Vegetables

A uniform markup that retailers may use to determine their ceilings on cabbage, carrots, lettuce, peas, snap beans, spinach and tomatoes went into effect April 22, according to the Office of Price Administration. The retailer, on all vegetables except cabbage, will determine his ceiling by multiplying his net cost by 1.39. On cabbage, he will multiply his net cost by 1.65, if he is a small independent dealer, and by 1.54 for chains with a total annual volume under $250,000 and by 1.5 for any retailer with an annual volume over $250,000. The ceilings, however, do not affect a farmer who sells fresh vegetables to shippers or consumers, provided such sales are within the $75 limit fixed on all foods a farmer can sell each month.

RETIRED WORKERS IN STATE GETTING MONTHLY INCOME

Social Security Office in Bemidji Makes Report on Past Year

Insurance payments to elderly retired workers and their wives, to widows and dependent children, and to dependent parents of deceased workers in Minnesota under the old age and survivors insurance program of the Social Security Act now total more than $383,000 every month, according to Martin J. Haack, manager of the Bemidji field office.

A survey of Social Security Board monthly insurance payments in Minnesota during the month of December reveals that 5,256 elderly retired workers and 1,599 wives received a total of $145,266. During the same month 1,411 widows of deceased workers and 2,350 children received a total of $60,118.

In the field office area, served by the Bemidji office, December payments were made as follows: 227 retired workers and their wives $4,290; 141 widows and children $1,963. The field office records also show that 43 new claims were filed during the first three months of this year. This, of course, means that an appreciable increase has been made in the number of citizens receiving monthly insurance payments and that the total amount of payments also is greater than it was in December in this area.

STEAM PRESSURE SAFEST IN CANNING VEGETABLES

Steam pressure canners are recommended by the United States department of agriculture as the safest for preserving such vegetables as beans, corn, spinach, asparagus and meats. Steam pressure kill organisms which cause food to spoil. Fruits and tomatoes, rhubarb and pickled beets may be canned safely by the boiling water-bath method, the department said. To be safe, these products should be boiled for 10 minutes at least before they are eaten or tasted, even though there is no sign of spoilage when the jar is opened.

"CARRY ON" with the National Scrap Harvest

It is the intention and sincere purpose of the dealers listed below to carry on and do our utmost in the National Scrap Harvest as well as to supply the needed replacement repair parts and in this we are going to urge the cooperation of our customers.

In 1943 the Farm Equipment Repair and Maintenance Program will furnish over two hundred thousand tons of Repair Parts for Farm Implements. We are therefore going to suggest that our farmer customers bring in the old parts that are to be replaced, or the equivalent to the weight of parts in scrap metal. We will place these old parts in a bin or barrel and as accumulated will donate the proceeds to the local organizations which contribute to the war effort.

This is a patriotic appeal and not a request, but will also be a great help to the dealers in making proper replacements and save time as well as helping to gather in small items which might otherwise go to waste in the tall grass, and the accumulation will mount up in volume to make a worth while effort to the National Scrap Harvest.

The National Scrap Harvest must carry on through 1943 and for the duration of the war. Our fighting men must be continually supplied with necessary equipment and the farmers must have essential machinery so they, too, can Carry On. Farm Equipment Dealers everywhere have pledged whole-hearted support to the Nation's War Efforts. We all can and should do everything in our power to help win the war. Scrap is most essential so here is just one way we can aid. Let's keep the National Scrap Harvest functioning by getting in old machines and collecting old broken replaced parts. "LET'S CARRY ON" in every way.

Be sure and check all your machines, way in advance of the time you are going to use it. Bring in your list of replacement parts and we will do our best to serve you and as far as possible bring in the old parts that are to be replaced.

The rest-pause that refreshes
Welcome in peace...
more welcome in war work
WAR production needs are pressing. No time can be wasted on the job. Rest-pauses planned and timed are the efficient way to make every minute count. They lessen tension, break monotony, and increase output. Add refreshment to a rest-pause and you promote worker-contentment.
Ice-cold Coca-Cola is refreshment that does more than quench thirst. Drink it and you feel and enjoy a refreshing after-sense. Its clean, exciting taste always pleases, never tires. Coca-Cola offers something extra. All the difference between something really refreshing and just something to drink.
Letters from plant managers from coast to coast emphasize that the little moment for an ice-cold Coca-Cola means a lot to workers in war plants. It's a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things... a way to turn to refreshment without turning from work.
You work better when you are contented on the job. Remember, contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Volume 38 Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota Thursday, May 6, 1943 Number 18

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY ①

SEMI-SURPRISE BLACKOUT HERE FRIDAY EVENING

Fire Siren and Bells to Herald Event Sometime between 9 and 11

WILL BE CONDUCTED ON STATEWIDE BASIS

Bob Peterson, McKechnie and Cliff Bjorkman in Charge Here

A semi-surprise blackout for Minnesota, first of its kind ever held on a statewide basis, will occur Friday evening, May 7, sometime between the hours of 9 and 11 o'clock, it was announced today by J. Robert Peterson, chairman of the Pennington county civilian defense council. Mr. Petersen is assisted in making arrangements for the event by Jack McKechnie, commander of the defense corps; and Clifford Bjorkman, chief air raid warden.

The blackout warning will be two long blasts of the fire siren, together with the ringing of the St. Bernards and Trinity church bells. At the sound of the warning, said Mr. Petersen, all civilians will extinguish their lights immediately, all traffic will come to a halt and pedestrians will seek shelter. These instructions, he said, must be followed without delay and strictly observed until the all-clear signal is sounded with one long blast from the fire siren.

"At the sound of the first signal," Mr. Petersen stated, "all wardens and fire watchers will take their posts, as they will not be notified by telephone. We expect full cooperation of all members of the local citizens defense corps.

"Army officials have advised us to be ready, alert, fully trained and well staffed, for the imminence of our country being bombed is greater now than ever before, and we must utilize these practice blackouts as if we were experiencing a real raid."

Minnesotans are to carry on in a normal manner and go where they ordinarily would until the time of the blackout, says Colonel Theodore A. Gharlander, commanding officer of the auxiliary service corps and the Minnesota state guard.

"That's exactly where they would be if a raid ever came," he said. "We want this to be as realistic and as nearly like actual raid conditions as we can make it.

"We want people to go about their evening chores just as if they didn't know that the blackout was coming. That will make the conditions as nearly as possible like they would be in an actual enemy raid."

666 ENACTMENTS PUBLISHED IN '43 LAW SUPPLEMENT

Copies Being Distributed to Times Readers with This Issue

With 666 new and amended laws and 12 resolutions to their credit, the fifty-third Minnesota legislature adjourned April 21.

The last measure was acted upon by Governor Harold E. Stassen, now lieutenant commander in the United States Navy, on Saturday, April 24. Complete text of all measures then went to the St. Paul Dispatch-Pioneer Press, where more than a quarter of a million copies of a 72-page publication were printed under the heading Minnesota 1943 Laws. This makes considerably more than a pound of reading matter, the most that the legislature has ever propounded to the electorate of the state; the 1941 session laws numbered 555 and required 64 pages for publication.

As usual, the distribution of the huge supplement carrying these laws, is entrusted to the newspapers of the state. However, because of the acute shortage of all materials, especially paper and baling wire, and the scarcity of all kinds of help from composing room to truck operators, the number of law supplements is curtailed this year to the point where it will not be possible for every newspaper to provide a supplement for every subscriber. In each county the regularly appointed official newspaper, including the Times, will send the law supplement to all subscribers.

PENNINGTON CO. FAR OVER TOP IN WAR BOND DRIVE

County Oversubscribes Its Quota by More than $100,000

THIEF RIVER FALLS BUYS $206,615 BONDS

Chairman Paul A. Lundgren Lauds Junior Chamber for Its Work

The second war loan drive [illegible] ed with a flurry on Friday, April 30, to bring the total sales for Pennington county to $[illegible] as against a quota of $[illegible]. The sales for Friday amounted to $14,887.50.

An examination of the figures below shows that every municipality within the county exceeded its quota. So far as the state records in comparison, on the basis of percentages, Pennington county stands second in the state, having been surpassed only by Kittson county.

The success with which this venture was crowned is due in a large part to the fine cooperation which the Pennington county war bond committee received from those who were selected to carry out the solicitation.

Special credit should go to the various town boards throughout the county who in spite of the fact that they are called upon for an innumerable number of voluntary tasks, took the time to carry out a personal solicitation in the country. Credit should also go to the U. S. D. A. War Board for the cooperation that they gave in establishing quotas.

The city of Thief River Falls, said Paul A. Lundgren, county chairman, owes a debt of gratitude to the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the vision and foresight that that organization had in daring to launch, under the chairmanship of Wayne Anderson, an aggressive campaign to qualify the city for the purchase of a bomber. The purchase of the bomber has now been assured and photographs will be sent to the committee from the War Department of the bomber purchased with the name of Thief River Falls stenciled thereon.

"Success of the campaign was not entirely due to work," said Mr. Lundgren. "It also took dollars, and to those people in Pennington County who so generously purchased their share in the government's future, the committee voices a hearty thanks. Nobody needs now question Pennington county's interest in the successful prosecution of this war, which was so cruelly forced upon us."

UNIVERSITY MOTHERS DAY IS WAR CASUALTY

Mothers Day, traditional University of Minnesota festivity of the spring season is a war casualty this year. Most of the food service facilities of Coffman Memorial Union, where the Mothers Day dinner has been served is now used for feeding soldiers. Furthermore, said President W. C. Coffey, the transportation system would make it difficult for mothers to come from any distance and there is no wish to make the event a wholly twin city affair. Instead of the "day" the president will send a personal greeting to the mothers of all students enrolled in the university.

6,162 Miles of Trunk Highways Now Posted for Breakup Season

The mileage of state highways requiring maximum load restriction to save them from the extraordinary frost and soil moisture conditions experienced this year has increased to the unprecedented total of 6,162 miles, the state highway department announced today.

This is nearly 800 miles more than have ever required restriction before in the state's history. However, department authorities pointed out that on many routes load restrictions actually are less stringent because of the axle weights invoked during the present spring breakup season, in place of the gross-weight method of determining maximum loads in the past.

The department, in posting roads wherever necessary, attempts to permit the transportation of the heaviest loads its engineers believe a road is capable of carrying without undue damage or destruction, but as the effects of the spring breakup have developed, it has found that on some 850 miles of trunk roads, the load maximums originally posted were too lenient and had to be reduced during the past week.

MAXIMUM PRICE ON RUBBER HEELS SET

Maximum prices for rubber heels made of scrap rubber and square woven fabrics taken from garden hose, belting, raincoats and similar materials have been established by the Office of Price Administration. Heels made from these products are described as "fiber heels" and are to be placed in the lowest price classification for heels made after August 31, 1942, unless in tests they wear as well as rubber heels in a higher price classification.

Kill the Black Market in Meat
Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the Office of Civilian Defense

What is a Black Market?

A black market in meat is the illegal sale or purchase of meat. It is buying or selling meat at higher than ceiling prices or without receiving or giving ration stamps.

Meat that should have been going through regular trade channels for fair distribution has been sold on the sly by racketeers.

What Government is Doing

The government requires that every wholesale cut of meat show two stamps.

(1) One is the permit number of the slaughterer.

(2) The other is the grade stamp.

Every slaughterer who slaughters meat for sale is required to have a permit number. Permits are issued only to legitimate operators who conform to sanitary rules and other regulations.

What Can I Do About It?

(1) Do not pay above ceiling prices.

(2) Do not buy from a dealer who offers meat without ration stamps in exchange.

Buy from your local meat markets and keep within your weekly allotments per person.

AN OLD STORY BUT A TRUE ONE

Red Wing.—Three local women met on a Main street corner late afternoon recently. One of the trio had just alighted from a bus which had brought her back from a shopping trip in the twin cities. Together the three went to a nearby cafe for a cup of coffee and here is the odd part of this story. Each had purchased identical hats but none was aware of it until they flashed them over their cups of coffee. The two young ladies who purchased their millinery locally had paid $3.48 for their bonnets; while the twin city shopper got hers for $5.25. Moral: It pays to trade at home.

TRAFFIC DEATHS DECLINE SHARPLY FOR FOUR MONTHS

Highway Safety Slogan Contest Is Announced for Minnesota

The reduction in traffic deaths accomplished in Minnesota since January 1 has saved an even 100 lives during the first four months of the year, the traffic safety committee of the Minnesota Editorial association announced today.

Figures obtained by James L. Markham of Hopkins, chairman of the committee from the state highway department, shows that 62 motorists and pedestrians have met death on Minnesota streets and highways between January 1 and April 30, as compared with 162 during the same four months of 1942.

Chairman Markham released the above figures to the state's newspapers this week in connection with the traffic safety slogan contest which was announced last week. The slogan contest is open to every high school boy and girl in Minnesota. Prizes offered by the Minnesota Safety Council are: First prize, $25 war bond; second prize, $10 in war stamps, and; third prize, $5 in war stamps. The contest will close on May 15. Local high school students may submit their entries by bringing them to the editorial office of The Times.

There is no limit on the number of slogan suggestions which any one contestant may submit, but no slogan should be more than 10 words long and four or five words are prefered.

CREDITORS OF SOO APPROVE PLAN FOR REORGANIZATION

Interstate Commerce Commission Says Refinancing Plan Succeeds

The plan to reorganize the Soo Line cleared its final major hurdle Saturday as the interstate commerce commission in Washington announced the various classes of creditors had given it overwhelming approval.

The road has operated under federal trusteeship since Dec. 31, 1937.

First presented a little more than two years ago, the plan to reorganize the railroad already has been approved by the ICC and the federal district court.

Numerous legal steps remain to be taken before the organization can be consumated, officials explained, but these are largely routine.

It is expected the Soo Line will be able to emerge from its trusteeship by the end of the year.

Initial steps will be confirmation of the plan by Federal Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye, following his review of the creditors' vote. It is expected this will be done in about 30 days.

If the court confirms the plan, as expected, Judge Nordbye then will appoint three reorganization managers to work out the legal and technical matters and draw up the necessary papers to consummate the reorganization.

The managers, it was explained, will include one representative from the Canadian Pacific railroad, which controls the Soo Line; one from the savings bank group, and one from the insurance companies. These three groups comprise the major holders of Soo Line bonds.

The speed with which the reorganization is consummated will depend on the time the three managers—require to complete their work.

The percentage of acceptance by the various classes of creditors by the ICC was announced as follows:

First consolidated mortgage bonds, 99.33 per cent; second mortgage bonds, 97.69 per cent; first refunding mortgage bonds, 98.99 per cent.

The plan received 100 per cent approval from the Canadian Pacific as guarantor of interest on the Soo Line's first consolidated mortgage bonds and its second mortgage bonds.

VETERINARIES MAY GET NEW CAR TIRES

Farm veterinaries have been added to the list of drivers who are eligible for new tires even when the tires on their cars are recappable. The Office of Price Administration, in making public the status change, says it was made because veterinaries are among the drivers whose occupations sometimes necessitate emergency travel at such high speeds that recapped tires might be unsafe.

"I'm So Worried"

"My baby hasn't started to walk yet, and I'm so worried that there may be something wrong with him. My neighbor's baby is a month younger and is walking all over the place."

Perhaps this is one of the most needless worries that many young parents let themselves in for—and all because they make the mistake of thinking that there is one definite age at which all babies should start walking, talking, or whatever it is.

Let's review some of the facts about walking.

Not even the authorities who have studied hundreds of babies can agree on "the" age when a baby should start walking. This in itself points to the fact that there are great individual differences among perfectly normal babies. Some authorities say that the usual age is between 12 and 13 months. Another states that 15 months is the age when a baby may be expected to walk alone. And, all of them point out that the range extends from seven or eight months up to 18 or 20 months.

There are a great many possible explanations for the fact that Mrs. Smith's baby may not be walking as soon as Mrs. Jones' baby next door. What about his body build, for instance? One very careful investigator has found that the child who is small and wiry in build and has legs that are long in relation to the trunk may walk earlier than those who have short legs and are heavily built. A premature baby, say two months premature, will usually not sit alone and walk alone until two months later than a normal-term baby, may be expected to do so.

And consider such important little factors as hampering clothes, slippery floors, or a fright that may have occured during an early attempt to walk. All of these may retard the development of walking in a normal baby.

Furthermore, if you are comparing your Jimmy with your neighbor's Mary, don't forget that just this fact that Mary is a girl may account for her more rapid development. On the average, girls may be expected to walk earlier than boys—and sit earlier, and talk earlier.

Nothing is to be gained by trying to "hurry up" a baby. Usually he must learn first to hold up his head, then to sit, then to creep and crawl, then to stand, before he can walk. If your baby is progressing through all of these stages, there is little cause to worry, regardless of what Mrs. Jones' baby is doing. If there's anything fundamentally wrong with your baby's nervous nervous and muscular system, the chances are that the difficulty will have manifested itself before this, and your doctor will be well aware of it.

EXTENDED LAY-AWAYS OF SHOES RULED OUT

Dealers must have the No. 17 stamps in advance to hold or lay away shoes for customers beyond June 15. OPA says so. The action was taken to prevent customer ordering of a year's or several years' supply which would deprive others of needed footwear.

WASTERS ARE NOT HEROES

In his Monday evening radio editorial, sports announcer Bill Stern suggested that we quit kidding ourselves about sport being necessary in the war effort as a morale builder. Baseball games and horse races might be justified as relaxation, he pointed out. He held his nose, however, on the idea that we couldn't win the war if we didn't continue to hunt and fish and golf. He did not object to these activities. His objection was directed at those who attempted to justify such activities as necessary, and, coming from a Bill Stern, who lives by sports, we thought it a confession worthy of note.

It probably would do no harm to measure all our activities with such a refreshing frankness. Now that money is circulating freely again it is becoming easier to spend foolishly. After years of necessary self-denial we now have the means to enjoy more of the pleasures of life.

Using Bill Stern's approach to this problem, we will not suggest that money should not be spent foolishly. We will merely point out that foolish spending is not necessary to the war effort. A little wasteful spending may be justified as relaxation but people who waste either time or money are not war heroes.

George Werstlein deserves a round of cheers for the good work he has done during the past sixteen months as chairman of the county's ration board. Without compensation and, in fact, at considerable personal expense, Mr. Werstlein has capably and impartially handled this assignment through the difficult period of organization when no one, not even government officials, knew all the answers. To Waldie Christensen, who now will bravely say who can and who can't have this or that, our best wishes. In Mr. Christensen's behalf we urge the consideration of the public. It is a thankless job but one that must be done. When things go wrong it is the chairman who is the goat. And so to Waldie, whose hair will probably turn snowy white in less than a week, we say "Cheerio."

A total of 1,013 Minnesota motorists were arrested for speeding during the month of March, and while they have our sympathy, we are glad to pass the bad news of their misfortune along as a warning to those who want to retain their gas ration cards. We say these law-breakers have our sympathy, and we say it in all sincerity. Thirty-five miles an hour is a terribly tiresome pace on a long journey but the penalty for doing thirty-six is more terrible.

People of Pennington County have distinguished themselves again in another civilian battle of the war. This time it was a battle to buy bonds. Pennington was among the first to go over the top and is near the top of the list in the Northwest in oversubscribing its quota. Such performances are becoming so regular that they are coming to be looked upon as things to be expected. Whatever the need may be, whether it be dollars for the Red Cross, dollars for bonds or scrap metal for the blast furnaces, the people of Pennington do their part.

Now we have another scrap drive ahead of us. By July first our county is asked to turn in another 800 tons of scrap metal, about half of what our quota was last fall. This quota will not be an easy one to meet however. The principal source of scrap metal is the farm and at this season of the year farmers have little time for anything else but farming. The committee arranging this campaign realizes this fact and for this reason most of the pressure is going to be put on people who live in the city. Victory Aides and air raid wardens will be called upon to conduct a house to house canvass and a special committee has been named to check the business section. The city drive will be completed by the middle of June and farmers will then be asked to turn the trick during the last two weeks of June, making up whatever the city is short. It is another chore that must be done and, somehow, it will be done.

The Asiatic who was credited with having predicted the raid on Pearl Harbor now says that the Japs will invade our continent. It seems farfetched but by this time we should be agreed that it is better to be ready. The war is not yet won and it is reasonable to assume that the enemy will take at least one more long chance before submitting to our peace terms.

A canning company official has told a Congressional committee that his company pays more for cans than it pays the growers for what goes into the cans. That isn't surprising and probably could be said about many packaged foods. There's a fortune waiting for anyone who can buy a raw food, process it, package it and deliver it to the consumer for less than is now being charged. Many individuals and organizations are making a serious effort to do this very thing. Occasionally, at long intervals, some progress in this direction is made.

Remember Sunday is Mother's Day. Just a penny post card remembrance will please her mightily—if you are so busy you just don't have time to write that letter.

To Wayne Anderson and his hustling crew of Junior Chamber of Commerce members who put on the Bomber drive, a vote of thanks and a round of cheers. Thief River Falls will be one of the first cities to be given the recognition of having a bomber named after it, and the fortunes of this particular bomber will be watched with interest by the community. Under the circumstances we are fortunate that our city has a name that kindly people say is unusual. There is only one Thief River Falls in the world, according to our research staff, and we are sure the name will strike terror and confusion in the hearts of the enemy. By their splendid effort the Jay-Cees have made a notable contribution to the war effort and brought honor to their city.

We can't think of anything that would be more pleasant than having the Federal government cancel our 1942 income taxes but for the life of us we can't figure out why such a thing should be done. Certainly no one needs to be told that this war is expensive and that all of us are going to be poorer as a result of it. By financing the war on borrowed money we are merely postponing the period of poverty. We could conduct this war on a cash basis if we all would serve as a buck private serves, on a subsistance level. The people of Russia do this. Some fight and the rest work. Not so with us. We have visions of wealth, and our government, by its spending practices, has encouraged us to believe that only those who carry a gun will have to sacrifice. No, Uncle, better you keep the 1942 taxes we owe you. You will need all those dollars and many more. If you really are concerned about us taxpayers we suggest that you concentrate on getting more value for the dollars you are spending. Cut your costs, increase the taxes and quit kidding us.

We predict that Ed Thye, Minnesota's first farmer governor, is going to make friends as he goes along. After seeing quite a bit of him in recent months we are willing to subscribe to the following prediction, made last summer by Walt Mickelson, editor of the New Ulm Journal and formerly secretary to Senator Shipstead:

"If you searched the state of Minnesota over we doubt if you would find a more sincere and honest public official than Ed Thye. He is frank, forthright, and able. All his life he has lived close to the soil and he has always kept his feet on the ground. His method and manner of dealing with people he learned in working with his neighbors across the fences and in township meetings. He wears well, makes lasting friends and is better liked the more times one sees him. If Ed were to win the governorship we imagine he will be the first in twelve years at least who will get more votes the second and third time he runs than he got the first. Ed Thye is that sort of a fellow!"

MIGHT TRY THE FOX HOLES

(Detroit Lakes Record)

At New York over the week-end 2,000 workmen at the Bendix Aviation plant stopped work on war products "until the army or navy takes over the plant." A CIO spokesman said the workers halted production in protest to "deplorable conditions at the factories." Rickenbacker could tell them something about the foxholes in the Solomons which might cheer them up.

NO DESSERT?

(New Ulm Daily Journal)

Pie is tottering. The supply of sugar allocated to restaurants, already cut once has been reduced again. According to Robert R. Williams executive secretary of the Ohio State Restaurant Association, dessert is liable soon to disappear from the dinner table. Pies and other baked desserts, requiring sugar, are in serious danger. Ice cream has already been severely rationed. There remain gelatines and prepared puddings, which can be bought presweetened; but the supply of these cannot be counted on.

Perhaps America will have to adopt the British custom of ending the meal with a "savory," or highly seasoned mouthful to stimulate digestion. Examples are devilled eggs, "angels on horseback" or oysters wrapped in bacon and fried in butter or baked; herring on toast, served hot and with mustard. But it is safe to say that none of these, however tasty, will, for Americans take the place of pie.

DANGER IN IT

(Grand Rapids Herald-Review)

We hear a vast amount of talk about opportunity following the war.

Some say that airplanes will be thicker than automobiles. Of course such people do not use moderate reason. We hear of new materials and new processes. There will be some of them.

However, it is not fair to youth to overdraw the picture of opportunity. Of course, the United States will make progress in the future just as it has in the past. Whether we shall ever again see times of greater mechanical development than in the last generation which brought forth the motor car, the radio and the great electrical industry is a serious question.

Doctor A. F. Hinrichs is acting chief of the United States bureau of labor statistics. He counsels youth to beware of the stories told to them. He thinks that there should be thoughtfulness in appraising the possibilities of the airplane and shipbuilding industries. He believes that normal employment will rest with normal industries which supply the domestic market on which create capital goods for export.

This student of labor says—

No new industry will have tools sharp enough to show its incidence on unemployment soon after the war. The new industries that are now being described in popular magazines will shape the occupational outlook 15 years hence—not in the years immediately following the war.

"Farmers, who are suffering from a shortage of machinery, are learning that no tractor ever gave birth to a baby tractor. As a result horses are in demand again," Editor W. T. Noonan observes in the Baudette Region.

Topics of the Times

By M. A. H.

The burden on the ladies seems to be decreasing. An authority tells us that fifty years ago the street outfit of the average woman weighed from 25 to 30 pounds.

The U. S. surgeon general's office figures that the army should have 6½ doctors for every 1000 soldiers. The duties of the half doctor aren't specified.

The fact that Minnesota now has its first farmer governor should be pleasing to the politically less potent half of the Farmer-Labor party.

The town dog-catcher has his work cut out for him if he is going to pick up all the poodles not embellished with license tags.

They tell about the Kansas widow who sued her home town newspaper for stating that her late husband had gone to a happier home.

Good news—Now you can buy a $2,500 automobile without first getting permission from your ration board.

You don't hear of many mortgage foreclosures these days. Times must be better.

One law the rural folks can be depended on to violate is the daylight saving law.

More folks will be able to look the assessor in the eye when he makes his calls this year, now that the moneys and credits tax has been suspended.

After all is said and done, Providence will play the major part in the attainment of the nation's food goals this year.

Sometimes there is no relation between supply and demand. Consider the baby carriage situation hereabouts.

Simile—As unwelcome as a house guest without his food ration book.

The newspapers are being asked to conserve newsprint at the same time that government news releases reach an all-time high mark. It just doesn't jibe.

Many folks will agree with Editor Jim Markham of the Hopkins Review, who doesn't get enthusiastic over those war bond honor rolls. He feels that that gesture should be postponed until the civilian population is called on to make a real sacrifice.

Says the Baudette Region: John L. Lewis' way of spelling it is evidently "The Stars and Strikes."

It gives us pause to learn that the United States is spending more money on the prosecution of the war than all the other nations in the world put together.

Better be extra nice to ma next Sunday. It's Mothers Day.

MUST DESTROY EXPIRED RATION STAMPS, SAYS OPA

All expiring ration stamps that are not being used by the consumer should be destroyed by him, according to the Office of Price Administration. Blue stamps A, B, C, D, E and F that might remain in a consumer's Book Two after April 30, should be destroyed. Red stamps A, B, C, D, also should be destroyed, as should expired sugar, coffee and gasoline coupons.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor the Times:

There is no doubt in my mind but that I saw on April Fourth, in Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, California, the greatest woman of this century and one of the greatest of all time, Madame Chiang Kai-shek of China. She is perfectly lovely, gracious, brilliant of mind, unaffected, utterly feminine with her fragile make up and soft, strode, beautiful and dead expressive face. She has a straightforwardness of manner, perfect poise, enviable choice of words, impeccable diction, skillful oratory, and a beautifully modulated speaking voice, with a magnitude of purpose beyond self. One cannot conceive that this woman has been on the goriest battlefields of the war, administering to the sick and wounded, comforting the dying, giving strength to the sorely oppressed. And yet, incredible energy and vitality flow forth with her voice. What a magnificent character!

The 30,000 people in the audience gave her such rapt attention as I have never before witnessed. The setting was pleasing to the eye. There were two huge panels of red, one on either side of the light blue stage, the United States insignia on one, China's on the other. At the lower sides of the stage were white silk draperies used for entrance and exit, while all along the hill sides of the huge bowl floated the banners of America and China. With planes hovering overhead and mountains all around, framed above by the ever-changing skies, the panorama was most dramatic, suiting the occasion perfectly.

Spencer Tracy introduced the stars, headed by Mary Pickford, who received Madame Chiang, the guest of honor. The military bands, led by Rudy Vallee, played his new medley, Songs of the Armed Forces, leading up to the thrilling entrance of our guest of honor.

In an open car flanked by escorts and guards, Madame Chiang Kai-shek drove into the bowl in front of the stage. The crowd rose immediately in tribute to this simple, great lady; the cheers were deafening. Just after she was welcomed by the governor of California, the national anthems of the United States and of China were rendered by the combined military bands and Los Angeles philharmonic orchestra.

The program was masterful, the setting picturesque, the stars glamorous in their showy clothes, but when Madame Chiang stepped to the podium in her simple though elegant black sequined gown and coat, beneath the Chinese banner of Victory . . . everything else faded to the brilliance of this single personality, one that will live on through the ages.

Through the tireless, steadfast, controlled leadership of the Generalissimo and the Madame, China remains united under one great ideal. Through the words and appearances of Madame Chiang in this country, we are beginning to realize the fine qualities of this long-suffering, enduring people. We are being stimulated to learn more about the oldest culture and the most philosophical race in the world.

At seven different points during Madame Chiang's speech the applause was enthusiastic. The two most salient to my mind were:

"Through my experience of that period (when Secretary-General of China's pitifully inadequate Air Force at the beginning of the Japanese invasion), I have come to be reaffirmed in the belief that any service can be built up when the directing policy is based on impartiality and fairness and when the ranks know that reward and punishment are meted out according to their just deserts."

"I should like to reiterate here that we have been fighting not only for our homes and hearths; we have been fighting for the upholding of pledges and principles because the violation of one pledge means the breaking of the whole chain of international decency and honor."

THIS SITUATION DOESN'T OCCUR VERY FREQUENTLY

Milaca.—On January 12, 1942, two Mille Lacs county lads, Harold Phinney and Stephen L. Jackson enlisted in the service and were given consecutive numbers 37097-746 and 3709745. Together they were inducted at Fort Snelling and from there the two went to Camp Callan, California to receive basic training. Out of 9,000 men 50 were selected from that camp to attend a radio school in Los Angeles. The two were among the 50 chosen and graduated last June. From 1000 graduating from the radio school two men were selected for advanced training and believe it or not it was this pair. At the end of that training two men were selected for signal corps school and again they were the two. Graduating as second lieutenants on March 23 they were given identical assignments at Fort Monmouth. The two boys have recently spent short furloughs here visiting relatives.

ST. JOHN'S MONKS BEAT RATION BUG

St. Cloud.—For the first time in many a year the monks at St. John's abbey, Collegeville, are tapping hundreds of maple trees in their forest preserve for the annual spring flow of sweet sap for maple syrup. It is estimated that approximately 50 gallons of sap are required to make one gallon of syrup. That adds up to 2500 gallons of sap and a lot of sore muscles for the clerics who do the collecting over the several square miles of forest every few days.

MORE WOOL FABRICS PRODUCED LAST YEAR

Woolen and worsted woven fabrics produced in 1942 reached an all-time high of 523,500,000 linear yards, the WPB reported. This is almost half again as much as was produced in 1939, and the WPB has doubled the wool quotas for essential civilian fabrics to make an additional 75,000,000 pounds of wool available for civilian use.

4867 PENNIES RESULT FROM TWO YEARS SAVING

Canby—Counting pennies which he had saved for two years, George Svoboda found he had just 92 more than he needed to purchase an $18.75 war bond. The 4875 pennies were taken to the local bank and exchanged for a bond which will be worth $25 in ten years and the 12 remaining pennies were put back as "seed" for another bond.

CHANGE 50-POUND SEED POTATO RULE

The limitation on retailers' seed potato sales prohibiting them from selling in less than 50-pound lots has been relaxed by the Office of Price Administration. To permit dealers to sell seed potatoes to persons starting small Victory gardens, the OPA said dealers may sell in any quantity. The 50-pound limit originally was set to fight a black market on seed potatoes, which have no ceiling prices. Unscrupulous persons were describing food potatoes as seed potatoes to obtain higher prices for them. The relaxing of the limitation, OPA officials said, does not mean that other regulations are lifted. Packages of seed potatoes must be clearly marked and labelled as potatoes for planting only.

NAVAL AIR CADET EXAMINING BOARD IN CITY MAY 14TH

Elks Lodge Here Receiving Applications from 17-Year-Olds

Completed plans for the appearance of a traveling board of naval aviation line and medical officers in 8 Northern Minnesota cities were announced today by Lt.-Cmdr. G. R. Macdonald, officer-in-charge of the naval aviation cadet selection board in Minneapolis. Beginning its tour in St. Cloud on Monday, May 10, the board will visit Thief River Falls Friday, May 14, to give preliminary qualifying examinations to eligible 17-year-olds who desire to enlist in the naval aviation officer-training program.

Arrangements for the board were completed recently by chairman of Elks lodge committees, in the cities where the board will meet, and Lieut. R. L. Rome of the selection board. Headquarters for the local meeting will be in the Elks club rooms.

Naval aviation is now open to 17-year-olds only who are high school seniors or graduates. It is to these men that the board will give the Navy's fine screen tests, including the flight aptitude and preliminary physical examination. Those who are qualified by the board will have their transportation furnished to Minneapolis where final tests are given.

After being sworn in the Navy, upon successful completion of those tests, new V-5 cadets are returned home to wait until they are 18 before being called to active duty as an aviation cadet. In addition, high school seniors must finish their courses and graduate before being eligible for call.

There are definite quotas for Naval Aviation at present, Lt.-Cmdr. Macdonald said, and he urged young men not to delay in making their application. The necessary blanks for presenting application may be obtained from any member of the Elks Lodges, or from any high school principal.

Montgomery Ward Store in Montana Destroyed

Steele of between $225,000 and $250,000 makes the fire among the three worst conflagrations in the city's history, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

SOPHOMORE QUINT WHIPS FRESHMEN IN TILT ON FRIDAY

Sophs Overwhelm Opponents 30 to 8 in One-sided Contest

After being held to a 14 to 7 score at the half, the Sophomores smothered the Freshmen in the second half, allowing but one point, on a free throw by Roger Tunberg, and piled up sixteen points to rout the Frosh, 30 to 8, in a basketball game played Friday.

With Bill Bye and Bob Baker accounting for eleven of the Sophs' points, the upper-classmen held a seven-point lead at the intermission. The Freshmen, on field goals by Allen Thompson, Johnny Powell, and Tunberg, and Thompson's free throw, played creditable ball during the first half.

Bill Bye's 12 points won high scoring honors, with Bob Baker's 8 points earning second place.

W. E. Dahlquist Discusses New Laws Relating to Conservation

The Pennington County Sportsmen's club at its May session Tuesday evening in the Civic and Commerce rooms witnessed the presentation by Dr. Edward Bratrud of motion pictures dealing with trout fishing in Canadian waters, as well as with local scenes.

State Senator W. E. Dahlquist discussed new laws relating to wild game and conservation enacted at the recent session of the Minnesota legislature.

The club voted to hold all trap shells now on hand until the August meeting of the club. Lunch was served by a committee headed by Harold Olson and C. Ness.

Their first test

Coach Quent Jones rookie track squad will get its first taste of competition Saturday, participating in the Beaver Relays at Bemidji. Jones doesn't expect much from his young squad in the line of point-getting; but the meet should enable the boys to pick up some valuable experience.

The 440-yard and 880-yard relay teams—Bill Bye, Herb Claffy, Larry Rullen, and LaMarr Hanson—should run into some points; and the mile and two mile relay team—Pete Michalsky, Oscar Breiland, Lloyd John Johnson, and Ray Offerdahl—is a potential point-placer, too. The meet's individual events will find captain Pete Michalsky entered in the discus and shot-put; Burdell Merritt in all the field events, and also in the high hurdles; Herb Claffy and LaMarr Hanson will run in the 100-yard special. Vern Tormoen will run in the sprint medley, and high hurdles, and broad jump. Cliff Gunderson is entered in the sprint medley and the high hurdles. It's questionable whether George Guttu, field events man, will be able to make the trip, as he has a badly bruised hand.

Not that bad

The Sophomores may be as good as their 30 points Friday afternoon would indicate; but it's certain that the Frosh aren't as bad as their lowly 8 points would denote. With one varsity regular, Bill Bye, and two reserves, Manny Forsberg and Virg Evenstad, in their lineup, the Sophs had too much experience and poise for the Freshmen. And, too, it upset the Frosh considerably to have "Zero" Bye peg loose for five field goals and three free throws, marking up thirteen points. The Sophs hot-shot had been expected to be Evenstad, and the Freshmen kept him pretty well in check.

These Freshmen, though, aren't so very downhearted over the defeat, and neither is coach Hanha. The Frosh, as a squad, had only three weeks of organized drill, while the bulk of the Sophomores team had been through a season's practice with the varsity squad. Roger Tunberg, Ninak Carlson, Allen Thompson, Johnny Powell, Cliff Aase, Wes Hovie, Brad Hanna, Dick O'Hara, and Ken Borsheim will be varsity letter-winners before they're through school, and you can bet on that.

Any takers?

Garf Benson, air raid warden in Block 26 O. T. S., is willing to wager that he can patrol his beat in better time than any other warden in town. Twice around the block and once up and down the alley, that's the route Garf claims to be able to cover by the heel-and-toe method in record breaking time. Well, he'll get a workout tomorrow night.

A long way back

Rainy Wambem, one-time local ball player and now a resident of Detroit Lakes, was a visitor in town the past week. And his visit brought back memories to the old-timers. (In memory, I can only go back to the Chesty Halbert days, so Rainy's time, along about 1906-07, and that's a long way back, is only hear-say to me.) The speedy and hard hitting Rainy was one of northern Minnesota's outstanding ball players, playing the outfield. Those were the days when Charley Nason, the trap-shooting star, played on the team; and Eddie Kiefenheim was just beginning his ball playing career.

A well-earned victory

The Narverud Cleaners team—captain Martha Narverud, Min Ruane, Marie Hallstrom, Jane Buen, and Borghild Holden—won the Women's City Bowling League championship Friday night, defeating the Land O' Lakes team, and it was a well-earned and popular victory.

The Cleaners are a veteran team, having been together as a unit for several years; and in that time they have been one of the league's most dependable teams.

MONEYS, CREDITS LEVIES WILL NOT BE MADE IN '43-44

State Tax Commissioner Notifies Assessors of Suspension

G. Howard Spaeth, state tax commissioner, wrote to county assessors and county auditors this week informing them that no assessments will be made this year on moneys and credits as a result of the recent decision of the Minnesota legislature to suspend collection of the tax for two years.

The suspension will be for the 1943 tax, collectible in 1944, and for 1944, collectible in 1945. Until the legislature made the change this year, assessors in Minnesota have been required to assess moneys and credits as of May 1st, the same as other property, beginning this work immediately after that date.

Action of the legislature stops the collection of a tax which has been a headache to tax officials for many years. The three-mill moneys and credits tax was enacted in 1911 in the hope that it might induce taxpayers to increase their returns of intangibles and provide a fair method of taxing these properties.

Evasion of the tax has been widespread, however, and demand for its repeal has been strong since adoption of the state income tax, which tax authorities have contended provides a more equitable and effective method of reaching the same tax sources, imposing a levy, as it does, on the earnings from moneys and credits. Twelve other states abolished a similar tax on intangibles when the income tax came in.

Farmers Must Get Points for Retail Butter Sales, Office of OPA Announces

A farmer who sells butter, lard or any other food rationed under the meats and fats program to a retailer must collect ration points for the sale, according to the Office of Price Administration.

All farm sales, the OPA said, whether to consumers or retailers, must be made at current point values—eight points per pound for butter sold in bulk units of five points or less, and five points per pound for lard sold in the same small quantities. Trade point values of 7.9 for butter and 4.9 for lard apply when the farmer sells in larger quantities.

Consumers as well as retailers who buy from farmers must surrender stamps just as they do when buying from any other source. Consumers buy with currently valid red ration stamps and retailers either with ration stamps or with checks.

Stamps that the farmer collects on these commodities then must be turned in to local boards once a month. A report must be made on OPA Form R-1609.

Dunwoody Institute Offers Help to People Training for War Work

Minneapolis war industries are in need of many trained workers to take the place of those soon to be called in the selective service; and to meet the expanding demands on these industries for increased production. Many employers look largely to Dunwoody Institute of Minneapolis to train new workers in all such lines as electrical assembly and repair; armature winding; tool tracing and detailing; tool and die design; inspection and gaging; arc and gas welding; and machine tool operation.

The school needs large numbers of applicants—men, women, and youth—for free training in these war occupations. Everyone who does satisfactory work as a trainee is sure of employment at good wages, and sure also that he or she is helping in a vital way to equip our soldiers, sailors, and marines for victory.

All persons over 18 years of age who are not experienced in, or engaged in farming, and who can secure clearance from their nearest public employment office, will be eligible for training at Dunwoody. Those interested should first secure this clearance and then write for further information to Dunwoody Institute, Minneapolis,—attention Fred J. Landon.

"GOOD NEIGHBOR" POLICY IS HELPFUL IDEA
for Thief River Falls
Party Line Telephone Users

Just being plain "good neighbors" helps a lot in getting the best service from a party line telephone.

More and more Thief River Falls party line users are finding that if they keep their calls short, others on the line appreciate it . . . and make brief calls too.

They leave intervals between calls, also, because they like it when their telephone neighbors show the same consideration.

Hanging up gently when the line is in use is another neighborly telephone courtesy.

Yes, thoughtfulness in using a party line telephone pays dividends in better service for everyone on the line.

ANNUAL 4-H WEEK AT N. W. SCHOOL IS CUT TO THREE DAYS

Supt. T. M. McCall Announces Dates Are Set at June 7 to 9

The annual 4-H Club Week at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, will be reduced to one three-day camp on June 7, 8 and 9. Having all fourteen counties of the Red River Valley represented in one three-day camp instead of two camps is brought about, according to Superintendent, T. M. McCall, by the war demands on the time of instructors and extension specialists.

District 4-H Club Agent H. A. Pflughoeft, program directors for the week, states that special emphasis will be placed on food production and food preservation and clothing projects. Specialists from the Northwest School and agricultural extension division, with A. J. Kittleson, state 4-H club agent, will give instruction to club members, junior and adult leaders.

A strong recreational program has been arranged to give club members leadership training which will be of benefit to the home club groups. Winning groups from the Red River Valley counties in dramatics, music, and better grooming will compete for valley-wide honors.

Four-H members who wish to attend the camp must register in advance with the county club leader or county agent.

Kerosene for Canning Season to be Allowed

Additional range oil and kerosene for housewives who plan to can and preserve food this summer will be allowed, the Office of Price Administration says. Extra rations intended to cover the actual needs of the housewives for canning activities are being provided for, and local rationing boards are being instructed to issue ration coupons equal in value to the needs when less than 10 gallons is requested. When the housewife feels she needs more than 20 gallons of kerosene, the ration will be determined in accordance with the number of hours the stove will be in operation for preparation of canned foods.

Back to Old Job

Vernet Witham, 25, of Elizabeth, N. J., is back at the factory making shirts. Wanting work with more action, Vernet applied for a job at a pretzel factory where the work would be more intricate. Said the U. S., "You are an essential worker in this factory; back you go."

Chauffeurs License Law Changed by Legislature

Under a new law passed by the Minnesota legislature, licensed chauffeurs must also obtain regular drivers' licenses if they expect to drive any other vehicle than that which they operate for hire. In the past a holder of a chauffeur's license was not required to obtain a drivers' license. Under the new bill, a chauffeur operating a taxicab or truck may continue to operate such vehicle but if he seeks to drive a personal car, he must obtain the drivers' license in addition to his chauffeur's license.

SMALL BOY ASPIRES TO DO HIS 'BIT' ON FARM

Beardsley,— The three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sturm recently thought he would try his hand at relieving the farm help shortage. Climbing onto the tractor while his father was in the house, the boy threw it into high gear and away he went, around and around the windmill. Without warning the tractor suddenly made a spurt for the house hitting in at the cellar stairs and tossing the little fellow down the stairs. Thus abruptly terminated his good intent to aid in the farm manpower shortage.

HIGHWAY WORKERS GIVEN U. S. AWARD FOR BOND BUYING

More than 95 Per Cent Are Now Under Payroll Deduction Plan

The state highway department last week received from the U. S. treasury department the right to fly the Minute Man flag, awarded by the federal government because more than 95 per cent of its employees at the central offices and shop in St. Paul now are regular purchasers of war bonds on the payroll deduction plan.

The department was presented with three of the honor flags, one to fly from its central office on University avenue in St. Paul, one from the flag staff of the building housing the traffic engineering and safety division, the drivers license bureau and the highway patrol, and the third from its central shop at the state fair grounds.

Presentation of the flags was made in person by Arthur C. Reynolds, U. S. collector of internal revenue, to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways.

Incidentally, the formal presentation, before a massed assembly of the central office employees, was made on the birthday of Adolph Hitler. Presentation and acceptance speeches brought to light the following facts with regard to employees of the highway department throughout the state:

351 fellow employes are now in the armed services, three of them women; one has been killed in action and three are prisoners of the Japs; more than 100 have sons or daughters in the armed forces; employes of the central offices and shop alone have donated 236 pints of blood at Red Cross donor stations in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The report on war bond purchases presented at the time of the flag-raising ceremony showed that the "central office" employees of the department have purchased 9,302 bonds with payroll deductions totalling $154,367, and in addition have purchased $30,045 in cash. Every bond purchased thru the state highway department is credited to the county of residence as shown on the bond.

1943 WAR COSTS FIVE TIMES THOSE OF 1918

The difference in the task of fortifying a line of trenches in France and equipment and supplying armies on battlefields all over the world is graphically shown in comparison of expenditures between this and the last World War. American war expenditures in 1943 alone exceed 100 billion dollars, compared to only 18½ billion in 1918.

GARDEN and TABLE

By ERNEST A. PALMER
County Agricultural Agent

If you must plant your garden on a hillside, don't run the rows up and down—or you may wake up some morning to find that the rain has washed away both topsoil and seed. Make the rows horizontal, along the side of the hill, or run them on the contour.

Caution: Avoid planting in a hollow. Such places are likely to be visited by late spring and early fall frosts.

To avoid a blackout for low vegetables, plant your tall-growing crops on the north or west side of the garden. As far as practical, it's a good idea to put in the first plantings of small and early vegetables along the south or east side.

The transplants in your hotbed or flat will be able to withstand the battle when they're set out in the cold world if you start hardening them now. As soon as the first leaves appear on the plants, transplant them into other hotbeds or flats two or three inches apart.

It won't be long 'till it's time to think about getting the soil ready for planting. Spade deep. Then do a thorough job of the soil preparation, digging out all quack grass roots and removing all trash and rocks.

You can take the gamble out of gardening by making your soil productive. We've already said you can't beat manure for fertilizer. But if you intend to substitute Victory garden fertilizer and your garden is large, it can be broadcast over the entire area after plowing and then harrow into the soil. For small gardens, the most economical method is to apply the fertilizer in furrows made with a hoe two to four inches from the row of seed. Mix the fertilizer thoroughly with the soil and cover the furrow again. Fertilizer should not come into contact with the seed or plants, as germination may be retarded and the seedlings injured. A top dressing after the plants are up, though, may encourage the plants to shoot up a bit faster.

A thoroughly pulverized seedbed is mighty important at planting time. And the finer the seed, the finer the seedbed should be. That iron rake will be a handy tool in helping you prepare the soil.

Warning: If your soil is heavy, don't work it if it sticks to your shoes or your spade. On the other hand, don't wait until the soil is so dry it will break up into a big lump.

If you're considering raising fruit, most foolproof for Minnesota growing are grapes, raspberries, and strawberries. Currants and gooseberries, though, require only a simple spray treatment. Try fitting some of the fruits you grow into your landscape planting. They should be grown in cultivated ground, of course.

STATE JOB OFFICE GETS MANY CALLS FOR FARM LABOR

Big Increase in Demand Is Seen as Spring Seeding Becomes General

The demand for farm help in Minnesota began to make itself felt in March and offices of the U. S. employment service were busy preparing for a rush of orders expected as soon as seeding becomes general in the state.

In March the federal employment service placed 932 farm workers. This is an increase of 24.9 per cent more than such placements in February, according to Leonard B. Ryan, state director of USES.

In the development of the emergency farm help program in Minnesota, of which Paul E. Miller, chief of the Agricultural Extension Service, is director, the United States employment service has the job of making placements as the extension service and other agencies that are co-operating with Miller and his 8-man coordinating committee carry on the registration, recruitment, and training programs.

Ryan recognizes the serious situation that lies ahead of the state, insofar as farm help is concerned and forecasts that the state will really begin to feel the pinch of the farm help shortage as quickly as seeding becomes general.

Over 4,000,000 Old Tires Now Stored at Snelling

The number of discarded tires at the 97 acre Fort Snelling storage plant, largest in the country mounted over the 4,000,000 mark last week.

OPA officials said few of the Fort Snelling tires, which are brought from the entire West, have been used in reclamation plants as yet because the plants have been using hot water bottles, inner tubes, and similar items first.

Rubber in the tires will be harder to reclaim, they explained, because it must be separated from the fabric in the tires.

Take-Off for Land of Rising Sun

This photo was made as a B-25 (Mitchell) bomber took to the air from the pitching deck of the U. S. carrier Hornet, to give the people of the rising sun a taste of war on their own islands. It shows the bomber climbing into a gray sky. The raid, made from low altitude by Gen. Jimmy Doolittle's men, caused large fires and great damage. Americans everywhere were aroused to overwhelming anger at the announcement that the Japs executed some of the eight fliers captured after the bombing.

TREE TRIMMER MISSES TUMBLE INTO WELL

Mountain Lake.—Trimming an apple tree on April Fool's day for A. J. Goertzen almost had a worst fate than falling off his ladder. Stepping carefully from the ladder to the ground the spot under his foot gave way to a hole which proved to be an old well, 37 feet in depth and with 31 feet of water in it. By sheer luck Goertzen managed to save himself from tumbling in.

VICTORY GARDENERS GET EXTRA GASOLINE

PATROL ARRESTS 1,013 MOTORISTS DURING MARCH

Total of 256 State Drivers Charged with Breaking Speed Laws

More than 1,000 motorists were arrested in Minnesota by state highway patrolmen during March, with the chief number of offenders those violating the war-time speed regulations.

Speed arrests numbered 256. Running a close second were 122 arrests for going through stop signs. Eighty-two were arrested for careless driving, 61 for improper passing and 93 for driving with improper and unsafe equipment. Drunken drivers numbered 40, according to the Patrol report made by Chief Elden Rowe this week to Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann.

The patrol also issued 1,422 illegal equipment tags, and passed out 3,197 verbal and 646 written warnings to minor or inadvertent traffic law violators.

The patrolmen gave aid to 4,071 motorists during the month, of which 967 required minor adjustments or repairs to cars stalled on the road and 210 had to be pulled out of ditches.

Of the verbal warnings issued 425 were for driving with improper lights and 104 for walking improperly on the highway, that is, on the right hand side of the road with traffic instead of walking properly on the left side facing oncoming traffic.

In addition to the speeders arrested, 272 were halted by patrolmen, and warned that they were driving slightly in excess of the 35-mile an hour limit. Another 122 were given warning tickets for failing to make complete stops at stop signs and 42 for improper passing.

Fines imposed during the month totalled $11,186.

Although the Texas prison system produces all its own sugar, rationing within the walls is the same as on the outside.

The eaves of the house halted its journey.

HALF OF MINNESOTA'S CANNING IS FOR ARMY

For every bushel of peas picked for Minnesota canneries, a half bushel goes to the U. S. Army. And every ear of sweet corn sold to the packers has about a 50-50 chance of ending up in an Army mess kitchen. A buyer for the Army quartermaster corps will buy up 48 per cent of the canned peas and 40 per cent of the corn during July and August. It means that roughly an eighth of the corn packed in the nation is eaten by soldiers because Minnesota canners handle nearly one-fourth of the nation's supply.

Daily newspaper circulation reached an all-time high in 1942 at 44,492,836.

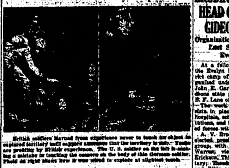
Beware, the Booby Trap



British soldiers learned from experience never to touch an object in captured territory until sappers announce that the territory is safe. Yanks are profiting by British experience. The U. BRODIN IS NAMED HEAD OF DISTRICT GIDEONS SOCIETY

Organization Meeting Held Last Sunday in the Evelyn Hotel

At a fellowship dinner held at the Evelyn hotel Sunday, a district camp of the Gideons was organized under the supervision of John E. Garvick of St. Paul, Gideons state president, assisted by P. F. Lane of Minneapolis.

The work of the Gideons consists in placing Bibles in hotels, hospitals, schools and penal institutions, and in supplying the armed forces with testaments.

A. V. Brodin of this city was elected president of the district group, with Sidney Fladeland of Warren, vice president; M. J. Erickson, Thief River Falls, secretary; Theodore Norby, treasurer and Bible secretary; Clarence B. Johnson, Warren, chaplain; and E. R. Carlson, Foston, and C. S. McReynolds, Clearbrook, trustees.

LIBRARY NOTES

The library has several copies of Wendell Wilkie's book, "One World." These are very much in demand but by request names will be put on a waiting list.

Another book of note, is Eve Curie's "Journey Among Warriors." After a five month's trip visiting many lands and interviewing people of all stations in life, Mlle. Curie returns to America with a firm belief also in the need for one world.

Ezequiel Padilla, the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, has written a scholarly book, "Free Men of America". It is an argument for Pan-Americanism. Others of especial interest: Lee, They Call It Pacific; Sheehan, Between the Thunder and the Sun; Laverne, Mitchel, Pioneer of the Air; Oman, Napoleon at the Channel. Although many of the new books pertain to the war there is also a new supply of books of adventure, romance and mystery. Perhaps a good book of older vintage has been missed. Browsing thru the shelves or looking thru the catalog may reveal it.

All of the 1943 Pulitzer prize winners may be found in the library. They are: History—Esther Forbes—Paul Revere and the World he lived in. Verse: Robert Frost—A Witness Tree. Biography: Samuel Eliot Morison, Admiral of the Ocean Sea. Novel: Upton Sinclair—Dragon's Teeth. Drama: Thornton Wilder — The Skin of Our Teeth.

Although the regular Victory Book drive is over, the committee remains in a receptive mood. Books that are received will be sent to headquarters from time to time.

Townsend Club Meets Sunday

The Townsend Club will hold its regular meeting next Sunday at 3:00 P. M. in the Civic and Commerce rooms of the auditorium. All members are urged to attend.

PENNEY'S THRIFTY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY

Between Two Loves

By DUFORD JENNE

(McClure Syndicate—WNU Service.)

"RUTH, I don't believe it!" Gladys said quickly, startled and shocked by her friend's words.

"But it's true, Gladys, and I thought I ought to tell you. If Elmore doesn't love you enough to take care of your mother, I don't think he is worthy of you; for we all know of the love between you and your mother. Yes, I was in the office, and Elmore was chatting with Blake; and I heard him say distinctly: 'I don't know what to do with Gladys' mother.' And the fact that you have been engaged for three years shows something, too. He has been making a fair salary right along—what is he doing with it?"

After Ruth had gone, Gladys sat alone in her room and pondered the situation, and as she thought, her mood darkened. Something was wrong. It had been a long engagement, and when, out of her longing to have Elmore with her, she had suggested in indirect ways that she wished they could have a home together, he had evaded her suggestion. It never occurred to her that her mother might be the obstacle.

"Not even Elmore is dearer to me than you, mother dear, and between you and him, I can make a quick choice," Gladys thought to herself. "But I don't—I don't want to give him up! her heart told her almost with a cry.

The rest of the afternoon the problem raced back and forth in her mind. It seemed so logical, the explanation of Elmore's action on the basis of what Ruth had heard. Yet Gladys had never dreamed that Elmore had ever thought of separating them. They had been so happy together over the many years since her father died.

"If mother knew that such a thing as this was happening, it would break her heart," Gladys warned herself, "and I must not let a hint of it reach her. I will talk with Elmore, though."

That evening when her fair-haired, smiling lover held her in his arms just before leaving after his visit, she ventured to touch upon the subject that was troubling her.

"Dear, is there any reason—any real reason why we can't have a home together now? I hate to ask you this way," she said gently, "but I want you to be frank with me."

His gray eyes grew suddenly sober, and his manner changed. "In good time, sweetheart, in good time. It's the waiting that bothers, I know, but we'll work it out. Now, you leave it to me."

Troubled in mind and in heart, she did not know what to do. But by the end of the next day, she had reached the decision; and alone in her room she wrote Elmore a brief note telling him what she had heard and informing him that she could not bear to think of leaving her mother or living apart from her after their long years of companionship. Then, after effort, she added the sentence that broke the engagement between them.

As she slipped down the stairs, her mother came into the hall.

"Gladys, Elmore telephoned that he was coming over," her mother said smiling, her gentle, motherly face brightening with pleasure.

Gladys stopped short. "Mother, please tell him not to come. I really don't want to see him."

"Why, child, child—is there something wrong?" her mother asked with sudden concern.

"Nothing much, mother mine. You just phone him," Gladys said hastily, slipping out, "I'm going to the mail box."

When she returned, she stole into her room, her heart too full to risk even meeting her mother. As she sat beside the window she heard Elmore's voice and her mother's talking in the garden.

"She is worried, my boy, over something," her mother's sweet voice was saying.

"I don't blame her. I guess we might as well let her into the secret. The house is about finished, anyway —your rooms are O. K., and Gladys and I can get along. How'd you like the rooms?" Elmore's cheery voice asked.

"Oh, so much. It will seem like heaven to be with you and Gladys—"

"And we will be sure glad to have you! What a family we will make!" he broke in gaily. "Now I'll hunt up Gladys. She ought to have come by this time."

Gladys was athrill with her discovery. She knew now. He had been building a house for them. Her mother was in the secret; and it was to be a surprise. But when he came in, and gathered her in his arms, she made him tell the story over again; and then she asked: "But didn't you tell Blake that you didn't know what to do with mother?"

"Ah! I see—I see what put the shadows in your brown eyes. "Honey," he said slowly, "listen. Blake is a house designer, and I said something like that to him, because I wasn't sure how to give your mother some privacy and yet have her one of us; but Blake told me. You see?"

Gladys pulled his blonde head down to hers and kissed him. "Oh, my dear—I do—I do!" And with the words that came from the depths of her heart the shadows of doubt vanished. Instead of choosing between two loves, she could keep both.

Streamline Your Meals, Advises Cooking Expert

American families spend between 17 and 18 billion dollars feeding themselves each year, according to Miss Glenna Henderson, food expert of the University of Illinois. This would mean about [illegible] a year a family if all families spent the same amount. As every homemaker knows, however, the food bill is high or low depending upon a multitude of circumstances. Whether the family gets value received from this money depends largely upon what sort of planning the homemaker does at home.

Returns from the money which goes into food for the family should be no less proportionately than the efficiency demanded of a [illegible] streamlined car. A carefully thought-out plan was utilized long before the car reached the highway. Similarly a pencil-and-paper planning of adequate meals can be expected to give the greatest return for the money.

A "streamlined" meal, in Miss Henderson's terminology, means one that consistently devotes more than half of all the calories to milk and milk products, fruits, vegetables and eggs before other foods are considered. These "protective" foods, known for their vitamin and mineral contribution to health, receive first consideration in every menu. The remainder of the meal, then, may be completed with energy-giving and body-building foods such as bread, potatoes and meat.

Variety in color, appearance, texture and flavor is important when planning menus. Foods of strong or distinct flavor should be served with those of mild flavor.

If homemakers will use the pencil-and-paper method of planning meals, they will find it is quite an enjoyable game and can work out many interesting food combinations without spending more money.

350,000 U. S. Citizens Reside on Foreign Soil

How many American citizens live outside the United States? One million? One hundred thousand? Give up? The answer, according to the National Geographic society, is about 350,000 persons exclusive of tourists and transitory visitors. This figure includes an estimated 173,686 Americans in Canada and Newfoundland, the largest single group. The smallest number reported comes from Arabia, with but 10 resident Americans—or about one to each 100,000 square miles of territory. In South America there are more Americans in Brazil, which has 3,612, than in any other country. Mexico counts 12,640. Latin America, in all, however, despite its "neighborhood" status, has less than 30,000 resident Americans, compared with nearly 85,000 in Europe. There Italy has the largest share, with more than 22,000 Americans. Picking out a few of the world's present "trouble spots," Palestine, it is recorded, contains 9,000 resident Americans, while in war-harried China there are reported some 7,700 Americans away from home.

Air Affects Voice Quality

The sound of the human voice is as dependent for its pleasant qualities upon the air as it is upon the organs which produce the sound. Experiments were made by Dr. Ernst Barany, of the University of Upsala, Sweden, in which the air with which the lungs are normally filled was replaced by hydrogen. The subject under experiment exhaled air and breathed in hydrogen from a rubber bag. Using the hydrogen as a medium for carrying the sound waves, he spoke many test syllables which were studied in many ways and compared with the sounds produced when air was breathed. The lighter gas in the body cavities caused some of the sound frequencies in the voice to be raised one to two octaves. Test listeners were able to understand only about two-thirds of the syllables spoken.

Cold and Slow

Repeated experiments have proven that the temperature of a hibernating animal is usually about five degrees lower than the surrounding air . . . so, if the air were so cold that the animal's body temperature went below the freezing point, it would freeze to death . . . which is probably the reason most animals "dig in" for the hibernating period . . . Incidentally, heart action is almost suspended during complete hibernation . . . for instance, the heart beat of an active ground squirrel is normally around 350 a minute . . . Yet the heart of the same animal slows down to about 17 beats a minute—or about every 16 seconds—during hibernation.

Death Valley's Weird Beauty

Death valley's weird beauty and almost incredible coloring, together with its clear, dry air and sunshine, make that area an interesting scenic region. Within the boundaries of Death Valley National monument are five "ghost towns." Half a dozen more lie just beyond its borders. The largest of the group is Greenwater, the peak population of which was 2,000. To the casual tourist the terrain may seem devoid of life, yet more than 300 species of plants have been listed and there are many varieties of animals, many being nocturnal. All species graphically illustrate nature's capacity for adaptation to environment.

It is estimated that the state of Minnesota owns in excess of 2,300,000,000 board feet of merchantable timber.

The blackout in this city last Friday evening was virtually 100 per cent successful, according to air raid wardens who toured their districts while the event was in progress, it was announced by J. Robert Petersen, chairman of the civilian defense council, in charge of local arrangements.

Heralded by the sounding of the fire siren and the ringing of church bells, the blackout started just after dusk at approximately 9:45 in the evening and continued for 27 minutes, after which the all-clear signal was sounded.

The control center received received reports of several simulated incidents, which called into action the fire department, ambulance, street crew and members of the staff of the water and light department.

Chairman Petersen stated that similar daylight tests will be staged in the near future, as a means of organizing against daylight bombing raids.

Starting plants from seed indoors in early spring is the first step to success in raising tender vegetables such as pepper, eggplant, and tomato in northern Victory Gardens. Sowing seed directly in the open is a definite waste and almost certain to bring disappointment.

When four conditions of indoor planting are met, — proper soil, temperature, moisture and planting depths, — a home gardener can easily produce a stand of healthy plants he would otherwise have to buy at many times the price of the small amount of seed needed.

Suitable soil plays a big part in giving seedlings a healthy start. A flat or shallow box nearly filled with garden soil and topped with half an inch of clean builder's sand is a highly successful method used by Ferry-Morse Seed Co. in indoor planting at their Michigan Seed Breeding Station. The sand allows the tiny seedlings to break through easily, and there is little danger of too much moisture standing at the base of plants, a condition almost sure to cause that fatal disease—damping off.

The garden soil beneath gives the young roots a firm moisture-holding foundation and supplies plant food until they are large enough for transplanting.

Sow seeds a little less deep indoors than when planting directly in the garden, keeping the flat where it is dark and cool until seeds sprout. Then bring it into the light, protecting with a glass covering. Remove the cover occasionally to give the seedlings air. As they grow larger, thin out the weaker members, keeping the husky plants for transplanting into open ground.

Admiral Land Seeks Seamen Here

In a letter to this newspaper, Admiral Emory S. Land, Administrator of the War Shipping Administration, has asked our help in locating men, who have held marine licenses and are now employed on land. He points out that these men are urgently needed to man the Victory Fleet.

Admiral Land says that it takes four times as long to train a new deck or engine room officer as it does to build a ship, so there will be unavoidable shipping delays unless men already trained return to the sea.

The Merchant Marine's recruiting campaign is being handled through the U. S. Employment Service. Full details of the pay and the opportunities in this service can be obtained from the nearest U. S. Employment Service office.

From where I sit . . .
by Joe Marsh

Almost everybody's figuring what things'll be like after the war. I talked about that today with Jeb Crowell. Jeb—he's a veteran of the last War—says:

"One thing's sure, Joe. The boys this time won't return and find what we came back to."

Then he went on to mention Prohibition . . . and I ought to say right here that Jeb's a man of moderation . . . a glass of beer or two is all he'll ever take. It was the principle of the thing that bothered him.

"Passing a law behind our backs," he says, "was violatin' just what we were fightin' for. The very principles we fought for in 1776. Law-makin' without representation is one of the most undemocratic things we can do."

I guess we're all agreed on that. Most folks admit we made a mistake once . . . but the boys who are fighting this war can be pretty sure we won't pull anything like that again!

AFRICA IS TAKEN

News from North Africa this past week has been most encouraging. In spite of the fact that substantial gains had been made week after week for some time, and that allied leaders had predicted the Axis forces would be driven into the sea this month, we were still skeptical of the final outcome. We still feared a surprise counter-attack that would end our series of victories and bring more months of delay. This time, however, our forebodings were wrong. This time, apparently, the Axis armies were out-powered, out-generaled and out-fought. The blitzkriegers were out-blitzed and the crack battalions of the Africa Korps crumbled under the pressure of superior power. In the decisive battles of the past week we have won more than a campaign. By these victories we have demonstrated that we have learned how to fight the enemy. We have gained the confidence that will make future reverses easier to bear, in the knowledge that ultimate victory is assured.

The results of this African victory will be far-reaching. To the same extent that it has brought encouragement to us it has brought discouragement to the people of the Axis nations. To the same extent that it has increased our confidence in our own fighting forces it has decreased their confidence in the leadership that had represented itself to them as being invincible. Their failure in Africa along with their terrific losses in Russia and the continual bombing of their own cities may well bring about a wave of resentment toward their leaders that will result in internal collapse.

And the effect on the so-called neutral nations will also be an important result of the African campaign. Spain will be less eager to assist her former friends; less disposed to offend the combination of powers that now is winning. Turkey and Sweden, in the past afraid of the power of the Axis, will now be more bold in their defiance of Herr Hitler and, in fact, two additional unfriendly nations for him to start worrying about.

We have had the good news. We know that heavy losses have been inflicted upon the enemy. We have reason to rejoice for the splendid victories that have been won.

There is bad news to come however. The victories were not gained without heavy losses to our own armies and in the weeks that are ahead of us these losses will become very personal to us—as the casualty lists are reported. The lists are steadily becoming longer. Many thousands of our young men have made the supreme sacrifice. As we read their names we will be less inclined to celebrate our gains and more inclined to consider seriously what our own contribution to the war effort can be.

Harold Stassen gets front page billing on the Saturday Evening Post this week for his article titled, "Wanted: A Forthright Republican Party." Both the title and the article are good and Sailor Stassen is to be commended for the forthright manner in which he has outlined a program that might make the party useful again. During the past ten years the Republican party has failed miserably as a minority group. In a decade of the nation's most irresponsible leadership, a leadership that has foisted upon us a debt that will plague us for many years, the Republican party has sat idly by, afraid to protest against the dissipation of wealth that has corrupted the thinking of our people. Stassen may or may not be the next President of the United States. He may never become the President. That, in itself, is not important. But as one of the prominent possibilities he has made an important contribution by offering a few suggestions that will do much to restore us to straight thinking. The nation does need a forthright, honest political party.

Let it be said to the everlasting credit of the men who have planned the war for the Allied nations that they have bided their time, waiting to strike until they have had sufficient power to strike successfully. For many months the war was a series of discouraging reversals. Curb stone strategists were calling for an end of the defensive tactics and a beginning of an offensive, but the leaders waited until they were prepared. It is reasonable to assume that we will have to go through periods of waiting again. There may come times when our patience will again be taxed to the breaking point. It takes time to prepare a campaign that must be conducted thousands of miles away. The problem of building up supplies is enormous. But it will be easier now to wait patiently. Our leaders have demonstrated that merely because there is a lull in the fighting there is not idleness.

Under the direction of Harold Harrison 24 of the city's young men, ranging in age from 14 to 17, are taking a special short course in farm work. Each Saturday they are spending a few hours learning to handle horses, milk cows, drive tractors and do miscellaneous chores, and by the time school is out they will be prepared to do a pretty fair job as helpers to the farmers of our community. The boys deserve a round of cheers. They are good citizens.

Now that Harold Ickes has been matched with John L. Lewis in the administration's battle to control wages and prices we may expect the action to become more melodramatic and less tragic. At last, in this never-ending struggle, we have both sides championed by men who are peculiarly gifted in the fine art of saying nasty things in a disagreeable manner. Possibly, before the curtain drops on this next act, the play may become a rollicking farce that will have us all rolling in the aisles with side-splitting laughter. The final fade-out is not going to be a happy ending for all concerned but it may not be out of order to have a little comedy sprinkled here and there as the plot develops.

County Agent Ernie Palmer has a victory garden program well under way that is going to be interesting to watch. A seven acre tract south of the city has been divided up into 100 garden plots and 90 of these have already been rented by residents of the city. Among these hundred amateur gardeners there will be real rivalry and we predict that the results will be uniformly good. In another month that should be an attractive seven acres.

MINNESOTA'S YOUNG GOVERNORS

(Montevideo News)

Minnesota's new governor is very nearly typical of the 48 state executives in the nation. Their average age is 51; Thye, on entering office is 47, carrying on Minnesota's recent Olson-Stassen tradition of youthful governors. Like two-thirds of the nation's state governors, Thye saw active service in World War I; he served in the air corps, rising from private to lieutenant. Like exactly half of the country's governors he is a Republican; the other half are Democrats.—From Minneapolis Star Journal.

Minnesota's tradition of youthful governors is not of "recent Olson-Stassen" origin, although Stassen is the youngest in the line. It started back in 1916, late in December of that year when J. A. A. Burnquist became governor. He was in his thirties. Following him came Preus, Christianson, Olson, Petersen, Benson and Stassen—all in their thirties or early forties when they became governor. In 27 years no man has become governor of Minnesota when older than 47, Thye's age.

Having gotten this far, on memory, we decided to go to the "Blue Book" to check the records for accuracy. Perhaps you will be interested: Burnquist was 36 when he became governor; Preus was 38; Christianson was 42; Olson was 40; Petersen (who served four months) was 46; Benson was 42; Stassen was 31.

Some day a philosopher-historian-student may undertake a study of how government in Minnesota has been influenced by having so long a line of governors who were young, ambitious, on-the-make, and going places.

The topic is offered (no charge) to an editorial savant with time and facilities for research, plus some years spent in observing the parade. Or to a university man wanting a theme for his doctor's degree in the mysterious and uncertain science of government.

THE GULF GROWS WIDER

(Winnebago Times)

The question of whether our country will be able to survive the cost of the war without financial collapse looms larger daily. In ordinary times a two or three-hundred-billion-dollar debt would have been considered insurmountable. But when a nation has its back to the wall it can accomplish the impossible. We now have our backs to the wall financially. It remains to be seen whether the people value personal comfort more than they value personal liberty and the integrity of the nation.

Inflation and eventual bankruptcy can be avoided if the people have the determination to follow through on measures designed to curtail excess purchasing power and the accumulation of an unmanageable public debt. In the main, these measures are rigid price controls and rationing, cuts in nonessential government spending, taxes, and bond sales to the people, except for rationing, we have adopted none of these measures fully as yet.

Too many people and public officials cling to peace-time illusions. They are even so foolish as to plan greater comforts in the future, assuming that they can skip the gulf of sacrifice that lies between. The gulf grows wider as they talk.

SHUT THE GATE!

(From Waseca Herald)

Farmers who have often been driven to distraction by the antics of careless hunters will appreciate a bill recently passed by the present legislature.

Among other things, it provides that no person while hunting, fishing or trapping wild animals shall enter or leave lands or pass from one portion to another through a closed gate without returning said gate to its original position, nor shall any person cut any wire or tear down or destroy any fence.

The penalty for violating this law is a fine of from $10 to $100 or imprisonment from 30 to 90 days. Game wardens and peace officers are required to enforce this law.

The ordinary American doesn't much care whether we receive "credit" for helping Russia. Actually our lend-lease shipments to that land are not made for Joe Stalin's sweet sake, or for communism's. We are acting on our own behalf and we will continue shipping, no matter if there is no perfumed thank-you note after each cargo is received.—Jackson County Pilot.

Sends Son to Fight Against Homeland

Shamed by the Jap attack upon Pearl Harbor, James S. Kenda, 51, a Jap-born resident of the Hawaiian Islands, was gratified when the army permitted his son, Herbert, 18, to join a special combat regiment made up of Americans of Japanese ancestry. Herbert is shown in the center with his mother and father, who wears his American Legion cap. He is a veteran of World War I.

Women

Bessie

"All right, Bessie," said the boss of the little factory which was making jackets for soldiers. "Did you want to see me about something?"

The thin middle-aged woman stood up from the chair in the outer office and looked earnestly at the boss with her huge, grave gray eyes.

"It's about this ten percent pledge," she began.

"Oh, that's all right, Bessie," the boss said. "I'd been meaning to speak to you about that. We don't expect you to pledge ten percent of your pay for War Bonds like the others are doing. We know you have a hard time making ends meet since Jake died. Eleven kids, isn't it? That's quite a lot of mouths to feed. Let's see, you make $22.80 a week including overtime, don't you?"

"Yes, sir, but . . ."

The boss smiled.

"Don't give it another thought, Bessie. You've got your hands full now. Uncle Sam knows you haven't got a penny to spare. Don't let it worry you. We understand."

The boss turned to go back into his private office.

"But what I wanted to say was . . ." Bessie raised her voice and the boss looked around. "I wanted to say, would a dollar a week be too little? You see, after we get the living expenses paid, there's just about a dollar a week left. Would they be willing to accept a dollar a week?"

"They'd be more than willing," the boss said quietly. "They'd be proud."

Bessie looked relieved.

"All we have to do is scrimp a little," she said. "I'd feel just terrible if we couldn't give something."

Back in the boss' office a representative of the Treasury Department was waiting. The boss shut the door and sat down.

"I've just seen the greatest single sacrifice I know of," the boss said. "Listen, if you want to hear what American women are made of . . ."

The night-clerk of the hotel was surprised to see a battered-looking person in his shirt-sleeves come rocking up to the desk and pause there groggily.

"What can I do for you?" inquired the clerk.

"I'd like," said the stranger, laboriously, "to be 'scorted to Room 202 on secon' floor."

"Room 202?" repeated the clerk. He consulted the register. "Why, that room is occupied by Mr. Oscar J. Billups, and it's pretty late to be rousing a guest."

"I know that, well as you do," stated the inebriated one. "Nevertheless, I want to be shown to Room 202 without any further con—conver—any further talk."

CANDIDATES FOR NAVAL AVIATION GET TESTS FRIDAY

Examinations to be Open to 17-Year-Olds Only, Says Walter Jung

A travelling board of naval line and medical officers will visit Thief River Falls on Friday, May 14 to interview and examine 17-year-old high school seniors and graduates who are interested in becoming naval or marine flying officers.

Arrangements for the board meeting were completed recently by Lieut. R. L. Rome of the naval aviation cadet selection board and Walter Jung, chairman of the civilian committee for naval aviation in Thief River Falls. The examinations will be at the Elks lodge in this city, Mr. Jung said.

Naval aviation training is now open to seniors and graduates of high school who are 17 years of age and in the upper half of their senior class of boys scholastically. The training requires over 17 months to complete and costs more than $27,000 per cadet and leads to a commission as an Ensign in the Navy or a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps with flying pay amounting to $291 a month and up.

When men are examined at Thief River Falls, those who are qualified have their transportation furnished to Minneapolis where final exams are given. After an applicant is enlisted, he is returned home on inactive duty to wait until he is graduated from high school and becomes 18 years of age before being called to active duty as an aviation cadet.

Initiation rites will be exemplified at a meeting of the local Elks lodge in the club rooms this evening, starting at 8:30, Charles J. Warner, secretary, stated today. An attendance prize will be awarded, and a Dutch lunch will be served at the close of the evening.

NOT ALL MAIL PACKAGES ARE SWEET SMELLING

Granite Falls. — Employees at the local postoffice one morning recently carried on their work with noses tilted high. Reason: Early in the morning a package arrived addressed to Auditor Wilson which had anything but a tempting smell. Before noon it had been shunted to a far corner of the room as the odor became less pleasing. Mr. Wilson called for it handling it very gingerly until he reached the court house where he opened it before entering the building. Lo and behold, inside the package was head and green skin of a wolf that had been killed some six or seven days before by Charley Kapinos. He had sent it as evidence to claim the $15 bounty.

YOUNG PULLET GOES FOR FOUR-MILE RIDE

New Prague — Apparently dissatisfied with its hum-drum existence, a small pullet decided to go to see the world one day recently and bummed a ride to town unbeknown to the owner of the car. After the driver arrived in town he drove to a local gas station to fill his car and just as he was about to depart for the country again a hunting dog chanced to pass and "flushed" the bird from under the vehicle. Just how the little chicken had managed to stay perched there for a distance of four miles is a mystery, and who knows if the keen hunting dog hadn't happened along she might have ridden home again without being noticed.

Looks Like Pirates Again

On the form exhibited in the Beaver Relays at Bemidji last Saturday, it appears that the Crookston Pirates will make a successful defense of their 31 district track and field championship in the tournament scheduled to be held at Memorial Field in Grand Forks on Saturday. From the Crookston squad that barely nosed out the Prowlers last year, picking up the decisive points in the pole vault, the Pirates have lost sprinter Bill Ericson and weight-man Keith Thorson; but the Prowlers, in Bruce Biddick, Don Olson, and Ralph Hunt, have lost more squad strength. Crookston's Bill Reynolds and Willis Swanson are expected to take up some of the slack caused by Thorson's graduation. At Bemidji, Reynolds, in addition to placing in the broad and high jump, scored in the discus; and Swanson took second place in the shot-put. As a guess, Reynolds, who is also the district's 440-yard champion, should pile up individual high point honors on Saturday.

Mostly Sophomores

Coach Quentin Jones' local squad, most of whom are sophomores, may surprise the confident Pirates, at least in the number of points they'll pick up. The Prowlers will have most of their strength centered in the hurdles and the distance runs; but will be particularly weak in the field events. Burdell Merritt, who ran the high hurdles in fine time at Bemidji, winning first place, and Vern Tormoen and Cliff Gunderson should give the Prowlers a number of hurdle points. And in the mile run, Pete Michalsky should repeat last year's triumph, and Pete is capable of breaking a district record.

But with such stand-out performers as Biddick, Ericson, Thorson, Ed. Rutherford, and Don Olson missing from this year's tournament, it's certain that Saturday's district meet won't establish very many new records.

A Two-man Invasion

Morris Bye and Bill Claffy will participate in the Paul Bunyan golf tournament at Bemidji this week-end; and with meat rationing being in effect, they intend to bring back some chunks of Bunyan's Blue Ox.

Bunty Robinson

Bunty Robinson, formerly Oslo's crack-a-jack third-baseman, was in town this week visiting with his cousins, Ardell and Leck Robinson. Bunty, a younger brother of Smokey Robinson, is a member of the Grand Forks National Guard and is home on sick leave. He has been in the service for a couple of years and was overseas the past year. Bunty's outfit was one of the first army units to move into the South Pacific, being stationed at New Caledonia and then taking over at Guadalcanal. Malaria, he had four attacks of the fever, brought Bunty back to the states. And he reports that he hasn't played much baseball since leaving Oslo, only getting into a couple of games while in Louisiana and a couple while in New Caledonia.

Saturday Wall-eyed Pike Day

If the weather doesn't moderate by the 15th, there will be a bunch of frost-bitten anglers fishing the pools around the power house, for on Saturday the great northern and wall-eyed pike season opens. The boys at the power house report that they have noticed quite a number of wall-eyes in the pools above and below the dam, so prospects of catching a mess seem pretty bright.

The bullheads, in spite of the cold weather, have been getting a work-out from a number of fishermen. Irey Pederson claims to have been catching bullheads by the tubfuls; but it seems funny that with all the bullheads he's supposed to be catching, that he's running short of the red, or meat, ration stamps. And as for Irey's brother, "P. I.", well, I've quit listening to him ever since he offered to bet that he could catch more fish on a plain sinker than anybody else could on a june bug and minnow!

Rumor Dept.

I hear that Eddie Rochester Anderson's Burnt Cork isn't the only one that finishes last. According to a Main street rumor, Stan "a-pair-of-sixes-in-all-day" Larson is also a last place finisher. The boys are calling him Rochester, fer short.

ARMY TAKES OVER SIX BUILDINGS OF MINNESOTA FAIR

1943 Fair, However, Will be Held as Usual, Board Decides

Members of the Minnesota state fair board were advised late last week of the army's decision to take over six buildings on the fair grounds for use as an airplane propeller production plant. The hippodrome, livestock pavilion, horse barn and poultry, swine and sheep building will be turned over to the A. O. Smith company of Milwaukee for the duration, the board was advised.

The 1943 state fair will be held as scheduled, however, it was announced by Raymond A. Lee, secretary, after the board meeting.

The buildings will be surrounded by a wire stockade, Lee said and the fair will operate as usual except that there will be an absence of livestock exhibits. The regular 4-H club livestock shows, however, will be housed in other buildings. With the exception of 4-H exhibits, Lee said, there will be no horses, cattle, swine, sheep or poultry at the 1943 fair.

The horse show, regularly held at the hippodrome, will be discontinued, Lee said.

After the war and discontinuance of production at the state fair grounds, the Smith company will re-condition all the buildings and convert them to their original condition for fair use, Lee declared.

The 1943 fair will be held August 28 to September 6.

State Townsend Clubs to Celebrate Increase in Old-age Assistance

Townsendites of Minnesota have completed arrangements for a state wide "Victory Party" to be held Sunday afternoon, May 16, at the American House, 444 Rice St. in St. Paul. This meeting is in recognition of the successful drive made by the Minnesota Townsend clubs, during the past year, to secure a $40-a-month old age assistance grant in the recent session of the state legislature.

While only the most needy citizens will receive the full $40-a-month allowance, it is conservatively estimated that more than $1,000,000 will be added to the old-age assistance checks as the results of this new law.

State representative Roy E. Dunn, Associate Justice Thomas Gallagher and John T. Lyons, Minnesota Liberal, will address the assembly.

High Taxes Have Little Effect on Bond Sales

Clarifying reports as to the effect increased taxes might have on the sale and redemption of war savings bonds, officials in Washington announced last week that during March, when the first income tax installment fell due, bond sales were 6.4 per cent higher than in February, and more than 65 per cent ahead of March, 1942. From May 1, 1941, when war savings bonds first went on sale, thru March 31, 1943, redemptions have been less than 3½ per cent of total sales.

OBTAINING OF SEWAGE FACILITIES SIMPLIFIED

Home owners can now obtain sewage facilities by the simple expedient of having their municipal authority write a letter to WPB. The letter must certify that the work is properly authorized, that it will require less than $1,500 for underground, and less than $500 for above-ground construction. No reply is necessary. Once the letter is sent, home owners can have the sewage facilities connected.

Champion Wheat Grower Receives $25 War Bond

Peter Schirrick, prominent grain grower of Red Lake Falls, this week was awarded a $25.00 war bond by the Standard Oil company in recognition of his ability to raise the kind of wheat that won for him the title of state wheat king.

Schirrick, for the second time in two years, has grown the best wheat in the state, as judged at the state seed show at the University of Minnesota during Farm and Home Week.

The winning wheat, raised on his Red Lake county farm, was of the Reward variety. This year his sample weighed 65.2 pounds per bushel.

DIONNE QUINTS CHRISTEN SHIPS AT SUPERIOR, WIS.

Huge Crowds View Launching of Five Cargo Vessels Last Sunday

The Dionne quintuplets, a world record in themselves for nearly nine years, set a new world's record at Superior, Wisconsin Sunday in christening ceremonies that launched in one day five new United Nations vessels to aid in the fight against the Axis.

It was the first time in American maritime history that five ships have been given sideways launchings in one slip in one day.

Every one of the five launching ceremonies, which extended thruout a three-hour program, was cheered to the echo by the 15,000 spectators who filled every available seat, by other uncounted thousands who stood wherever the slightest glimpse could be caught of quints or ships, and by still other thousands who could see nothing, but who cheered in sympathy every time they heard the acclaim of their more fortunate neighbors.

Every ship was launched without a mishap. Every quint without exception, succeeded in breaking the christening bottle with the first blow, including left-handed Emelie, whose launching of the third vessel, the Bailey Foster, proved to be the highlight of the day.

Selection of precedence among the quints was made alphabetically, after plans for a lottery to award the honor of making the first christening had been abandoned.

So, it was Annette who first swung a bottle of Niagara river water across the prow of the first of the five ocean steamers launched during the day.

The ships will be operated by the British maritime commission under lend-lease arrangements. Annette's ship was named the Fatson Ferris.

Second quint to christen a ship was Cecile, who named the Golden Gates; third was left-handed Emelie; fourth was Marie, who named the Moses Gay, and last was Yvonne, who christened the Asa Eldridge.

All the vessels were named after British frigate captains of a day when sail, not oil or steam, ruled the waves.

Weather for the occasion was ideal for the head of the lakes. A smiling sun throughout the afternoon tempered the chill of a brisk breeze that had each of the quints hanging on to her hat occasionally while on the various christening platforms.

EQUIPMENT POOLS WILL BE UTILIZED TO KEEP UP ROADS

State Highway Department Gets Orders from War Production Board

At the request of the U. S. War Production Board, and under authority granted by the recently adjourned legislature, the state highway department will serve as a clearing house for all Minnesota counties, cities and villages in forming a cooperative, inter-changeable statewide pool of publicly owned equipment to help meet the growing wartime problem of properly maintaining local roads and streets.

The dual purpose of the pool is to relieve those counties and municipalities which lack certain equipment, required to do necessary work (little or no new equipment being available until after the war) and at the same time enable those governmental units who may, during certain periods of the year, have an overage of the equipment, an opportunity to keep that equipment busy on a productive rental basis.

County Engineer J. A. Erickson of Pennington county this week received notification of the formation of the new setup from the state highway department, together with a supply of forms, both for county use and for use of various municipalities within the county.

Form No. 1 had been provided for reporting any equipment or machinery which can be spared for rental to other counties, cities or villages for temporary or extended periods. Form No. 2, for "Equipment Needed", is to be used to list any equipment or machinery which it is desired to rent from some other county or municipality.

Only the pooling of major units of equipment is intended, according to O. L. Kipp, chief engineer and assistant commissioner of the highway department, who sent out the announcement. This includes trucks, tractors and accessory equipment, motor graders, power shovels, rollers, crushing and screening plants, etc.

NEAR TRAGEDY WHEN SOW ATTACKS CHILDREN

Boston—Joe and Jimmie Murphy, three-year-old twins in the Joe Murphy family of Dublin township, are as good as new after a rather frightful experience at their home two weeks ago. While playing in the farmyard the two toddlers squeezed their way into the barn and attempted to strike up an acquaintance with a litter of newborn piglets in the mistaken belief that the wriggling young porkers were puppies. Furious with the protective instinct of motherhood, the sow attacked the children, knocking them down, biting and nipping them all over their bodies. One of the boys scrambled away and ran to his mother streaming blood. Guessing the nightmarish truth, Mrs. Murphy rescued the other twin, still being mauled by the maddened sow. Both little tykes suffered severe gashes, especially about the cheeks, lips and ears, necessitating stitches. But with the incomparable elasticity of childhood they are now almost completely recovered.

Civilian per capita food consumption in 1943 is expected to be about 3 per cent more than the average for the 1935-39 period.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

For Outdoor Play

Spring days and warm weather mean longer hours of outdoor play for the small children who are not going to school—or should mean longer hours, at any rate. Sometimes it is not easy to keep these youngsters happy for long stretches out in the backyard.

One of the advantages of the nursery school, of course, is its wealth of appropriate outdoor play equipment. Children are never at a loss for something constructive to do when there are junglegyms to climb, large blocks to build with, and sand to dig in.

Yet there are certain very satisfactory substitutes for the more elaborate nursery school equipment that parents can provide cheaply for their own backyards when there are no nursery schools available.

Take this important matter of construction materials. Nursery schools furnish quantities of large hollow blocks, planks, and large packing cases, so that the children can build the houses, trains, boats, barns, and fire engines they love to play in. But anyone who has watched four and five-year-olds left alone to their own devices knows that they will construct these things out of anything they can get their hands on, and if the ideal nursery school blocks are not available, orange crates and prune boxes can serve the purpose. In fact, I have seen children out in the West completely take over the woodpiles out in their backyards and transform them into boats and playhouses, during those few precious days before the newly sawed wood is stored in the basement.

Orange crates from the grocery store, then, come first on the list for backyard equipment.

It is also quite possible to provide children at home with some of the smaller construction blocks that have such an important place in the nursery school program. I knew an ingenious mother who bought a few lengths of sturdy lumber, 1¾x2¾ inches, and sawed them up herself, in her basement, to make a set of blocks for her two-year old. She cut them into 6-inch lengths and sandpapered the rough edges — then kept them always at one end of the large front porch where David could play with them rain or shine. Perhaps it did make the porch look a little messy, but it meant many constructive, happy, outdoor hours for the boy.

A few such odds and ends as pieces of rope, barrels, old umbrellas, will help to make backyard play more interesting, and for really warm days the good old standby of a can of water and an adult-sized paint brush must not be forgotten. Happy is the child who can spend the spring mornings "painting" the garage or the side of the house — and he will spend literally whole mornings at it. For some reason, this is one of the universally favorite occupations of early childhood.

STANDING BY YOU... ALL THE WAY!
THE FOOD supply for hundreds of men may depend on whether the farm equipment in this community is prepared for the grueling months ahead.
There is only one thing to fear. What will happen if you put off reconditioning till spring . . . if you wait for breakdowns in the field to order repairs? The waiting list may be long by that time, while the weeds choke off your crop.
Have all your equipment checked over now! Today is not too soon! Every Allis-Chalmers machine judged "Ready to Roll . . ." qualifies for the red-white-and-blue FARM COMMANDO eagle.
We take special pride in the equipment we have sold, particularly the old-timers. We have watched them put children through school, pay for farms, and save crops year after year. We are standing by them now, in their time of need.

Capt. Joe Foss of the marine corps, who scored sensational air victories while serving on Guadalcanal, is shown reporting to his boss, Lieut. Gen. Thomas Holcomb, commandant of the marine corps, in Washington. Foss, who hails from Sioux Falls, S. D., shot down 26 Jap planes to tie Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker's World War I record. HE SHOULD BE

A stranger entered a church in the middle of the sermon, and seated himself in the back pew. After a while he began to fidget. Leaning over to the white-haired man at his side, evidently an old member of the congregation, he whispered:

"How long has he been preaching?"

"Thirty or forty years, I think," the old man answered. "I don't know exactly."

"I'll stay then," decided the stranger. "He must be nearly done."

Reprimand

The manager of a vaudeville house was testing the abilities of a few candidates for stage honors one day last week, and this is how he let down one of the would-be funny men:

"Your songs won't do for me. I can't allow any profanity in my theater," said he.

"But I don't use profanity," was the reply.

"No," said the manager, "but the audience would."

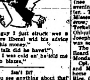
That's Why

Clown—Do you know why the ringmaster likes to flourish a big whip?

Equestrienne—Well, why?

Clown—Because it's a snap.

GENEROSITY



"That guy I just struck was a heap more liberal wid his advice dan wid his money."

"What talk did he have?"

"I said I was cold an' he told me ter go to blazes."

Isn't It?

"Do you see anything about that girl's face you like?"

"Yes, her hat."

"But her hat isn't her face."

"No, but isn't it about her face?"

Landlord

"Our landlord stutters frightfully, but there's one time when he never hesitates."

"When is that?"

"When he comes for the rent."

PEDESTRIANS ARE CHIEF VICTIMS OF TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Constitute Two out of Five Persons Killed Since December 1

The grim specter of Death-or-Injury-in-Traffic seems, these wartime days, to be pointing his ghoulish finger particularly at the pedestrian.

As safety campaigns, reduced travel, and slower speeds combine to drastically reduce motor vehicle mishaps, the pedestrian is rapidly becoming the No. 1 war-time traffic victim—and and therefore Minnesota's No. 1 war-time traffic safety problem.

And there is little anyone can do about it without the cooperation and attention—particularly the "attention"—of the pedestrian himself.

These are the conclusions of the Minnesota Editorial association's traffic accident reduction campaign committee, based upon figures obtained this week by its chairman, J. L. Markham of Hopkins, from the safety division of the Minnesota highway department.

While traffic fatalities in general have been reduced 62 per cent during recent months as compared with a year ago, the pedestrian death toll has refused to come down proportionally. In fact, during the five months since gasoline rationing became effective on Dec. 1, two out of every five people killed in traffic in Minnesota have been pedestrians.

In the eleven months since June 1, 1942, when lower speeds became the vogue, men, women and children who met death on foot have comprised 35 per cent of the traffic deaths, and during the past five months, from the Dec. 1 gas rationing deadline until the end of April they have constituted 41.6 per cent. The high month of all recent time was last December when 62 per cent of all traffic deaths were pedestrians.

Every pound of coal possible must be conserved and soft coal users will have to fill their bins during the summer months to avoid a shortage next winter. BEAVER TRAPPERS HAVE GOOD YEAR

Grand Rapids.—According to an old legend, the Hudson Bay factors demanded a pile of beaver pelts, one above another, as high as a man's head before they would trade a muzzle loading rifle with a supply of powder and ball. Recently trappers bringing their pelts to town in piles as high as a man's head received checks of good size. The pelts brought from $15 for kits up to as much as $50 and $60 for dark "blankets" which measured 60 inches across. Some walked out with checks for $140 to $200 for the four pelts allowed on their license. In some cases where several members of the same family had licenses and they trapped together checks for $800 to $1,000 were written for their two weeks trapping efforts.

Getting the Most from your Victory Garden

WHEN TO PLANT YOUR VICTORY GARDEN

"Sow too early and you waste seed; sow too late and you waste time," runs a valuable bit of old-time garden advice. But, 1943 Victory Gardeners are asking for even more definite information about when to plant.

Consulting experienced home or market gardeners in the community is one practical way of learning the proper time for planting various vegetables. For a home gardener who desires to figure out his own planting dates, however, Harm Drewes, Superintendent of Ferry-Morse Seed Breeding Station near Detroit, Michigan, offers a method.

"The first thing to know," says Mr. Drewes, "is the average date of the last killing frost in spring for the particular section in which you live. This knowledge can be secured from local weather bureaus, State Agricultural Experiment Stations, or from the United States Department of Agriculture. Then, using that date as a basis you can work out a pretty safe planting schedule."

In normal years, Mr. Drewes states, seed of radish, lettuce, peas, spinach, onion, Swiss chard, beets, and carrots can safely be sown two to three weeks before the average date of the last killing frost. Planting time within those two or three weeks depends largely upon soil conditions. If a handful of soil from the garden feels slightly moist and crumbly, it is ready for seed sowing. If it packs like a mudpie, the Victory Gardener must wait a few days longer.

Tender crops such as beans, corn, squash, cucumber, and okra must usually wait until two to three weeks after the last spring frost date before seed is sown. A homely but time-tested rule for sowing seed of the easily-frosted crops is "when oak leaves are the size of a squirrel's ear."

"It is also wise to wait until two to three weeks after the last spring frost date before setting out tender young plants which have been started earlier indoors," Mr. Drewes states. "Among them are tomato, pepper, and egg plant. Select a cloudy day for transplanting, or do the work in the early morning or evening so that the seedlings will have a chance to recover somewhat before the sun shines on them. If they must be set out in sunshine, see that they are shaded from the heat for awhile."

During the first four months of the Stockings Salvage Campaign, over 888,000 pounds or 18 million pairs of discarded silk and nylon stockings were contributed.

To Hasten Victory

No American wants this war to go one minute beyond the time we can bring it to a victorious end. To hasten that victory—to save possibly the lives of millions of our boys on our far flung fronts—it is imperative that every American do his part in the Second War Loan. There is an investment to fit every purse. The most you can do is little enough compared with the sacrifice offered by our boys in service. They give their lives—you lend your money.

"Just a minute, sir," said the puzzled hotel porter. "Do you realize you've been going round in this revolving door for several minutes? There seems little sense in it."

The guest said: "It's quite all right. I'm just taking a walk before breakfast to sharpen my appetite."

"Why don't you walk down the street instead of galloping round in the revolving door?" suggested the porter.

The guest shook his head.

"I can't go too far," he exclaimed. "I'm expecting a telephone call any minute!"

A sister that is all!
And so I take my socks to her
To darn whenever I call.

Aid to Enemy

"Any American who wilfully neglects to pay his taxes on time or to invest every cent he can in War Bonds is surely giving aid and comfort to the enemy . . . We have a job to do and we are all called for service to our country. Our dollars are called to service too. Let us all ask ourselves, 'Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?'" — Secretary Morgenthau.

OPA SETS CEILING ON ALFALFA MEAL

A ceiling price on alfalfa meal applicable in Minnesota, North and South Dakota has been set by Raymond S. McKeough, regional OPA administrator at Chicago. This price, set up because of a shortage in the middle west, is based on the dealer's average inventory price of each particular kind plus $3.50 a ton. The dealers are being instructed to take an inventory of the alfalfa meal they have on hand at noon each Friday. They are directed to determine the net cost to them of each alfalfa meal item and then divide the total net cost by the total volume. This will be the average net cost. Alfalfa meal, an important ingredient in mixed poultry feed, is classified as an essential commodity for which the ceiling price can be increased whenever emergency circumstances make it necessary.

PTA WILL HOLD FINAL SESSION OF YEAR MAY 24

Home Economics Classes to Present Fashion Show Monday Night

ASSOCIATION TO PICK OFFICERS FOR '43-44

Industrial Arts Department to Conduct Open House During Evening

The final meeting of the school year of the Parent-Teacher association will be held in the Lincoln high school auditorium on Monday evening, May 24, at 8 o'clock. The meeting will open with the annual election of officers for 1943-1944, following a report of the nominating committee named by President Lloyd Benner. Special music will be furnished by the Lincoln high school mixed octette under the direction of Miss Grace Omundson.

The home economics classes of the Lincoln junior-senior high school under the direction of Mrs. James Nordine and Miss Esther Shirley will present their annual fashion show at the meeting, while the industrial arts department will hold open house.

Preceding the style show the girls from the advance home economics class will present a typical unit in clothing construction stressing principles they learn in class. Those taking part in the demonstration are Carmen Green, Lorrayne Arhart, Ardith Perkins, Vivian Engelstad, Valborg Hemmestvedt, Goldie Finstad, Madonna O'Hara, Lois Hoard, Dorothy Torgerson, Marion Howland, Edith Mellem and Helen Battleson.

Taking part in the style show are seventh grade girls who will model aprons, eighth grade girls who will model cotton play clothes, house coats, and dresses, and ninth grade girls who will wear cotton school dresses. The advanced girls will appear in the wool and silk dresses that they have made.

Following the program the public will have a chance to view exhibits in the home economics department showing the type of work the girls have been doing during the past year.

Lunch will be served by the home economics girls in the living room of the home economics suite.

The industrial arts department will hold open house in the two shops and drafting room for all interested in seeing a cross-section of the work of this department.

Exhibits will include drafting plates done by students in the mechanical and architectural drawing classes, together with explanatory charts, to show the utility of drafting in wartime preparation. On display also in the shops will be various projects in metalwork, woodwork, welding, electricity, household mechanics for girls, and model aircraft construction.

Because of the great need for scaled model airplanes for the training in identification of our armed service personnel, much time and effort have been devoted to this work in the shop. Since many ships have already been sent in to the Navy, the display will be smaller than it might have been, but there will be quite a number of completed planes of many types.

Last year 50 accepted models were made and this year 60 have already been sent and accepted with 20 others still under construction to complete the school's quota. Much fine, tedious and skillful work has been done by the shop boys in this government-sponsored project, and the participants themselves have profited much from their work and study of aviation, thus contributing in two ways to the furtherance of the war effort.

Roger Elofson, Kenneth Lee and Peter Thelander will serve as whistlers to accompany a third grade selection, "The Whistling Boy," while a fourth grade number will feature a Highland fling by Janet Hanna, Jeanne Nelson, Joyce Wilson, Jerry Claffy, Walter Johnson and Wallace Lane.

Participating in a sixth grade flag drill will be Devera Borchert, Audrey Haugen, Judith Ferber, Juanita Bakke, Helen Larson, Ken Latta, Marvin Hage, David Thompson, Elling Iverson and Theodore Stokke.

Land O'Lakes Plant Buys T. R. Falls Seed House

In one of the biggest local business transactions of recent years, Land O'Lakes Creameries Monday consummated the purchase from the F. H. Peavey company of Minneapolis of the extensive facilities of the Thief River Falls Seed House.

Stuart McLeod, Land O'Lakes manager here, stated today that details of the transaction will be worked out within the next few days, following which Land O'Lakes will take over the operation of their new facilities.

Included in the transfer are the large seed treating and feed preparation equipment of the seed house, together with two other elevators and extensive warehouse facilities.

Mr. McLeod announced that in the future all Land O'Lakes feeds for more than 100 outlets in this section will be manufactured locally instead of being shipped in from Minneapolis, thus effecting a saving in freight. He added that Land O'Lakes is not taking over the Case line of farm machinery handled by the seed house.

Emil G. Johnson of Minneapolis, treasurer of Land O'Lakes Creameries, made the following statement in connection with the transaction:

"Due to the ever increasing demand for commercial feeds in the territory now being served by the Land O'Lakes plant, it became necessary to provide additional equipment to adequately serve their patrons. Instead of erecting a new building and equipping it with modern machinery, it was found that a satisfactory deal could be made with the Peavey company for their local properties which are equipped with feed manufacturing machinery as well as complete seed cleaning setup.

"The acquisition of this plant will enable Land O'Lakes to procure at the source of production grain ingredients used in the manufacturing of commercial feeds, which will effect savings in the finished product. With these added facilities they will be able to handle advantageously the increased volume coming from local producers as well as the wholesale trade in the Northwestern territory."

Through the National Lutheran council, a representative organization uniting the emergency effort of all Lutheran synods in America, a budget of $1,000,000 has been set for the current year.

Sunday, May 23rd has been set as the day for the receiving of offerings for the support of its work this year, some churches having set still other dates.

To coincide with its confirmation service on the 30th, Trinity church receives the offering on May 30th, Zion church receives the offering on May 30th, Zion church maintains the national schedule. The appeal in First Lutheran church will be met by methods still to be determined.

The million dollars sought thru these congregational offerings has a great deal of necessary work to do. In addition to the support of European missions which have been "orphaned" by the war, the fund is to support and expand the work of Lutheran service centers in the large cities where Lutheran service men and women can be ministered to. Support of the work of Lutheran chaplains, to supplement the cooperation accorded by the government, also requires a considerable sum, as does the work among Lutheran prisoners of war.

Local quotas are determined in proportions of 20 per cent of the congregation's synodical apportionment. The outcome of this drive on a nation-wide scale will determine the extent to which the church is willing to follow its men in service with the Gospel they have at home.

Considerable planting has already been done on the tract, Mr. Ferber said.

MORRIS BYE TO LEAVE SCHOOLS HERE JULY 1ST

Tenders Resignation Monday Night to Accept Offer from Anoka

HAS SERVED LOCAL SCHOOLS 20 YEARS

Board Members Will Leave Tonight to Get Data as to Successor

The board of education at a special meeting Monday evening accepted the resignation of Morris Bye, since 1926 superintendent of the Thief River Falls schools, who July 1 will assume the superintendency at Anoka.

Testifying to Mr. Bye's reputation as a highly successful school administrator, the offer from Anoka came to him unsolicited, in spite of the fact that there had been approximately 75 applicants for the post in that city.

Mr. Bye yesterday expressed regret at severing the pleasant relations he has enjoyed in this community, and voiced his appreciation of the cooperation showed him by local citizens during the twenty years he has been associated with the local school system. He had served three years as Lincoln high school principal before assuming the superintendency.

With a view to getting information to a successor for Mr. Bye, three officers of the board of education, including Dr. A. E. Jacobson, Alfred Skarstad, and L. W. Rulien will leave this evening for the Twin Cities to confer with the state department of education and with authorities at the University of Minnesota.

During his long period of residence here, Mr. Bye has been active in educational organizations as well as local affairs. He is now serving as president of the Minnesota Council of School Executives, as well as being on the executive board of the Minnesota Education association. He is also vice president of the Minnesota Public School Music league, and has served as president of the [illegible] Minnesota Education association, as well as the Agassiz Schoolmasters club.

In Thief River Falls he is now serving as president of the board of trustees of Trinity Lutheran church and of the Trinity Men's Brotherhood. He is also vice president of the Civic and Commerce association, and is a former president of the Rotary club and former exalted ruler of the local Elks lodge.

Volume of Bank Debits in This City in April Is Well Above 1942 Record

The volume of bank debits in Thief River Falls for the month of April indicates that business activity was 44 per cent above the same month of 1942, while figures for this year to date showed a 17 per cent increase when compared with the same four months of last year. These bank debit figures, released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis today, represent the dollar values of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts to pay for goods, services, debts, etc. Bank debits totals for a locality are considered a good indicator of general business volume and reflect cash income received by farmers and government spending to cover payrolls and purchase war materials, in addition to general trade volume.

Auxiliary Notes

by Mrs. J. W. Stewart, Publicity Chairman

The regular meeting of the Auxiliary will be held this evening, May 20, at 8 o'clock. Besides the business meeting, there will be special memorial exercises for departed Legionaires and Auxiliary members, as well as veterans of the present war from here.

The annual sale of poppies will take place in this city Saturday, May 29, and it is the hope of the Auxiliary that this will be the most successful "Poppy Day" in history.

Service men of two world wars are now making poppies like those that grow in Flanders' Field and both groups will profit by the sale. For the second year the men disabled in World War I have shared their fund raising handiwork with the men of the yougner generation, those who have come back recently from the battlefronts in the Pacific and the Mediterranean, and even in the north, for hospitalization in their home land.

There are some veterans whose hands are too crippled to fashion a poppy from the very beginning until it is a full blown flower, so they are allowed to do whatever part of the work they can and other veterans finish the job. The men are paid one cent for each poppy and if they are not too badly disabled, they can earn a fair day's wage without exerting themselves too much, and they enjoy doing it.

The money from the sale of poppies will be restricted to the welfare and rehabilitation services of the veterans of the last war and their families and to the members of the present armed forces of the U. S. and their families.

A prize of $25.00 is being offered by the American Legion Auxiliary for the best poppy window display in the city, the winner to be judged from submitted photographs. The contest here closes on Friday.

Miss Clara Swanson, teacher, served ice cream and cookies at the close of the afternoon. Miss Swanson will return next week for the exams that will be given to Hugh Cabot, Marian and Grace Wiener, eighth graders; Alan Cabot, Daniel Helle and Betty Lou Beaton, seventh graders. War stamps for the school term purchased by the pupils amounted to over $200.00, which is pretty swell for seventeen patriotic young things.

The Elias Angells are the proud grandparents of a nice new grand daughter, Gloria May DePug, who was born May 5th in the cities. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed DePug (Glennie Angell).

Army Tid-Bits

Sgt. Marvin Hammer was home on furlough last week from Camp White, Oregon. He visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hammer and his sisters, Miss Martha and Miss Esther in Thief River Falls.

VOLUNTEER WORKERS IN WAR ACTIVITIES GIVEN RECOGNITION

by W. J. LaBree and now including Owen Olson, chairman; Alfred Hallstrom and A. F. Berge, together with Paul Lundgren, appeal agent.

The salvage organization, including Carl Christofferson, Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson and local implement men, was praised for an outstanding job, it being reported that operations in the county to date have netted 4,000 tons of scrap iron and steel, as well as 150 tons of rubber and much waste paper, silk hose, fats, copper and brass.

Mr. Dahlquist also discussed the scrap metal canvass conducted in the residence districts early this week by the Victory Aides, culminating in a pickup of the material starting at 10 o'clock this morning.

A prize-winning essay in an American Legion contest, written by a Minnesota girl and descriptive of a good American citizen, was read by Miss Charlotte Bradley with musical accompaniment by Orville Berg and Miss Grace Omundson, the number being highly effective.

Mr. Bye next presented groups associated with the Red Cross, headed by Herman A. Kjos, county chairman, and including the executive board, home service committee, and leaders and instructors in surgical dressings, sewing, knitting, home nursing, first aid and war fund drive.

Also introduced and praised for their community service were members and leaders of the Boy and Girl Scouts and Brownies. Mr. Bye mentioned, too, the model airplane builders in the local schools, as well as the high school boys of this city who are being trained for farm jobs.

In closing this portion of the program, Mr. Bye said that local achievements in war work revealed at the meeting demonstrated plainly that residents of this community are meeting fully their obligations as American citizens.

The concluding musical feature of the program consisted in the singing by the audience of "Ja Vi Elsker", Norwegian national anthem, led by a group of women from the Daughters of Norway lodge in colorful Norse costumes. The number was included in recognition of the 17th of May, the Norwegian national holiday, which occurred Monday.

The remainder of the program was turned over to the Civic Service Organization, which, under the direction of Dr. E. S. Amesbury, chairman, staged a farewell observance in honor of the group of reservists who departed Wednesday.

Father Merth, addressing the young men, said this country is fighting for the maintenance of the democratic privileges outlined in the Declaration of Independence, and he declared that American citizens will maintain the home front and make whatever sacrifices are necessary to win the war. The program closed with the playing by the band of "The Star-spangled Banner".

Fears of another land boom are bringing checks on borrowing that are intended to curb land speculation. No one will argue against the wisdom of such credit controls providing they are properly applied. The disastrous land boom that exploded after the last war was a contributing factor in breaking our banks and many of our farmers. We do not want to go through that again. But the problem of applying the brakes properly in a case of this kind is not an easy one. Land is a form of transferable wealth and the right of an owner to sell his land at a favorable price must be taken into consideration. It would not be fair to owners to decree that land could not be sold or to place restrictions on sales that would be detrimental to those owners who now, for the first time in a long time, could get a fair price for their property. And we certainly should encourage the purchase of farms by renters and young people who wish to become farm owners. It is not going to be an easy matter to tie the hands of the gambler, the villain in the plot, and at the same time permit reasonable freedom in the land market.

Thief River Falls is not now on an air route but our city is not far from what probably will develop into an important terminal in the post war period of commercial aviation. American airline companies, now flying to all corners of the world, are seeking international franchises and are preparing to provide world-wide commercial service when the war ends. Four American companies have already applied for Canadian franchises for routes to both Europe and Asia and two of these routes pass through the city of Winnipeg. The over-the-top route across the Arctic is the shortest distance between the masses of population in the northern hemisphere and this fact is going to have a far-reaching effect on future commercial development. It is not inconceivable that Thief River Falls will be on the beam between two important points in that future network of international airways.

Morris Bye's resignation as superintendent of schools is not good news. In his twenty years of service to the community he has become very much a part of the community. Doing a good job in his official capacity has been only one of his contributions, he having taken an active and constructive part in the work of various civic organizations. Now that he has accepted a position that in several ways is more attractive than any we could offer him, we congratulate him on his well deserved opportunities for advancement and wish him well in his new field. There are several other things we want to say about him but they will keep until closer to the time of his departure.

One of the results of the war may be the adoption of the 24 hour clock now used in timing military operations and foreign transportation. One American airline company is already using it in its passenger schedules. It is easier and there is less possibility of error in saying twenty o'clock than in saying eight o'clock P. M. Watches and clocks can be adjusted to the change with a simple face lifting operation and the new system probably could be adopted with little confusion.

Whatever else comes out of the tax debate now going on in Washington we may look forward with certainty to a payroll withholding tax that will, to start with, take at least 20% of our income. The main purpose of this increased tax of course is to provide needed revenue for the government but it is also considered necessary as a brake on inflation. We, the people, have too much money because there are not enough things we can spend it for. For each three dollars we have to spend there are only two dollars worth of goods or services available, the economists point out, and as time goes on there will be still less of these goods or services for us to buy. If something isn't done about it, the theory is, we will start bidding against each other for the things we can buy and that kind of bidding will plunge us into inflation. The only consoling thought for the taxpayer in this picture is that the other fellow is being deprived of a lot of dangerous dollars that otherwise might do much mischief.

A good start has been made on the scrap drive that will end July First, but it is just a start, and real effort will be required to meet the county's quota of 500 tons. And when this drive is over we no doubt will have to start another, with possibly an even larger quota for the last six months of the year. There isn't any fooling about the need for it. The need not only is urgent but vital.

Topics of the Times

Here it is only May 20, and some of our hardier householders already have removed their storm windows.

Judging by reports from around the country as to the way the dwindling supply of liquor is being lapped up, the country soon will be dry in spite of itself.

Long hair, says an observer, may make a man look intelligent, but not if it's found on the wrong coat.

The city dog catcher, we hear, has filled up the pound with stray pooches, and there is a substantial waiting list.

When local citizens go fishing in the river pool here, they at least don't have to use up any precious gas coupons.

Maybe they call this month May because it may warm up eventually.

Of course, says a commentator, if anyone doesn't like rationing, there is the Gandhi method of making protest.

Speaking of bringing home the bacon, a state farmer last week sold 18 hogs for more than $1,000.

It's still a bit premature to start planning details of the celebration to follow a successful conclusion of the war.

Remember way back when you could go to your grocery store and get more potatoes for fifty cents than you would care to carry home?

Random thought—Wonder whatever became of the ham in hamburger.

by Joe Marsh

Pete Swanson fancies himself as an armchair strategist. Sometimes he gets so tangled up, I just can't resist tryin' to straighten him out.

For instance, the other day he was waxing indignant about our soldiers being allowed to buy beer right in camp. Said that was just coddling the troops and would ruin discipline.

I told him the actual facts had already been established by a study the Government made. Their report said chaplains and the military police agree that instead of ruining discipline, 3.2 beer sold in Army camps provides our soldiers with a mild form of relaxation without impairing their efficiency.

Well, Pete allowed that the chaplains and military police are a pretty good authority on what's right for soldiers. I've noticed lately he's been confining his remarks to the broader phases of strategy.

PROWLERS WIN 2D HONORS IN DIST. 31 TRACK, FIELD MEET

Lincoln Athletes Score 66 Points to 76 Total for Crookston

Scoring 76 points in the rain and mud on the University of North Dakota's Memorial Field Saturday the Crookston Pirates successfully defended their 31st district track and field championship. The Thief River Falls Prowlers, with 66 points, won runner-up honors, while East Grand Forks, with 29 points, finished third. Red Lake Falls tallied 19 points, and Warren marked up 2 points.

The meet was high-lighted by the duel between Crookston's swarthy Bill Reynolds and the Prowlers' blond Burdell Merritt for individual high point honors. Reynolds, with firsts in the high jump, 220-yard dash, and the broad jump, and a fifth place in the discus, in addition to running the anchor leg on the winning relay team, piled up 17 points to edge out the Prowler. Lincoln Squad Selected for 8th Regional Meet

Captain Don Michalsky, Burdell Merritt, Larry Rullen, Vern Tormoen, Bill Bye, LaMarr Hanson, Herb Claffy, Marlyn Dorn, and Ray Offerdahl are the nine Prowlers that qualified for the regional track and field tournament and will participate in the meet at Bemidji on Saturday. Track coach Quentin Jones has eased the Prowlers intensive drills and has been sending the squad through a "smoothening out" process. Jones expects Pete Michalsky in the mile run, Burdell Merritt in the hurdles, and Larry Rullen in the 440-yard run, to be the most promising Prowler regional threats.

Recreation Highlights

The last puppet show of the season will be held this Thursday, May 20th, at 4:20 o'clock at the Arena. The big show will be "Epanenondos." Mothers! Please come and see these interesting shows and bring your children. They enjoy them so very much.

The playrooms of the Arena are open afternoons from 1:30 until 5:30 from Monday thru Friday. On Saturdays it is open from 1:00 until 4:00 o'clock. All children are welcome to come and play. Pre-school children have so much fun in the afternoons, and now that the weather is turning a little warmer the children can play outdoors in the beautiful city park across the street. Play facilities, such as croquet, will be available for them.

We would like to see more children take advantage of this opportunity for happy and well-supervised play.

This Saturday Camille Dostal is planning a "nature hike" for the children. Any child interested in going on a short hike should meet with Camille at the Arena at 1 o'clock. Come dressed for a hike, and by the way, you'd better bring a little snack along.

A group of women consisting of Mrs. Chas. Dablow, Mrs. Bert Gilmedahl, Mrs. Jerome Sherick, Mrs. Chris Saustad, and Mrs. Ralph Fisher have been busy helping Camille beautify her surroundings. They have been painting furniture, etc. and plans are being made for new curtains. Any woman willing to help in this work should contact Mrs. Chas. Dablow.

We understand the boys' J. C. club has quite an interesting game of kittenball recently. The club was divided into two teams, the "Tigers" and the "Panthers." The "Panthers" won with a score of 32-14.

The girls' club, the OF2, are very busy planning a mixed party which is to be held in the near future. Watch this column for the definite date of this party.

Quentin Jones is working on plans for recreation at Tindolph Park this summer as well as swimming instructions. Life guards have been appointed and will be on duty as soon as the season opens. Mr. Hanna is busy lining up boys for a kittenball league this summer. We would like to see a girls league organized also, and any high school girl interested should contact Sue Prichard. I am sure the working girls in town would find it lots of fun to have their league this summer too, so if you are interested in playing contact Bunny Dahlen.

The Youth Recreational organization inaugurated a refreshment booth at the teen-age dance last Friday night, and it was conducted under the sponsorship of the DeMolay chapter. A committee consisting of LeRoy Rupprecht, Ralph Long, Don Fretland, Bob Biddick and Howard Haugen worked hard for its success, and we wish to thank them for the splendid work they did. Many reports have come in from various students of how well they liked this new idea and of the good time they had. We hope the good attendance will continue, and that the DeMolay boys will be successful in their new projects. There will be a dance again this Friday night at the Auditorium. Come and bring your friends.

End of a Reign

Bemidji high school last Friday, in the 29th district track and field tournament held at Bemidji, scored 109½ points to win the district honors and the win, which was the first ever in Lumberjack history, marked the end of Park Rapids' reign as district and regional track titleholder. Park Rapids scored only 11 points in the meet and didn't qualify a man for this week's regional tournament.

It appears likely that coach Glenn Barnum's Lumberjacks will add the regional title to their district crown, too, for they seem to be well fortified to pick up the necessary points, qualifying fifteen men for the regional. In high jumper Francis Neumann they have a potential regional record-maker. In the district meet Friday he hit 5 feet, 9¾ inches, to set a new mark, and if he can reach that height on Saturday he'll break the regional record by an inch. And Bemidji's Bill Tilbury should account for a number of points in the 100, 220 and the broad jump.

A Fine Showing

The Prowlers turned in an A-1 performance at Grand Forks on Saturday, pushing the Crookston Pirates plenty and losing by only 10 points. Failure to score in the pole vault and picking up but 2 points in the high jump, while Crookston was racking up 23 points in the two events, proved to be deciding factors in the Pirates win.

Pete Michalsky nearly turned in an "iron man" trick, for after running and winning the mile run, Pete, having had a rest of only a few minutes, entered the half mile event and led throughout most of the race, only a fine finishing "kick" by Red Lake Falls' Joe Moran nosed out the plucky Prowler captain. But the locals' top performer was Burdell Merritt who topped both the hurdle events and picked up third places in the high jump and the discus. The Crookston Pirates' veteran Bill Reynolds, outscored Merritt, 17 to 15, in Saturday's meet, but it's a good bet that Merritt will tally more points in the regional this week than will the Pirate. Reynolds will have to jump against Neumann in the high jump; and run against Tilbury in the 220-yard dash and also jump against Tilbury in the broad jump. The odds will be against the Pirate star in each event. On the other hand, Merritt is better than an even bet to win the high hurdles and has at least a fifty-fifty chance to take the low hurdles, too.

Fish and Fishing

According to Helmer Ness and Hank Storhaug, you have to be an expert angler and you have to have shiner minnows in order to make respectable catches from the pools above and below the dam. That's the recipe that Helmer and Hank used on Saturday and Sunday and they were just about the only fishermen that reported themselves as being satisfied with their catches, and they had fine fish on their stringers for proof.

A Couple of Blows

High school athletics absorbed a couple of hard punches when superintendent Morris Bye made known his decision to resign from the local school system and accept a position at Anoka. First, Morris was intensely interested in athletics and always used his influence in behalf of the boys, and it's quite a blow to have him leave; but what will probably hurt more is the fact that Morris' stocky young son, Bill, will be taken from the local athletic picture. And that's the blow that hurts, for Bill, who will be a junior next year, was just developing the poise to pair with his athletic ability and he undoubtedly would have been a star in football, basketball, and track during the next two years. In fact, Bill had already "arrived" as a football player for he was one of the district's top-ranking backfield men last year. Well, the Anoka high school coach should certainly be grateful for the windfall he will be getting next fall when Bill reports for practice.

"Once upon a Honeymoon", a gay comedy-romance contrasting with its grim setting in war-torn Europe, will feature Cary Grant and Ginger Rogers at the Avalon theatre Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Grant plays the role of an American news broadcaster who vainly tries to discourage Ginger Rogers from marrying a German baron.

Bette Davis will be seen in a sympathetic role in her latest picture, "Now, Voyager", which will be the offering at the Falls theatre Sunday and Monday, with a midnight prevue Saturday evening at 11:15. REQUESTS FOR CANNING SUGAR BEING RECEIVED

To be Allotted on About Same Basis as Last Year, Says Christensen

How consumers may obtain sugar for canning and freezing this season's precious fruit crop was announced yesterday by Waldie Christensen, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board. He said:

"Sugar for canning is being alloted on about the same basis as last year—that is, one pound for each four quarts or eight pounds of the finished product. A top limit of 25 pounds per person is set in the new regulations to be granted only in a relatively few cases where a large amount of fruit will be canned and preserved. Within the 25 pound per person limit, any family can apply for sugar to put up jams, jellies, and preserves at the rate of five pounds per individual. This is more generous allowance than last year, when sugar for preserves was limited to one pound per person.

The applicant must furnish the following information: War Ration Book 1 for each person for whom canning sugar is sought. The total number of quarts or pounds of finished fruit to be put up. The amount of sugar to be used for making jams and jellies. (Not more than 5 pounds per person, within the 25 pound over-all maximum.)

"No special form is required unless it is planned to sell the home product. Then application may be made in person or by mail. The board will record the number of pounds of sugar granted each person on the cover of the war ration book."

Life Insurance Benefit Payments Mount in State

Minnesota families received $4,042,000 in life insurance death benefit payments during the first three months of this year, compared with $2,251,000 in the same period of last year, the Institute of Life Insurance reported today. "These payments were made under 2,975 policies, an increase of 15 per cent over last year's 2,580 policies in the first quarter," Holgar J. Johnson, president of the Institute, said in announcing the figures. "This is a reflection of the upswing in death claims which has been experienced nationally in the past few months, a perfect natural thing to expect under war conditions."

BINDING TWINE SUPPLIES AMPLE IF CARE IS USED

Conservation of supplies on hand and buying only for actual needs will insure a sufficient supply of hay rope and binder twine to harvest this year's crop, the War Food Administration advises. Many substitute materials are being used and more careful handling will be required than in the past.

'A' GAS RATION BOOK RENEWAL BY MAIL ANNOUNCED

OPA Announces Application Forms to be Given out Late in June

Motorists will be allowed to renew their "A" gasoline rationing books by mail, it was announced Saturday in Washington. Renewals of "D" coupon books for motorcycles also will be handled by mail.

Announcing adoption of this system, Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown said it is intended to save the public time and trouble by eliminating the necessity of another registration.

Mail distribution previously had been ordered for issuance of war ration book No. 3 and for renewal of fuel oil rations.

Except in eastern states, the "A" ration books will expire July 21. Plans call for distribution to service stations about June 22 of renewal application forms.

After getting one, the motorist need only fill it out and mail it to his war price and rationing board with the signed back cover of his present "A" book and his current tire inspection record showing that proper inspections have been made.

New "A" books should be in the hands of motorists before July 21. The mail renewal plan does not apply to "B" and "C" books.

DOG RETURNS AFTER ONE YEAR'S ABSENCE

Worthington—"Coke", pet spaniel in the John L. Peterson family is a very happy fellow these days because he's back home again after twelve months of apparently weary travel. But last week he appeared at the Peterson's back door travel-weary and thirsty.

WOMEN'S CAMP AT N. W. SCHOOL SET FOR JUNE 14 TO 17

Demonstrations and Exhibits to Feature Event at Crookston

Plans for the 18th annual Women's Camp at the Northwest School at Crookston, to be held June 14-17, are now complete, according to Superintendent T. M. McCall. The camp is open to all women in the Red River Valley interested in homemaking. 125 to 150 women annually enroll for the three-day camp and live in the well-equipped dormitories.

Food specialists have been secured to give demonstrations daily on Victory breads and cheese recipes for war-time needs. The thrift exhibit for Thursday, June 17, will feature new ideas in clothing conservation with garments displayed by camp members. Woodworking, knitting, and crocheting with old yarns will feature the handicraft work offered at the 1943 camp.

A full program of evening entertainments has been arranged for the campers with receptions, movies, and home talent plays.

War Consciousness and Law Enforcement Are Reducing Traffic Toll

Minnesota's war-time traffic law enforcement program, coupled with an aroused and growing public consciousness of the war-time necessity for conserving manpower, motorized equipment and tires, are bearing productive fruit in better driving and fewer traffic offenses, according to the drivers' license division of the state highway department.

E. P. Lee, supervisor of the bureau, this week submitted figures to his chief, Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann, showing that drivers' license revocations and license suspensions for traffic law violations for the first third of the year have both fallen off 66 per cent below the same months of 1942.

During the month of April there was a 38 per cent drop in drivers license revocations and a 66 per cent reduction in suspensions. Both revocations and suspensions are based upon traffic convictions, which are required by law to be reported regularly by all municipal and justice courts in the state to the Highway department.

Even when full allowance is made for the decrease in traffic, particularly passenger car driving, the reduction in traffic offenses definitely reflects better, safer driving habits and less disregard for traffic laws, Mr. Lee said.

Drivers license revocations for the first four months of the year dropped from 1,078 in 1942 to 680 this year. April revocations numbered 146 as against 236 a year ago. Most revocations are for drunken driving.

Suspensions, most commonly invoked as the penalty for speeding, reckless driving, or other heedless practices, dropped from 1,563 during the first four months of 1942 to 843 during the past four-month period. April suspensions fell from 647 a year ago to 239.

$350,000,000 SAVING ON FREIGHT IS SEEN

Reduced prices are expected to result from a 350 million dollar annual saving that will result from a reduction in new railroad rates effective May 15. OPA says that in most cases savings will be reflected automatically through the operation of existing maximum price regulations. Added to current actions to roll back the cost of living, these freight reductions will contribute substantially to the prevention of inflation.

OPA OFFICE CITES RULE ON GASOLINE FOR FISHING TRIPS

Only Restrictions Apply to B and C Card Holders, Says Driscoll

"A" card holders who have saved up their No. 5 gas coupons to go fishing can drive as far as they are able to on their saved coupons, T. G. Driscoll, Minnesota director of OPA, ruled Friday.

"A" card holders on fishing trips, however, will be stopped by OPA investigators but solely to determine if they are bona fide A card drivers.

B and C card drivers can venture only 90 miles away from home for a fishing trip. More than that will be prima facie evidence of violation of the OPA gas regulations.

"The impression is around that A card drivers are limited to 90 miles for a fishing trip," Mr. Driscoll explained. "This is not the case at all. The bona fide A card holder, who has saved his No. 5 coupons, can drive as far as he is able to on his saved coupons. In other words, if he has saved all 8 No. 5 coupons he can use that 32 gallons of gas for a fishing trip. Say he gets 15 miles to the gallon. Then, he can drive 480 miles. Or if he gets 20 miles to the gallon he can drive 640 miles. That's his business. He won't have any trouble from OPA inspectors.

"The persons we are trying to uncover are those B and C card holders who are posing as A card drivers. For this reason we will have to stop A card automobiles, but only for the purpose of determining whether they are in fact A card cars," Mr. Driscoll said. "The genuine A card drivers will have no trouble at all."

The 90 mile restriction on family or pleasure driving applies only to B and C card holders, the OPA chief explained. No. 5 coupons are good for a two months period so this would mean 180 miles of pleasure driving for B and C cards.

RATIONING PLANS OF OPA ON ALL STOVES ANNOUNCED

Need will be the basis on which purchase certificates will be issued when OPA starts rationing six types of stoves the latter part of June. Specific types to be rationed are coal or wood, oil and gas heating stoves and coal or wood, oil and gas cooking stoves. Applicants for stoves will be required to show the stove is to be used for heating essential living or working space, that the stove will replace one worn out beyond repair or that he does not own a stove that can be used and has not owned one within the last 60 days.

1213 ARRESTED IN SPRING DRIVE OF HIGHWAY PATROL

Speeders Are Hit Hardest; Chief Warns Fishermen to Avoid Trouble

With his April files showing records of 1,213 arrests and 6,490 driver warnings as a result of the state highway patrol's spring drive on war-time traffic offenders, Cheif Elden Rowe this week reiterated his warning that war speeds will be enforced throughout the trunk highway system, and with the opening of the fishing season, he particularly admonished fishermen "not to inconvenience themselves" by taking chances with the traffic regulations.

"The need for saving tires, and at the same time preventing accidents which cause death or injury and consequent loss of time in hospitals or under a physicians care, is growing more urgent every day," Chief Rowe said.

"We appreciate that the man or woman who is working long hours in defense industries or other war-time production needs an outing whenever there is an opportunity to take one. We do not like to spoil those outings. But our patrolmen are on the highways to enforce war-time speed restrictions and arrest those motorists who by carelessness or heedlessness are endangering lives and property. They are going to do their duty. The fisherman or any other motorist need only obey the law to keep out of trouble, and we urge them to do so and to take no chances with causing themselves embarrassment, delay and unnecessary expense of being taken into court."

Violators of the 35 mile speed law were hit the hardest in the April enforcement drive, according to Chief Rowe's monthly report this week to Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann. Drivers arrested for exceeding the speed limit numbered 813 and were assessed $3,313 in fines. An additional 334 motorists who let the speedometer needle creep up a little too far beyond the 35-mile-an-hour maximum were halted by patrolmen but shown leniency and let off with warning tickets notifying them that a repetition of this or any other major traffic offense will automatically bring about their arrest.
